Win A Trip To New York World's Fair Over Weekend

The annual Washington's Birthday Sale Days will open Friday morning at 9 o'clock in 55 business places in Arendtsville, Biglerville, Fairfield, Gettysburg, Table Rock and York Springs.

In addition to many hundreds of merchandise bargains being offered in a wide variety of items the major attraction will be the grand prizes . . . four, two-person all-expense trips to New York for three days and two nights to attend the famous New York World's Fair. The winners of these four grand prizes will be escorted to New York in buses where they will be guests at a hotel for two nights. They will go to the World's Fair via subway, and return. The subway entrance, incidentally, is adjacent to the hotel.

In addition to these prizes each of the 55 participating merchants is offering merchandise certificates to patrons during the two-day sale Friday asd Saturday.

FREE TICKETS

Tickets for the grand prizes will be given out by each of the participating merchants. It is not necesary to make a purchase to secure a ticket. The slogan of the sale is "Nothing to buy, no strings attached" insofar as the grand prizes are concerned. The drawing will be made in Lincoln Square at 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

It is suggested that subscribers read the display advertisements in today's edition of The Times to ascertain where they may secure the bargains they are interested in. The sale will appeal to men, women and children, featuring clothes, furnishings, appliances and automotive equipment as well as other items too numerous to mention.

Each participating merchant will display a red and pink banner on the outside of his store so that the customers may identify those who are participating in this sales event. Stores will be open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Sheads Addresses Optimist Club

Jacob M. Sheads, secretary of the Adams County Historical Society and history teacher at Gettysburg High School, told about unusual events in Adams County history at Wednesday evening's meeting of the Optimist Club at the Five Star Restaurant.

Using the title "Believe It Or Not, But It Did Happen In Adams County," Sheads outlined a number of unusual events occurring in the county, including the time the silk worm was introduced here with the hope the county might become a silk producing center.

William DeHaas reported on the sponsorship of the Bantam Bowling League by the club.

President William Sentz presided.

STOCKS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market clung to an irregular advance early this afternoon in moderate trading.

Steels, motors and rubbers continued the leadership they showed in Wednesday's market but most gains were slight.

Caution prevailed in view of the long weekend ahead. Stock Exchanges will be closed Friday in observance of Washington's birthday.

GETS INCENTIVE AWARD

James W. Myers, Gettysburg R. 3, recently received a $15 incentive award at Letterkenny Army Depot, Chambersburg. He was one of 20 employes to receive an award.

CLOSED ON FRIDAY

The Adams County Draft Board office will be closed Friday in observance of Washington's birthday, it was announced today. The office is closed regularly on Saturdays.

ADAMS COUNTY FIRST IN STATE IN TB DRIVE

The Adams County Tuberculosis Society was the first county agency in the state tuberculosis program to surpass last year's total in the annual Christmas Seal campaign, Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, president, announced today. Contributions to the fund in 1963 totalled $4,425.35, nearly $250 more than the 1962 total of $4,182.

"The people of Adams County are to be commended for their loyalty and financial support of this worthy campaign," Dr. Sheely said. "The society continues to be dedicated to the eradication of tuberculosis and numerous other respiratory diseases that afflict our citizens and the Christmas Seal contributions are put to vital use in this campaign."

X-RAY UNIT HERE

Adams County was one of 14 county agencies in the state to surpass the 1962 total. There are a total of 70 tuberculosis societies in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Sheely said that the mobile x-ray unit will be brought to Adams County during the last two weks of March for two days, and will give free chest x-rays to persons over 18 years of age. The exact dates and locations will be announced later.

In extending the appreciation of the society to the public, Dr. Sheely said that persons who have overlooked remitting their contributions to the Christmas Seal fund may mail them to the Adams County Tuberculosis Society secretary, Mrs. Harold E. Ecker, 166 Seminary Ave., Gettysburg.

COLONIAL TEA ON SATURDAY

A colonial tea in observance of George Washington's birthday will be held by the Gettysburg Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolutionary Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at the Hereter residence, 39 N. Howard Ave. Members may bring guests.

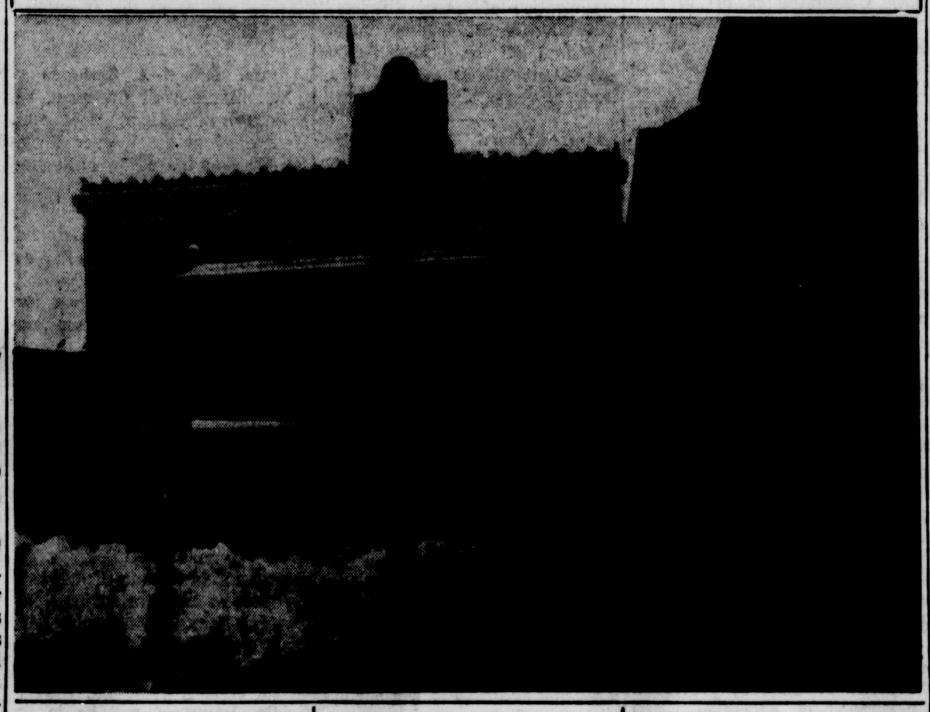

A meeting of the chapter's executive board will be held there at 1 p.m.

Snowloader Busy In Square

Gettysburg's power snowloader is shown here in operation as it removed the year's fourth heavy snowfall from Lincoln Square Tuesday afternoon. Borough employes cleared the main streets of town in record time to reduce hazardous driving conditions and permit adequate parking for motorists. The snowloader, which is backed into snow that has been piled up by a small snowplow, keeps as many as five dump trucks busy hauling the snow away. Gettysburg has earned a reputation of using the best snow removal practices in southcentral Pennsylvania. (Times Photo)

4 MEN, WOMAN ARE HELD HERE FOR BURGLARY

Five Fall River, Mass., residents were held for court by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on charges of burglary and larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy, following a hearing Wednesday.

The five were Roland St. Pierre, Joseph R. Santos, James Robert Perry, Charles J. Ouellette and Evelyn Emma Dias. They are accused of burglarizing the apartment of Miss Rosea Armor on Baltimore St.

Miss Armor testified that on February 13 when she looked for an alarm clock to set it, she found it was missing. She reported an apartment burglary to police. Later police called and she went to Chambersburg where she identified the alarm clock as hers. She also reported about 250 pennies, and some postage stamps were missing from her apartment. While a paper bag full of pennies, and other coins, including some old coins, was found in the car occupied by the five, she had no way of identifying which of the numerous pennies in the bag might be hers.

Chambersburg State Police Chief J. B. Schlichter and Chambersburg Officer Ralph Armstrong testified Miss Armor had identified the clock in two ways, one by a loss of time when it was wound, and the other by the type of sound it made before ringing.

The Chambersburg officers said the five were taken into custody there when an officer saw three of the group going from apartment to apartment. When he

Lutheran Pastor Resigns Charge

Pastor Kugle has accepted a call as pastor at Quickel's Lutheran Church, Zion View, York County.

Rev. Kugle went to First Lutheran in June, 1961, from the Fort Lourdon-St. Thomas Lutheran Charge. He was graduated from Gettysburg Seminary in 1956 and served as assistant pastor at St. Paul's Church, Syracuse, N. Y., in 1955 and '56.

SIGNUP PERIOD ON FEED GRAIN IS UNDERWAY

The "signup" period for the 1964 feed grain program now underway at the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office will continue through March 27, George W. Stock, chairman of the county ASCS committee announced today.

The 1964 program, while basically the same as the 1963 program, will be "more attractive to many producers than last year's," Stock said, because "a producer may divert as much as 50 per cent of his feed grain base acreage, as compared to 40 per cent last year, and those who divert 40 per cent or more of their base acreage will receive payments at the maximum rate for all acres diverted."

OFFER TWO RATES

He explained that the program is available for the three feed grains, corn, barley and grain sorghum, and participation will be entirely voluntary, although price-support eligibility for the three crops will depend upon grower participation in the program.

Two rates of payment will be offered, "but the higher rate should apply to more acres under the 1964 program," Stock said. The minimum rate is based on one-fifth of the county's total price-support rate. The maximum rate is based on one-half of the support rate. The maximum rate will go to all acreage diverted by those who sign to divert 40 per cent or more of their feed grain base.

Farmers who take part in the program, Stock said, "will be eligible for diversion and price support payments, and for price support loans on their entire 1964 production of the three grains. The price support payments will be made regardless of the use made of the grain. The producer may sell the grain or feed it if he wishes and still receive the payment."

FACE CODE CHARGES

Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder has sent 10-day notices to Robert Wilmer Sanders, Fairfield R. 1, on a stop sign violation charge and John C. Wayne, Manheim R. 1, on a defective muffler charge. Both charges were filed by state police.

TRAIN - TRUCK COLLISION IS BEING PROBED

State police today are continuing their investigation into a Pennsylvania Railroad train-truck collision Wednesday morning at 10:20 o'clock a mile south of McSherrystown on the Mt. Pleasant Rd.

John H. Moffitt, 42, Hanover R. 1, driver of the truck, suffered abrasions and lacerations about the head and a puncture wound of the arm and was admitted as a patient at the Hanover Hospital. Because of his dazed condition, police did not immediately seek to query him concerning the accident.

Police here said the truck was struck by the engine, with the impact being at the door of the 1957 truck. The location of the impact indicated, officers said, that the truck drove onto the crossing immediately in the path of the westbound train. The truck was headed north. Damage to the truck was estimated at $1,000.

Police here listed the engineer as W. M. Sprenkle, York, and said York state police were cooperating in the investigation by interrogating Sprenkle at his home there.

Trains can be seen for some distance from the road at the intersection, police noted. The officers said that there are no homes near the crossing and the train crew, immediately following the accident, took Moffitt into the cab of the engine and sped to Littlestown to secure medical aid for him there. Joseph Cookson, Littlestown, then drove Moffitt to the Hanover Hospital from Littlestown.

There was no immediate estimate of damage to the locomotive.

BOOK REVIEW FOR AAUW BY MRS. E. HAAS

"The Feminine Mystique," a controversial book by Betty Friedan, was reviewed by Mrs. Eugene Haas, Biglerville, at the regular meeting of the Gettysburg branch of the American Association of University Women Wednesday evening at the West St. branch bank.

It was the fourth in a series of studies on "Expectations for Education" to be presented to the group.

The term "mystique," Mrs. Haas explained, "means true femininity and is the label given by the author to the idea that the ultimate achievement of a woman is to be the 'happy housewife.'" This attitude which began to develop in the early 1940s leaves no place for the woman to develop the intellect and ultimately leads to an uneasy, unhappy life, Mrs. Haas said.

AROUSES CONTROVERSY

When her children reach school age, she lives vicariously through their lives or her husband's and faces the prospect of 25 or 30 years when her family will make no real demands on her, according to the author.

The book can be interpreted differently by each reader, Mrs. Haas said, and for this reason has aroused much controversy. The author, who is a wife and mother as well as a clinical psychologist, both attacked and analyzed the state of the American women today. She traced the growth of this idea of the "feminine" woman through the women's magazines pointing out that in the early 40s such magazines contained material on current affairs but in recent years have concentrated solely on "woman's interests."

Reviewing chapter by chapter, Mrs. Haas began with "the problem that has no name" which reveals the yearning and dissatisfaction of the wife who is afraid to ask the question: "Is this all?" She mentioned also such issues as the loss of identity of the American housewife, the effect of "momism" on the children and the mistaken idea of choice—career woman or housewife. The bok treats boldly the problem of education of women, stating that many college women do not complete their four years because "it's not smart to be too smart" or remain to elect courses which will prepare them for nothing more than the role of housewife and mother, Mrs. Haas said.

SOME RECOMMENDATIONS

TRIO ADMITS FORGERIES FOR FLORIDA TRIP

Three young Aspers men who used the proceeds from forged checks to go to Florida were returned to the county jail this morning after pleading guilty at a hearing on charges of forgery before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

David H. Dixon, 20; Bobby Ray Rhodes, 19, and Jimmy Joe Redden, 19, all of Aspers, told Justice Snyder they hope to obtain bail and get jobs in order to pay back the amount of the checks, $312.69, plus costs, before they are sentenced by the county court. Justice Snyder told them the bail will be $1,000 each.

After cashing forged checks at the Acme and A&P here February 1, the three went to Washington, they told the justice, and bought a car. They drove to Florida where "the transmission went out on the car." After abandoning the vehicle they stayed a few days in Florida and then started to hitchhike home.

TURNED SELVES IN

Fifteen miles from Aiken, S. C., a car stopped and the driver said he could take two of the three but did not have room for all three. Rhodes and Redden accepted the ride, continuing on to West Virginia where they visited with relatives and learned that the "cops were looking for them." They came to Gettysburg Monday and reported in to the jail.

Dixon, left behind in South Carolina, found hitchhiking difficult and gave himself up to police at Aiken, S. C., telling them he was wanted here. Wednesday evening Sheriff Dawson Miller and Borough Police Sgt. Daniel Miller arrived here with Dixon after having driven to Aiken to arrange the extradition and obtain custody.

Dixon, who told the justice "there's no use lying about it now," resided in a tenant house of Charles F. Asper.

ADMIT HANDWRITING

He told the justice he had gone to the Aspers post office and since the clerks there knew he resided on the Aspers place was able to secure the mail for Mr. Asper. Dixon said he signed Asper's name to a check for $40 which was in the mail and Redden said he had cashed the check.

Dixon cashed a check for $94.75 February 1 at the Acme store. The check was made out to David H. Dixon and signed "Charles F.

SET MARCH 9 FOR MT. JOY HEARING DATE

March 9 at 10 a.m. has been set as the time for a hearing by the Adams County Court on the petition of the lower half of Mt. Joy Twp. to become an independent school district.

A copy of the petition has been sent to the state superintendent of public instruction at Harrisburg and it is hoped, Attorney John A. MacPhail said today, that the approval by the state will be obtained by the time of the March 9 hearing.

The request of the "lower" part of the township, signed by a majority of the residents there, is based on a desire of the township to permit students to continue going to the schools nearest them.

Under the present setup Mount Joy School District is in both the Gettysburg and Littlestown joint schol systems and the children nearest Littlestown go there to school and the children nearest Gettysburg go the schools here.

Under a new law passed by the state, school districts are not permitted to "split" between school districts and as a result Mt. Joy is trying to be made into two districts, to permit one to merge with Littlestown and the other with Gettysburg.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Werner G. Reimer, 239 Ridge Ave., was removed in the local firemen's ambulance this morning to Holy Spirit Hospital, Camp Hill. Dr. C. G. Crist said she had been ill at home for a week and because of complications was transferred to the hospital.

WILL IS FILED

The will of Alice Bowlin, who died February 12 at age 73 at her home on Hanover R. 4, has been entered for probate at the office of the county register and recorder. A son, Dale M. Lewis, Hanover R. 4, is executor and heir of the $5,900 estate.

Little Opposition Expected As Nation's Biggest Tax Cut Awaits House, Senate Stamp

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — An $11.5-billion tax cut, largest in the nation's history, is ready for the final formalities expected to put more money into the pockets of 80 million American taxpayers by mid-March.

Senate and House conferees completed work on the 400-page measure Wednesday. The House is expected to pass the compromise bill next Tuesday, with Senate action coming either the same day or next Wednesday. Little opposition is anticipated.

President Johnson is then expected to sign the bill early the following week. The first effects of the bill will come in reduced withholding of taxes in paychecks dated eight days after the measure is signed—either March 11 or 12.

19 PER CENT CUT

The reductions average about 19 per cent of present individual taxes. Rates for some 550,000 corporations are also being cut.

Conference agreement climaxed a solid year of concentrated work in rewriting dozens of provisions in the U.S. tax code.

House hearings began on the bill in February last year, just after the late President John F. Kennedy asked Congress for a massive tax cut to try to solve many of the nation's economic problems.

TO BOOST ECONOMY

The reductions are expected by the administration to provide a stimulus aimed at boosting the 1964 economy and providing healthy long-run effects on unemployment and other problems.

The new withholding rate is expected to pump an extra $800 million into the economy each

Main Town Of Sao Jorge Is Crumbled By Quakes; Get Tents, Medicine, Food

ANGRA DO HEROISMO, Terceira, Azores (AP) — Tents, medicine and food were rushed to homeless thousands on Sao Jorge today after a wave of earthquakes crumbled the island's main town to rubble.

An emergency evacuation that brought more than 1,000 Sao Jorge islanders to nearby Terceira was stopped Wednesday when the six-day series of quakes subsided. The other 19,000 inhabitants chose to stay on the island.

REMOVE REFUGEES

The American freighter Steel Director joined nine British, Norwegian, Italian and Yugoslav ships in removing dazed refugees. Two landing craft from the U.S. Air Force Base at Lajes, on Terceira's eastern shore, brought the refugees from the larger ships to shore.

Most of the 1,600 buildings in the area of Velas, Sao Jorge's chief town, were reported destroyed.

"The news we have is that all is desolation and ruins in that once happy sector of the island" the district governor said.

Rosais Township also was reported heavily damaged.

Portugal, which rules the volcanic Azores chain 1,000 miles west of Lisbon, sent troops to Sao Jorge with relief supplies.

1,000 TREMORS

Antonio Lourerio, a refugee, said he lost count of the tremors, which began last Friday. "There must have been over 1,000 of them," he reported.

Jose Miniz Madruga said he and many others got away with only the clothes they wore after the quakes wrecked their homes.

Many of the homeless assembled at Calheta, an east coast village, to await rescue.

There was speculation that the seismic shocks were the result of a volcano building up on the ocean floor. All of the nine Azores islands except Santa Maria are of volcanic origin.

DENIES OFFER TO PATROLMAN IMPLIED BRIBE

By GAVIN SCOTT

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A former Nashville Teamsters official testified today he attached no strings to a promotion offer for a state trooper whose wife was a juror in James Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial.

Ewing King was the last of five men on trial with Hoffa, International Teamsters president, to testify. All are charged with trying to influence jurors in Hoffa's 1962 trial in Nashville.

King, former president of the Nashville Teamsters local, said he agreed to help Tennessee State Trooper James Paschal of Woodbury, Tenn., get a promotion. He said many union truck drivers knew the patrolman and wanted to see him get ahead.

WIFE DISMISSED

Pashal's wife was dismissed from the Nashville jury following a meeting between King and Paschal on a lonely road near Woodbury. King said the meeting was arranged by a mutual friend.

Paschal had testified earlier that King offered to use his influence with then governor-elect Frank Clement and other state officials to obtain a promotion if Paschal "would talk to my wife." Paschal said he never discussed the matter with his wife.

The trial entered its second month today, and defense lawyers predict Hoffa himself will testify today or Friday.

EMMITSBURG SERVICES OPEN

The Rev. Martin A. Case, pastor of the Thurmont Methodist Charge, was the preacher Wednesday evening at the first of a series of midweek Lenten services being held as a cooperative effort of the Protestant churches in Emmitsburg. General theme for these four services is "We Preach Christ Crucified" based on I Corinthians 1:23a. The Rev. Mr. Case used as his theme at the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church "Crucified with Christ."

The next community service will be next Wednesday at Trinity Methodist Church. At this 7:30 p.m. service, the Rev. John C. Chatlos, pastor of Incarnation United Church of Christ, will preach on "The Wisdom and the Power of the Cross."

The service on March 4 will be at Incarnation United Church of Christ with the pastor of Elias Lutheran Church, the Rev. W. Ronald Fearer Jr., speaking on "The Uplifted Christ," based on John 3:14-21. The final service will be at Elias Lutheran Church with the Rev. William M. Hendricks preaching on "Crucified—the World and I" from Galatians 6:14. Rev. Mr. Hendricks is pastor of the Taneytown charge of the United Presbyterian Church.

These services have been scheduled and planned by the pastors of the four Protestant churches of Emmitsburg. The offerings will provide for some needed community-church project yet to be determined.

NEW FLORIDA COLLEGE HAS "OPEN HOUSE"

Dr. William H. Kadel's Florida Presbyterian College at St. Petersburf, Fla., held an open house Monday and attracted crowds that created traffic jams at two campus entrances.

Dr. Kadel is a son of Mrs. J. H. Kadel, W. Middle St., and a graduate of Gettysburg College. He is the founding president of the new college in St. Petersburg.

The open house climaxed observance of Florida Presbyterian College Appreciation Week which was sponsored by the St. Petersburg Committee of 100 to give residents of the area an opportunity to learn more about the institution and what it means to the community.

In one of three talks he made during the day, Dr. Kadel said a "college belongs to the society in which it lives and operates. This college belongs to you."

AIM AT 2,200

He said 60 per cent of the 564 students now enrolled at the college are from Florida, the balance coming from 22 other states and seven foreign countries.

Predicting an enrollment of 700 new students next year, Dr. Kadel said the college is planning for an enrollment of 1,500 in the next five or six years and that the goal is about 2,200 students. He said present buildings on the campus represent an investment of more than $6 million and he said it will take another $10 million to provide teaching and dormitory facilities planned for the next five years.

Dr. Kadel said the liberal arts college offers academic work in 21 areas designed to provide a background of education which will prepare students to go into the business world or into graduate work in professional fields.

Dr. Gordon H. Blackwell, president of Florida State University, was the principal speaker for the day. He said Florida Presbyterian is "a special star in the constellation of higher educational institutions in the Tampa Bay area.

There were campus tours and faculty members gave talks along the route.

Scouts Set Rules For Project Jobs

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Paint the whole of the inside of a house for a shilling (14 cents)?

That's what a South African woman expected a Boy Scout to do.

The Scout was one of this country's 42,000 engaged on their annual "bob-a-job" campaign to raise money for their national association's funds. (A bob in British slang is a shilling.)

Now the Scouts, who collected the equivalent of $42,000 last year, have been told what sort of odd jobs they should do for a bob. Painting all of the interior of a house is excluded.

WOMAN IS HIT BY RUNAWAY SNOWPLOW

A 27-year-old Penn Township woman is in satisfactory condition today at the Hanover General Hospital where she was admitted early Wednesday morning with severe injuries to the lower half of the body received when struck by a vehicle wielding a snowplow while she was shoveling snow away from her car.

Miss Sherley L. Brandt, 27, of 876 Baltimore St., Hanover, is suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg, a fracture of the pelvis and a deep laceration of the upper left leg. Miss Brandt underwent surgery.

Penn Township police said the "jeep" was moving north on Baltimore St. at 5:35 a.m., operated by Charles E. Williams, 36, Hanover R. 2, an off-duty Penn Township patrolman.

ACCELERATOR JAMMED

Williams told investigating officers the hydraulic snowplow controls situated under the dashboard, dropped onto the floor, jamming the accelerator. He said in a vain attempt to maneuver the vehicle into a nearby snowbank and away from danger, the vehicle crossed to the left lane of traffic and sideswiped two parked cars, both facing south, and struck the woman.

Damage to the Arthur vehicle is $50 and to the Brandt auto, $150, police said. There is only minor damage to the front of the Williams "jeep," police said.

FIRE COMPANY ELECTS BREAM

John W. Bream Jr. was re-elected for his third term as president of the Cashtown Community Fire Department at its meeting Tuesday evening at the Cashtown community hall.

Kenneth Kane was elected vice president; Glenn Herring was renamed as secretary.

Arthur Wetzel was selected for his tenth term as treasurer and Owen Bucher was named fire chief for the 14th time.

Others elected were Kenneth Kuhn, first assistant fire chief; Allen Deardorff, second assistant fire chief; Ivan Gulden, chaplain; George White, trustee.

Reports at the meeting showed a profit of $3,161.30 on the February fair held by the fire department.

As a result of the success of the fair and donation of $1,000 by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the fire department to the firemen, it was voted to pay $5,000 of the $10,000 debt on the new fire truck purchased by the company last fall.

GIVES TALK ON COINS TO CLUB

Paul R. Piel, a student at the Lutheran Seminary and proprietor of the Gettysburg Coin and Stamp, presented an illustrated talk on coin collecting Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Upper Adams Lions Club. He illustrated "collecting for pleasure" by showing his collection of Biblical coins which were used from 500 B.C. to 330 A.D. He said that coin collecting for profit has grown tremendously in recent years and has provided excellent returns for collectors.

President John C. Brown presided at the meeting, at which Gene Motter and Kenneth Taylor were introduced as new members. Guests were Carl Marks and Robert O. Burkhart.

Kenneth Lawver, chairman, announced that the annual bulb and broom sales will be conducted in April and proceeds will be divided between the Beacon Lodge for the Blind and the Upper Adams High School band uniform project. He announced that teams will be established to solicit the entire Upper Adams area.

The biggest administration victory came in the last-minute decision Wednesday to knock out a House provision reducing the capital gains tax on assets held two years or more.

There might have been trouble with the compromise measure in the Senate if this cut had been retained.

It would have lowered the capital gains rate to 40 per cent of the normal levy, with a 21 per cent ceiling, on profits made from sales of stock and other property held two years or more. The present rate is 50 per cent of the regular tax with a 25 per cent maximum.

SAVED LOSS

Elimination of the provision saved a $260 million annual revenue loss in the long run.

The major provisions in the bill were the same in both Senate and House bills.

The new personal rate schedule will run from 14 to 70 per cent compared with 20 to 91 per cent now. About two-thirds of the cut is effective this year, retroactive to Jan. 1, and one-third in 1965.

For corporations, the present 52 per cent rate is reduced to 50 per cent in 1964, 48 per cent starting in next year.

The wage and salary withholding will drop from the present 18 per cent level to a new permanent 14 per cent rate eight days after the bill becomes law.

WILLARD TEA IN BIGLERVILLE ON SATURDAY

Mrs. Ruth Ensminger, Quincy public school principal, will be the speaker Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at a "Frances E. Willard Tea" to be held in the Biglerville Elementary School cafeteria by the Biglerville unit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Adams County.

Mrs. Ensminger is the wife

of Rev. Earl Ensminger, a former pastor of the Heidlersburg United Brethren Charge. Rev. and Mrs. Ensminger served three terms in the mission field in Africa.

The program will also include devotions led by Mrs. Paul Shaffer. Dwight Fadenrecht will present a prize winning temperance speech "That Glory May Dwell in Our Land."

A speech contest will be conducted by the York Springs WCTU and a playlet will be presented, entitled "Your Mother and Mine." Following the program a covered dish supper will be held at 4:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Officials of the Biglerville WCTU unit said the program is being presented in honor of Frances E. Willard, founder of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and president of that organization from 1879 until her death in 1898. She founded the world's WCTU in 1883 which was the first international organization of women. In 1888 she was a cofounder and first president of the National Council of Women. Miss Willard was the first woman college president to confer degrees upon women in 1872 at Evanston College for Ladies. Eighty years ago she advocated an eight-hour day courts of conciliation and arbitration, justice as opposed to greed of gain. She was chosen as one of 12 famous women of the century in a poll conducted by the Ladies' Home Journal.

RAISE TUITION AT ST. JOSEPH

An increase in tuition at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, effective next September was announced today by Sister Rosemary Pfaff, DC., president.

To effect an equitable transition to higher charges, Sister Rosemary said the college plans a sliding scale of increases at $100 annually from the present rate of $600 for freshmen and $500 for upperclassmen until tuition reaches $900 a year for all students. In notifying parents of the increase, Sister Rosemary said, "Since our very beginning it has been our aim to provide the most economical education possible while maintaining the highest collegiate standards. We have, nevertheless, reached the point where our costs far exceed our income." Residence hall fees and board charges will remain unchanged.

St. Joseph College, which is conducted by the Daughters of Charity, recently initiated a 10-year program of development and expansion. Immediate priority under the program has been given to student housing needs. To alleviate crowded accommodations in the present facilities, a new dormitory will be ready for occupancy in September. A new science building is also planned.

WILL DISCUSS TRIP TO OHIO

The possibility of a three-day tour to view livestock raising in Sandusky County, Ohio, will be among matters to be discussed at the annual "Beef Cattle Day" to be held Tuesday afternoon starting at 1:30 o'clock on the second floor of the Moose Home, York St.

Associate County Agent Joseph F. Lutz said the county farmers have been invited to visit some of the livestock operations in the Ohio county and "we will be anxious to hear the reactions" at Tuesday's session.

At Tuesday's meeting the local beef cattle situation will be discussed by a panel of four, Lutz said. Thomas King, of Pennsylvania State University, will speak on "Feeding and Management;" Dr. William Adams of Penn State will speak on "Herd Health." J. Bruce Maclay of the Gettysburg National Bank will speak on "Financing the Beef Cattle Business." Robert Heilbring, president of the Livestock Exchange of the Lancaster Stockyards will speak on "Selling Our Cattle, Terminal Market."

Following the discussion by the panel, questions will be invited by the panel members from the floor.

SABBATICAL GRANTED TO DR. M. WANEK

Dr. Marie G. Wanek, associate professor of history at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, has been granted sabbatical leave after the spring semester to accept a National Defense Foreign Language fellowship awarded by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, for postdoctoral work in South Asian languages at the University of California and the University of Pennsylvania. The fellowship offers Dr. Wanek intensive instruction in Hindi-Urdu under the inter-university summer program in South Asia studies at the University of California at Berkeley, and includes further study of the language with area courses and special lectures at the University of Pennsylvania during the academic year 1964-65.

DR. M. G. WANEK

Dr. Wanek is the recipient of one of 10 postdoctoral awards which will be made under the fellowship program for 1964-65. Through these awards, it is the intention of the office of education to enable selected faculty members of accredited four-year colleges to acquire special qualifications for administrative or teaching roles in undergraduate programs on non-Western language and area studies. Fellows are expected to return to their sponsoring institutions on the completion of their fellowships.

STUDIED IN INDIA

In the summer of 1963 she travelled to India as a participant in the Fulbright Summer Institute in Indian Civilization. Dr. Wanek and Sister Mary Ann Berry, D.C., are the faculty representatives from St. Joseph in this year's study of India.

Dr. Wanek, a native of New York, resides in Washington, D. C. Prior to joining St. Joseph's faculty, she taught in Jacksonville, Fla., and Washington, D. C. During World War II she was associated with the War Department as a translator, and later joined the staff of Georgetown University as a research analyst. She received her B.A. from the College of Mt. St. Vincent's, New York, her master's degree from Columbia University, and in 1959 her doctorate from Georgetown University.

Will Buy Six-Acre Tract For Industry

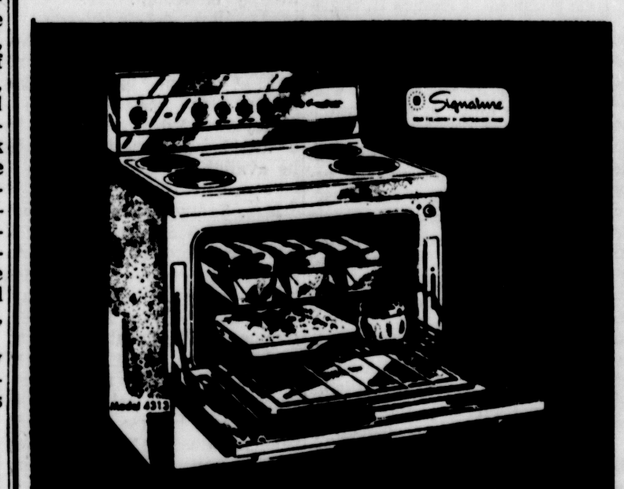

The executive committee of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce has been authorized to purchase a six-acre tract of land adjoining the present industrial site owned by the Chamber for the purpose of attracting a new industry to the town.

The decision was made Monday evening at a meeting of the organization. The additional land will give the Chamber a 14-acre plot with a 600-foot frontage on Feeser Rd., and will make the location more attractive to prospective industries, members believe. The new plot is adjacent to the railroad and has 300 feet of frontage on Feeser Rd.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

$1,000 Blaze At Wenksville: A frame butcher and spring house on the Grayson Showers farm at the edge of Wenksville on the Bendersville road was destroyed by fire Wednesday night when only the services of Bendersville and Arendtsville firemen prevented the flames from razing other buildings. The dwelling house, which stood within 10 feet of the smaller structure, caught fire at several points but the flames were checked before serious damage was done.

The fire was discovered by several boys who were passing the property at about 10 o'clock. they aroused the family of Ralph Stoner, the tenant, who had retired, and calls were placed for the Bendersville and Arendtsville companies.

The one and a half story building was levelled. Total loss, which included machinery and equipment in the building, was estimated today as high as $1,000 and is partly covered by insurance. The building measured 16 by 24 feet.

Geo. Mitchell Expires After Long Illness: George F. Mitchell, 67-year-old proprietor of Mitchell's Restaurant, Center Square, died at 10:10 o'clock this morning of complications. He had been in ill-health for the last four years and last Thursday his condition became critical. He took a turn for the worse late Sunday evening and expired this morning.

At an early age Mr. Mitchell entered the confectionery business. He started by making and selling his own candy, popcorn and other confections. He gradually expanded his private business, increasing his stock to notions and trinkets and souvenirs.

Twenty-two years ago Mr. Mitchell purchased the restaurant in the square. He acquired a souvenir store in conjunction with the restaurant which he operated for a number of years. About ten years ago he opened Mitchell's taproom which he operated with his restaurant.

It was a byword among "men of the road," the needy and the unfortunate that "you'll never be refused a meal at Mitchell's." Untold numbers of individuals have been served free meals by the deceased. He had a reputation of never having turned anyone away.

He is survived by his widow and the following children:

Mrs. Violet Hill, at home; Mrs. D. LaVerne Courtney, of Detroit; Mrs. Russell Houghton, of Dayton; Lt. James Mitchell, J. S. Navy, stationed at Arlington, Virginia, and eight grandchildren. Mr. Mitchell was the last of his family.

Water Company Installs Meters: The Gettysburg Water company has completed its program of installing meters in the various homes and buildings of the town, it was announced today by Vernon B. Corle, manager of the company.

More than 1,500 meters have been installed, with the placing of 700 meters in the last two years. Prior to 1941 there were 800 meters in the community, all installed at the request of the property holder. The first meter in town was installed in 1893 in the photography shop of W. H. Tipton. The second, installed the same year, was placed at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Today's Talk

CONSCIOUSNESS OF IMPROVEMENTS

That which drives us on to better things is the consciousness that we have left behind something well done. The child who is shown how to do a thing right dances with glee and wants to try it himself or herself.

When we see improvement in what we do, we are often led to go back a little and pick up the loose ends that we have neglected in the past and complete them. When we are conscious of growth we try to grow more — in mind and in spirit.

He who knows that he knows does not need a crutch to help him to a higher plane. He just takes it!

We often have the ability to inspire this consciousness in others. The physician holds greater power in his personality than do his medicines, in the effect that he may have on his patient. When he says, "You are getting better," the patient believes him and immediately there is an improved morale.

We want to know that we are improving. The consciousness lifts us, and we do not doubt our ability to do better. Good news to us is the sign for us to expect better news.

Graduation from one good job to another always gives one the consciousness that improvement has set in, and this means increase of power, as well as of an enlarged opportunity. The wise employer knows this and takes advantage of it.

We shouldn't expect too much encouragement from others. We encourage ourselves as we improve ourselves, and full credit goes where it belongs.

I find by going back to many a book I read years ago that a rereading shows a keener appreciation which is suggestive of an improvement in my understanding, and appreciation, and I believe that his applies to everyone who makes the test.

We can be guided by this consciousness of improvement all through life. It can be used as a guage to our growth. It is a fine feeling to realize that we know more today than we knew yesterday!

Just Folks

THE GREAT ROCK

The great rock, gray and gaunt of form,
Undaunted braves the occasional storm,
And wears upon its shoulders strong
The drifted snow all winter long,
But the small drops which never cease,
Like constant cares, disturb its peace.

But plain upon its face appears
The irritation of the years,
The fretting of the trifling care
Which it perforce is asked to bear.

"Look!" cries the passer-by, "the stain
Of those persistent drops is plain!
See where they come from. Note where they
Have worn this granite rock away,
And left upon its rugged face
So deep and visible a trace!

"Of all the tempests that have been
Against the centuries it has stood,
Resisting wind and ice and flood,
But that persistent drop of care
Is more than even stone can bear!"

BOMBER PILOT DIES IN CRASH

HURLBURT FIELD, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force commando fighter-bomber pilot whose parents live in Pennsylvania was killed in South Viet Nam Wednesday when his plane crashed and burned during an air strike mission.

An Air Force spokesman identified him as Capt. Bernard F. Lukasik, 29, a member of the 6th Fighter Squadron of the Tactical Air Command's First Air Commando Wing at Hurlburt Field.

Lukasik was on temporary duty in Viet Nam as an advisor trainer with the Viet Nam Air Force.

The spokesman said he was the pilot of a lead T28 aircraft on an air strike mission when his wingman and a forward air controller saw the plane crash and burn about 14 miles west of Can Tho.

He was alone at the time and his aircraft was on its sixth strafing pass, the spokesman said.

BICENTENNIAL COMMITTEE TO MEET COUNCIL

Littlestown bicentennial committee members have been invited to attend the February meeting of the Littlestown borough council on Tuesday evening at the Community Center. The invitation was extended by Samuel H. Higinbotham, a member of the council on behalf of the group, at a meeting of the bicentennial executive committee on Tuesday evening in the office at the Community Center.

He is also serving as headquarters chairman of bicentennial executive group. Nevaeh A. Crouse, revenue division chairman, was present at the session to report the names of his subcommittee chairmen, some complete subcommittees and others partially complete.

A sample of the bond which will be offered by the operating capital committee was available for inspection and approval of the committee. The chairman, J. Arthur Boyd, and the cochairman, Marvin F. Breighner, will meet in the near future with the operating capital committee cochairman, Wilbur A. Bankert and Theron W. Spangler, to outline plans for a campaign.

IN AUGUST, 1965

The treasurer, Ray T. Harner, presented his ideas for keeping necessary records with regards to bonds, requisition slips to be used by division chairmen for purchases, etc., for approval of the committee.

Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, secretary, was instructed to secure information with regard to the tax laws to cover the activities of the bicentennial celebration set for August 1 through 7, 1965. All division chairmen are expected to attend the next meeting of the committee on Tuesday, March 3, and are asked to take with them, the names of their subcommittee chairmen and members.

Ideas will continue to be exchanged for the various celebration events and decisions will be made only after the first meeting with the representative of the John B. Rogers Company within the next several weeks.

Pattern Works Are Toured By Rotary

The Littlestown Rotary Club participated in a plant visitation on Tuesday evening. The Rotarians had dinner at Schottie's Hotel and then toured the Littlestown Pattern Works on Monarch St. The tour was conducted by Rotarian Charles E. Rabenstine and Robert H. Miller, partners and owners of the Pattern Works. Several members of the working crew ere present to show the operations in making wooden and metal patterns.

President Roy L. Koontz announced that the club stood fourth in attendance in the district for the month of January, with an average of 95.18. Banners were received from the Allatatta (Miami), New Orleans and the Vincennes, Ind., Clubs.

The anniversary of Rotary International will be observed at the dinner meeting of the local club next Tuesday, 6:15 p.m. at Schottie's. The program will be in charge of the Rotary information committee, Paul E. King, chairman.

Pennsylvania

The day-to-day activity has returned to Pennsylvania following the heavy snowfall that for many parts of the state was the worst of the season in terms of the amount of snow. Mild temperatures, however, are causing much of the snow to melt quickly.

Pennsylvania, long plagued by floods and drought, faces its complex water problems today with new determination and hope. Its tools are comprehensive planning and development designed to prevent a repeat of such tragedies as the 1936 floods or the crippling dry spell of 1963.

DEBUSSCHERE IS SIGNED BY CHICAGO SOX

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Durable Dave DeBusschere, the only pro athlete still doing double duty in basketball and baseball, is heading for spring training with a weak leg, a strong arm and a determined cake-and-eat-it philosophy.

DeBusschere signed his baseball contract with the Chicago White Sox Wednesday, then received permission from the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association to leave the club and head for spring training.

DeBusschere has been sidelined most of the NBA season with a broken leg received in a game against Philadelphia, Nov 6. He returned to the line-up in January but aggravated the injury, and has been sidelined ever since.

SPORT STARTER

Until the injury, DeBusschere had taken a couple of big steps in his basketball career, and was averaging 8.6 points a game. He has taken only uncertain steps in his bid to break into the White Sox' pitching rotation.

A 23-year-old right-hander, DeBusschere was used as a spot starter and as a reliever for the White Sox last year—his second in the majors—and compiled a 3-4 record with a 3.11 earned run average in 24 games.

DeBusschere, who became the last of the two sport men when Gene Conley of the Boston Red Sox and New York Knicks gave up his basketball career, was given permission to leave the Pistons by Detroit owner Fred Zollner.

PLANS DOUBLE BILL

"The team physician has indicated it will take two or three weeks for DeBusschere to completely recover from the leg injury," said Zollner in explaining his decision to let DeBusschere go. "By that time the basketball season will be over."

The opportunity to leave the Pistons will enable DeBusschere to round into baseball form, even though his leg is weak, and prepare for a full-scale assault on a starters' berth with the White Sox. He will join the advance camp Wednesday at Sarasota, Fla.

Despite the basketball injury, DeBusschere says he is going to continue in both sports. His philosophy is that the two-sport parlay is "like breakfast and dinner." He explains it this way:

"They're really two different meals, but they both taste good. It just depends on when you eat them."

OTHERS SIGNED

Other players signing Wednesday were pitchers Chuck Estrada and John Papa, outfielder Joe Gaines and catcher Larry Haney with Baltimore, infielder Harry Bright with the New York Yankees, second baseman Tony Taylor with Philadelphia, pitcher Tony Cloninger with Milwaukee, pitchers Larry Jaster, Jerry Wild and Dave Bakenhaster with St. Louis, first baseman Gordy Coleman with Cincinnati and outfielder Gino Cimoli with Kansas City.

COUNTRY CLUB BURNS

OLNEY, Md. (AP) — A fire that started in the kitchen of the Brooke Manor Country Club destroyed the 125-year-old structure today. Loss was estimated at $500,000.

Firemen were hampered by cold weather and high winds that fanned the flames in the huge converted barn.

Turn hot mashed seasoned potatoes into a shallow casserole or pie plate; fold grated cheese into a little whipped cream and spread over the potatoes. Broil until browned and serve at once.

Scranton Smiles At Latest Advice

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton reacted with a cool smile today to the comment by a top industrialist that the governor postpone any presidential aspirations.

Crawford H. Greenewalt, board chairman of the E. I. du Pont DeNemours Corp., was quoted in Philadelphia Wednesday as describing Scranton as "a young man with plenty of time" who should delay becoming a presidential candidate.

"That's very kind of him," said Scranton. He added with faint sarcasm:

"The kind of statement I'd like to hear from him is that du Pont is putting an enormous installation into Pennsylvania giving employment to 5,000 people."

STATES WILL BENEFIT FROM CUT IN TAXES

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP) — States, as well as taxpayers, expect to enjoy benefits from the slash in federal income taxes.

There is a widespread disposition in state capitals to hold the line on state taxes.

There are hopes that the federal reduction will set off an upsurge of consumer spending that will boost revenue from such state levels as the sales tax.

There also is an expectation of a windfall by income tax states which allow their taxpayers a deduction for federal income taxes they have paid. A lower deduction would have more taxable income for the states.

APPROVAL SOON

An Associated Press survey brought out those trends today amid indications Congress will give final approval to the tax bill next week.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has promised there will be no tax increases in 1964. He presented a $2.92-billion budget last month and said he is counting on the federal tax cut to stimulate business. As a result of better business, he estimated, state revenues would rise seven per cent.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California has submitted a $3.66-billion budget for the 1964-65 fiscal period along with an opinion that no new taxes are required. He said the prospect of a small surplus enabled him to recommend a $2.75-million income tax cut in the lowest brackets.

Republican Gov. William G. Scranton of Pennsylvania has a 1964-65 budget of $1.168 billion that proposes no new or increased taxes.

Democratic Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas says no new taxes are needed. Gov. John A. Burns of Hawaii, also a Democrat, says he does not plan to ask any tax hikes.

GHS Needs Win Against Northern Here Tonight In Final Home Contest

All the Gettysburg High School cagers (17-1) have to do tonight to earn at least a double shot at the overall Blue Mountain League title is defeat Northern in the final home game of the season.

The Warriors, first-half champs, and East Pennsboro are now deadlocked for first place in the second-half race which ends this evening. A Warrior triumph combined with an expected East Pennsboro win at Boiling Springs would necessitate a playoff for the second-half title. A win in that game would give Gettysburg the overall title but a Panther verdict would give East Pennsboro second-half honors setting up another game for the championship.

WILL BE WARY

Coach Merrill Eckhart's outfit encountered little trouble in defeating the Polar Bears 82-31 at Dillsburg in the first half. It is a safe bet they will take nothing for granted tonight in view of the wave of upsets in area scholastic games this week.

Biglerville finishes its campaign at Newport, winless this season, and should chalk up a victory.

Canner Seniors ending their careers are Bob Garretson, Rodney Guise, Don Stauffer and Ross Kennedy. Another Senior, Bobby Bream, will be out of action due to a fractured wrist.

Additional BML games include Big Spring at Shippensburg and Susquenita at Camp Hill.

BOLTS AT GREENCASTLE

One game will be played this evening in the Adams-Franklin League, Littlestown traveling to Greencastle. The game was previously advanced at the request of Greencastle.

Tonight's game takes on added importance after Greencastle's upset at the hands of Scotland Tuesday. Greencastle is leading for the Franklin Division title but is being hard-pressed by Buchanan. Jack Bream's Thunderbolts have been coming along at top speed although are out of the title picture. They have won their last four straight and six of their last seven.

DELONE AT HOME

Delone Catholic plays its final home game as well as its last Central Penn Catholic League contest Friday evening when it is host to Lancaster Catholic. The Squires won an 82-61 decision at Lancaster in the first half.

The Squires will make up a postponed game at Carlisle on Saturday to conclude their season.

AGREE ON NEED TO CUT COSTS

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union agreed today on the need to reduce military spending, but disagreed today over proposals to achieve the goal.

The U.S. delegate, William C. Foster, urged the Soviets to join in discussion of an American proposal to freeze arsenals of intercontinental missiles and other means of delivering nuclear weapons.

Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference a halt in production of rockets would bring about great savings, slow down the armaments race and ease international tensions.

The Soviet delegate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, instead urged upon the conference a Soviet proposal to cut a ll military spending by 10 to 15 per cent. Such a reduction, applied as each nation prefers, has the best chance of acceptance and must have absolute priority at the Geneva talks, he said.

Tsarapkin urged the conference to appeal to all nations to make such cuts. The Soviet Union and the United States both announced military spending cuts recently but neither was as high as 10 per cent.

Winston Churchill Attends Commons

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, due to retire from political life this year, turned up at the House of Commons Wednesday night and joined in ushering through a piece of routine legislation.

Churchill, 89, has made frequent appearances lately as his long parliamentary career nears an end. A national electio is due this year and Sir Winston has said that he will not be a candidate.

2 Nittany Lions Chosen For Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Two American Football League teams Wednesday selected three Pennsylvania college football players as future draft picks as the league completed its draft of college players.

Buffalo drafted John Diebert, tackle, and Tim Urbanik, halfback, both from Penn State. Boston selected Brian Generalovich, of Pittsburgh.

All players drafted have a year of college eligibility remaining.

SURGERY HAS HEADED KRICK FOR COMEBACK

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — Successful surgery has started Cincinnati's Ron Krick on a comeback to the form that made him Pennsylvania's most prolific high school basketball scorer.

The towering 6-8 star, who rewrote the state's record books while at West Reading High School, plays a key role in the present and future plans of the University of Cincinnati Bearcats.

2ND OPERATION

Surgery could clear up the problem, he was told, but if the operations failed, his basketball career would be ended.

Doctors termed both operations as "perfect".

"It was a real shame he had to be away from basketball so long," said Bearcat coach Ed Jucker. "But we're counting on him for next year and hope he continues to improve."

SEES BRIEF ACTION

"The doctors say Ron has nothing to fear," a university spokesman added. "He can move his arms in any and all directions and still has the moves he had in high school. A severe fall might throw out the shoulders again, but not necessarily."

Krick has seen about 15 minutes of action per game as a sophomore at Cincinnati, hitting for 107 points and hauling down 95 rebounds in 19 contests.

His main handicap is a lack of experience, said Jucker. Ron hasn't played regularly since completing four years at West Reading in 1961 where he smashed the state scoring record with a phenomenal 3,174 points.

"But he's coming along fine and starting to demonstrate his fine moves," Jucker explained.

Appalachian Plan Is Being Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president's Appalachian Regional Commission will look into the feasibility of creating an Appalachian Institute to study economic development in the 10-state area, Sen. Joseph S. Clark and Rep. George M. Rhodes, Pennsylvania Democrats, reported Wednesday.

They said the Area Redevelopment Administration had approved a $21,000 grant to conduct the six-month study.

Rhodes said the commission will prepare a plan for the institute and survey existing resources in research, education and training within the region and recommend ways to strengthen them.

In addition to Pennsylvania, the area includes Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Tennessee Virginia and West Virginia.

2 Astronauts To Fly Helicopters

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts Maj. L. Gordon Cooper and Air Force Capt. Edward H. White II, say they have completed 11 hours of helicopter training and are ready for solo flights.

Cooper and White told a news conference Wednesday that the helicopter training is designed to prepare them for landings on the moon. They said the helicopter is more allied in pattern and approach to a moon landing vehicle than any other available instrument.

39 Major Leaguers In Golf Tourney

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Thirty-nine major leaguers are in the field of 155 golfers teeing off today in the 72-hole 24th annual National Baseball Players Golf Tournament.

BULLET SWIM SQUAD ADDS 7TH VICTORY

Despite losing both seven-point relays, the Gettysburg College swimming team smashed three records and turned in another strong individual performance to edge past Lycoming 50-45, Wednesday afternoon in the Warrior's tank.

The victory was the Bullets' fifth straight. Coach Curt Coull's forces are nov sporting a 7-2 slate on the season.

Gettysburg's ace distance freestyler, Curt Cheyney, broke two more school and set two pool records as he took firsts in the 200 and 500-yard events. The Bullet cocaptain streaked home in the 200-freestyle in 1:59.8 bettering his own school mark of 2:01.5. He also splashed to a 5:49.1 500-freestyle which lowered his own school record by 6 1 seconds. Al Guild broke a three-year old school mark in the 200-yard breast stroke when he took a second with a time of 2:34.9 He and Doug Seeley previously held the mark at 2:36.0.

OTHER RECORDS

During the breast stroke event, Lycoming's Wilson Bradley set a new pool and Warrior school record by touching the finish line in 2:29.7 minutes. The Lycoming medley relay team set a new school and pool record. The team o. Dee Schultze, Bradley, Walt Manning and Ralph Kay, was clocked in 4:00.6 minutes.

Because of the small 20-yard pool, the Bullets were forced to compete in the 60-yard freestyle and 160-yard individual medley, both normally being 50 and 200-yards respectively. Gettysburg took five first places, but once again the excellent depth proved vital as the Bullets recorded seven seconds.

The Bullets will be out to stretch their winning steak when they take on a strong Lafayette team, Saturday afternoon in Easton.

The results:

400—medley relay: 1, Lycoming (Schultze, Bradley, Manning, Kaye), 4:00.6.

Large Crowd Sees Astronauts Perform

A large crowd was present in the New Oxford High School gymnasium Wednesday evening to watch the New York Harlem Astronauts defeat an all-star New Oxford basketball squad 81-58 in an exhibition game sponsored by the New Oxford High School Athletic Association.

The unbeaten Astronauts lived up to their advance billing in demonstrating expert ball handling, trick shots and all-around fine cage wizardry.

WARRIORS ADD TO NBA MARGIN; BEAT ROYALS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco's championship minded Warriors are receiving valuable aid from a couple of highly unexpected sources.

The Warriors have moved further ahead of their two Western Division challengers the past two nights, thanks to the National Basketball Association's cellar teams—New York and Detroit. San Francisco now leads second-place St. Louis by two games and third-place Los Angeles by 5½ games.

The Warriors stopped Cincinnati's 12-game winning streak 108-101 Wednesday night while last-place New York of the Eastern Division outscored St. Louis 120-114 and last-place Detroit of the West edged Los Angeles 116-115.

BALTIMORE LOSES

New York sneaked by Los Angeles Tuesday night 118-117.

In the other NBA game Wednesday night Philadelphia whipped Baltimore 130-122.

Robertson still scored 29 points, not a bad night even for the Royals' ace, but the move seemed to bother Cincinnati's offense at the start.

NEAR RECORD

Nevertheless, the Royals recovered sufficiently in time to take a 59-57 halftime lead. Hightower, however, sparked a third-quarter spurt that put San Francisco ahead to stay. Hightower finished with 29 points while Wilt Chamberlain had 32.

New York, winning its second straight after nine consecutive losses, overcame a 15-point deficit and whipped the Hawks. A 12-point splurge in three minutes during the third period brought New York to within two points 84-82.

Bailey Howell's tip-in with 14 seconds remaining kept Detroit from setting a team record for losses in one season and knocked Los Angeles back another notch.

CRONIN CALLS FINLEY FRIDAY

BOSTON (AP) — The American League calls Charles O. Finley, recalcitrant owner of the Kansas City Athletics, on the carpet Friday.

The question that the league wants answered is:

Why hasn't Finley signed a lease with Kansas City so the A's will have a place to play this season?

The baseball season opens in less than two months. Spring training starts next week.

AL President Joe Cronin called the meeting last weekend after a second extension of the deadline for lease-signing expired Saturday night.

Originally, Finley wanted to move his club from Kansas City because of poor attendance. But he was turned down by the American League owners in his bid to shift his franchise to Louisville, Ky. The vote was 9-1. Finley was the only one voting for the shift. c

Redskins Sign Hughes As Coach

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach Bill McPeak reached into the "other league" today to hire a defensive backfield coach for the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

He signed Ed Hughes, who held the same job last fall with the Denver Broncos of the rival American Football League. Hughes had coached the defensive backfield for another AFL team, the Dallas Texans, three seasons before that.

However, Hughes' playing experience was all in the NFL, first with the Los Angeles Rams and then with the New York Giants. He was a regular defensive back on two Eastern Division and one NFL championship team in New York.

EVANSVILLE LEAD IS CUT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Evansville's first place lead over Grambling was cut to a single point and Assumption's Greyhounds advanced two more places to fourth in this week's Associated Press small-college basketball poll.

Evansville polled five first places and 72 points in the balloting by a special panel of eight regional selectors. Grambling collected three votes for first place and 71 points. A week ago, Evansville had 72 points and Grambling 68.

Pan American remained in third place followed by Assumption, Washington of St. Louis, Hofstra, Kentucky Wesleyan, Youngstown, Wittenberg and Western Carolina.

Evansville defeated DePauw and St. Joseph's of Indiana last week for an 18-2 record. Grambling is 22-1 following victories over Texas Southern and Arkansas AM&N. Pan American lifted its mark to 20-4 by beating Steubenville and St. Edwards of Austin, Tex.

Assumption, from Worcester, Mass., climbed from sixth place on the strength of victories over Merrimack and Lemoyne that boosted its record to 14-1.

BASKETBALL'S CROWDS GROW

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College basketball attendance has increased about 12 per cent this season on the basis of figures from nine major conferences.

Comparative figures compiled today by The Associated Press showed an increase over the same period of the 1962-63 season, except in the Missouri Valley.

Missouri Valley officials expected the final figures to compare favorably with those of last season since several sellout games are to be played.

The Southeastern Conference reported the biggest increase with a jump from an average of 4,684 for 131 games last season to 6,349 through 103 games as of Feb. 15.

The Atlantic Coast Conference was next in line with an increase from 5,175 for 62 games to an average of 5,570 for 41.

BARONS BEAT PROVIDENCE

Player-Coach Fred Glover still is playing the Pied Piper for the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

A week ago Wednesday night the Barons were winless in five games. Glover scored three goals and Cleveland whipped Springfield 8-1.

Wednesday night the Barons had only that victory against Springfield to show for a week's work. So Glover again showed the Barons how to do it, assisting on three goals while Cleveland played follow-the-leader and walloped Providence 7-1.

Jim Mikol scored three of the Barons' goals and Ray Kinasewich collected two as Cleveland increased its Western Division lead to four points over the Pittsburgh Hornets, 6-4 losers to Springfield. In the other game scheduled, Buffalo and Rochester played to a 3-3 overtime tie.

COURT STAR MAY FLIP TO PRO GRIDIRON

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburth's Brian Generalovich, primarily known for his basketball talents, may take a flyer at the toughest flop-over in sports by aiming at a pro football career.

Generalovich, a 6-foot-4, 210-pounder, hasn't played football since he played end for Farrell, Pa., High School and gained all-state honors. He has been strictly a basketball player for the Panthers, currently headed for the National Invitations Tournament.

Generalovich, however, has expressed interest in playing football for Pittsburgh in his last year of eligibility, and is being considered as a prospect by both the National and American football leagues.

DRAFTED TUESDAY

The Boston Patriots of the AFL selected Generalovich in a draft of futures held Tuesday. The Pitt star previously had been drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL.

Few athletes who concentrate their energies on basketball wind up as pro football players. However, Cornell Green, who was a standout cager for Utah State, was a defensive back for the NFL's Dallas Cowboys last year.

In the AFL draft, 48 collegians were selected—all with a year of eligibility remaining. The accent was on linemen with 26 picked.

EAGLES COACH TO BE CHOSEN OVER WEEKEND

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jerry Wolman, owner of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, says he hopes to name a new coach this weekend. Wolman reportedly has been concentrating on Paul Brown, former Cleveland coach.

Reached in San Juan, Puerto Rico, where he is vacationing, Wolman told a newsman here Tuesday he has narrowed the field to one man. But he declined to elaborate. Wolman said he has interviewed his No. 1 prospect in person but said the coach wasn't with him in Puerto Rico.

"I've also made a lot of telephone calls," he added.

BROWN IS MYSTERY

Asked whether Brown had been crossed off his list, Wolman said: "I wouldn't care to comment on that."

Although Brown couldn't be reached by phone the last several days, a source close to the Cleveland club said yesterday that the Browns haven't heard from him since he went to Lajolla, Calif., for the winter.

The source insisted that Brown hasn't made any efforts to arrange a settlement of his contract with Cleveland owner Art Modell, so that he could negotiate with the Eagles.

Brown, fired by Cleveland as a coach and general manager after the 1962 season, still is a vice president of the club and reportedly draws $80,000 a year for scouting college games.

Wolman denied offering the Eagle job to Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets of the American Football League.

BILL STEWART, UMPIRE, DIES

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Stewart was best known as a no-nonsense baseball umpire, but he also was the only native American ever to coach a National Hockey League team.

He won the Stanley Cup his first year, but was fired the following year. That was the way his sports career went in about 50 years—up and down. But it was more up than down.

He also had been a minor league baseball manager, a college coach, a wrestler, a track star, a boxing referee and a major league baseball scout.

His greatest accomplishment probably was coaching the Chicago Black Hawks to the Stanley Cup in 1938. Chicago finished third in the league standings, but defeated the old New York Americans and the Montreal Canadians in the playoffs before disposing of heavily favored Toronto for the cup.

BOUND GIRL IS TOSSED IN POOL

But he had a humanitarian purpose. He was demonstrating his "downproofing" technique, designed to make anyone absolutely safe in the water.

"The idea is that you use, with this method, the least possible amount of energy and make no movements at all, except to raise your head for a breath when you want it. Your own buoyancy and rhythmic breathing are the secrets," said Williams, assistant director of physical education at the Central YMCA here.

South Penn Loop Meeting Sunday

The South Penn Baseball League will draft plans for the 1964 season at a meeting in the American Legion homoe Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Any teams interested in joining the league for the coming season should have a representative present at Sunday's meeting, according to the league president, Robert Miller, Gettysburg.

Among other items scheduled for presentation at the Sunday session will be the 1964 umpires' agreement and proposed revisions to the organization's bylaws.

GROWING PGA FEUD HEADS FOR COURTS

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—A growing feud between the Professional Golfers Association and John D. MacArthur, salty multimillionaire builder of the new PGA National Golf Club, headed Thursday toward a court decision.

MacArthur, head of the Bankers Life and Casualty Company of Chicago, and founder of Palm Beach Gardens, sued the PGA Wednesday charging that it had failed to execute a contract to buy the club.

MacArthur said he had spent more than $3 million building the clubhouse and two 18-hole golf courses for the PGA, had more than a million coming back to him, and needed the PGA to move in and help him sell lots in Palm Beach Gardens, his development north of Palm Beach.

CLAIMS STALLING

He claimed at a news conference that he had been stalled off in repeated attempts to get PGA officers to sit down with his attorneys and complete the contract.

Warren Cantrell, PGA president, reported that his organization was ready to fulfill the contract and take over the club whenever MacArthur could fulfill all building commitments and furnish clear title to the land.

Cantrell added that the PGA had just set up a conference with MacArthur's lawyers for next Tuesday to discuss the contract when it was hit with his lawsuit.

The battle flared as more than 400 golfers prepared to tee off Thursday over the new courses in the $30,000 PGA Seniors Tournament.

HAWKS BEAT NEW YORK 7-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scoring rivalry among Chicago's players apparently doesn't hinder the Black Hawks.

The competition between Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull boosted the Hawks into sole possession of first place in the National Hockey League Wednesday night.

Mikita, the league's leading pointmaker, scored two goals and Hull, running second, tallied three assists in Chicago's 7-2 victory over New York. The triumph gave the Black Hawks 71 points to 69 for the runner-up Montreal, which was idle Wednesday night.

Mikita's goals were his 32nd and 33rd and increased his point total to 73. Hull shot to 70 points, cutting Mikita's margin to three.

Ken Wharram also tallied twice, his 30th and 31st goals. His scores came in the first and third periods, Mikita's in the second and third.

SATIR LEADS G-BURG FROSH TO CAGE WIN

A 26-point performance by Steve Satir and a team shooting average of 52 per cent enabled the Gettysburg College Freshman basketball team to pound out a 72-67 win over Stevens Trade Wednesday evening in a return game in Lancaster.

Satir ripped the cords for 13 of 20 shots as he registered his second highest performance of the season. As a team, the Bullets landed 32 of 62 shots from the floor to improve their field shooting average which got off to a slow start. Gettysburg, playing without the services of Ray Faczan, outrebounded the Tradesmen 48-41. Turning in a good job on the boards was 6'5" Dave Fairweather who was high Bullet with 13.

OPPONENT NETS 34

Slightly overshadowed during the game, because of the setback, was the 34-point production of Stevens Trade's top outside man, Gene Lesko. Lesko poured through 15 of 19 field goal tries and four of seven free throws to carry the host club's load. Lesko was also the Tradesmen's leading rebounder with 13.

Both Satir and Lesko set the pace for their respective teams throughout the entire game. Gettysburg took a 37-34 lead at the end of the first half. During that time Satir scored 12 points and Lesko landed 19. In the second half, it was Lesko ahead 15-14.

Gettysburg is now 13-4 on the season while Stevens Trade is sporting a 6-4 record following two consecutive setbacks at the hands of Gettysburg. The Little Bullets will journey to Delaware on Saturday to meet the Delaware frosh in the preliminary to the varsity game.

Rail Unions Ask LBJ To Bar Spur Line To Cape Kennedy

By NEIL GILBRIDE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Striking railroad unions called on President Johnson Wednesday to bar the Florida East Coat Railroad from using a track entering Cape Kennedy.

Asst. Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds aid there was some possibility the Army could take over and run the government-owned rail spur into the space center if the FEC trackage rights were ended.

RECOMMENDS PLAN

At the same time, Reynolds said he had recommended that the federal government terminate the FEC's trackage rights into the missile test center and reimburse the railroad some $2.7 million it spent to build the line.

Reynolds, at a news conference, said his recommendation to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Writz followed refusal of FEC board chairman Ed Ball to negotiate the 13-month-old month dispute with 11 nonoperating unions.

Reynolds said Ball's refusal Tuesday to make any reasonable effort at settlement was "a petulant insistence that has no place in this century."

Reynolds said terminating the FEC's rights into the space center area would mean the railroad would lose 521,000 tons of business in the first 12 months of operation of the new moonport now under construction at Merritt Island.

G. E. Leighty, chief negotiator for the striking unions, estimated the FEC would lose $7 million or more in revenue if it was banned from the space facility.

Leighty released a resolution calling on Johnson "to reverse the provocative action" of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration" in letting Mr. Ed Ball's strikebreakers operate a government-owned rail spur into the Cape Kennedy area."

The resolution was passed by the Railway Labor Executives Association at a meeting here.

Ball, 75-year-old board chairman of the Jacksonville-Miami railroad, refused to accept arbitration in his meeting where Reynolds and insisted that any talks between railroad and union officials be taken down by a court reporter.

EARLY FLIGHTS TO SPACE AID GEMINI TESTS

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Two years ago today, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., became the first American to orbit the earth. He proved man could function effectively in space and opened the gateway to the moon.

The fruits of his mission are evident at Cape Kennedy, where preparations are underway for the first trial launchings in the Gemini and Apollo man-in-space programs.

TOO OLD FOR GEMINI

Glenn wanted to participate in Gemini and Apollo. But at 42 he became an old man in his field. Last month he resigned from the space program to seek a U.S. Senate seat in Ohio, his home state.

Glenn would have been young enough for the two-man Gemini flights, but many in the program believed that, as a national hero, he should not risk his life again. In 1969, goal for the first Apollo man-to-the-moon flight, Glenn would be 47. Officials say younger men will make the journey.

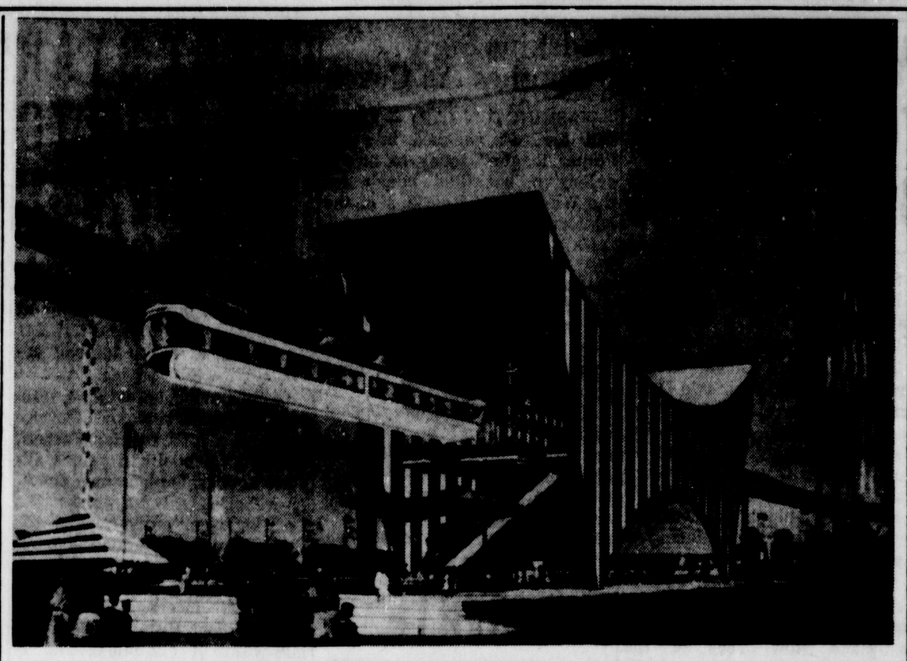

Astronauts M. Scott Carpenter, Walter M. Schirra and L. Gordon Cooper Jr., followed Glenn into orbit on flights of 3, 6 and 22 orbits, respectively. Cooper's flight last May ended Project Mercury.

FIRST SECTION ARRIVES

An Air Force cargo plane Wednesday delivered a section of the first model of the Apollo ship to Cape Kennedy. It is the Command Module, the area in which three astronauts will ride to the moon on operational missions.

Also arriving Wednesday was the first stage of a Saturn 1 superrocket, forerunner of the Apollo booster. The second stage and the prototype Apollo craft will be wedded to it for a flight scheduled in May to check aerodynamic and structural capabilities of the rocket-spacecraft combination.

Artist's conception of closed loop AMF Monorail in the lake amusement area at the New York World's Fair. Automatically controlled and air-conditioned, there will be six two-car 90-foot-long trains carrying 80 passengers, travelling in opposite directions on two 4,000-foot closed loop "I" beam tracks 40 feet overhead. Two attendants will be in each train which will also be equipped with a continuous recording describing points of interest. Eight winners of grand prizes in the Washington Birthday Sale Days here Friday and Saturday will have an opportunity to ride this monorail.

DEEP DRIFTS STACK ALONG EAST COAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A snowstorm spawned in the Gulf of Mexico slammed into the Eastern Seaboard Wednesday, with gale-force winds piling drifts up to six feet from North Carolina to Maine.

The affected areas were expected to have a "breather" today, with snow flurries, light rain or just cloudy weather forecast.

The storm closed many schools and slowed plane, train, auto and bus traffic. Numerous sports and social events were canceled.

Drifts were six feet deep in northern Virginia; five feet on Maryland's secondary roads. Near Carlisle in central Pennsylvania the snow measured 25 inches, as it did in Martinsburg, W.Va.

BYPASS AREAS

The Baltimore and Washington, D.C., areas were practically bypassed. Baltimore got only a few inches of snow and rain prevailed in the nation's capital. Trains from Washington to Philadelphia were up to a half hour late.

New York City escaped with 4 to 6 inches of snow, but gusty winds up to 32 miles per hour caused some power failures.

Westchester County, north of the city, and the Catskill Mountain area were hit hard, with snow accumulations of up to a foot. In upstate New York the snow depths were: Albany, 6 to 8 inches; Glens Falls, 4 inches; Syracuse and Rome, 2 inches; and Rochester and Utica, 1 inch.

BALKS REFUELING

Bergen County in New Jersey had 8 to 10 inches.

Also in New Jersey, the storm prevented refueling operations at McGuire Air Force Base, canceling air lifts for 1,500 troops headed from Texas to Germany and the same number headed the other direction.

The airlifts were to demonstrate U.S. ability to rush troops to trouble spots.

Connecticut called it the winter's worst storm, with up to 11 inches of snow in some inland spots. The coastal areas had up to 6 inches.

SUSPECT FAILS TO SEE POLICE

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City Detectives have failed in a second trip to Philadelphia to question a Philadelphia man about the Feb. 6 murder of Edna Petro of Baltimore, police said Wednesday.

The first trip was made by detectives Feb. 9 when Virginia Rieb, a friend of the slain woman sought to view the Philadelphia man. But he declined to appear in a lineup.

Mrs. Rieb told police right after the murder that she saw a "well dressed middle-aged man" leaving Mrs. Petro's room at the Delmonico Hotel.

WITHHELD IDENTITY

The Philadelphia man's name was found in Mrs. Petro's address book. His identity has been withheld by police.

Det. Capt. Louis C. Cottell said the man has refused to cooperate with police in the investigation. He will not come to New York voluntarily.

Asked if detectives had spoke to the man's attorney on the latest trip, a police spokesman said: "They saw who they wanted to see."

It has not been decided if a further effort will be made to bring the Philadelphia man to New York, police said.

Mrs. Petro, a beauty consultant, was in New York with five colleagues for a special training course when she was slain.

Blames UC Ills On Tax Credits

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The low level of Pennsylvania's unemployment compensation fund is due to tax credits granted to industry, according to a state union official.

The president of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO, Harry Boyer, made this observation during a televised debate on Gov. Scranton's controversial proposal to revamp unemployment compensation legislation.

The debate was taped Tuesday in Johnstown and aired Wednesday night over Johnstown station WJAC-TV.

Boyer said tax credits granted to industry by the 1949 and 1951 state legislatures have caused a lowering of the unemployment compensation fund.

BAKER STALLS SENATE PROBE OF BIG DEALS

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators push ahead today with the Bobby Baker investigation, but the former Senate aide has flung a wet blanket over the inquiry by his refusal to answer questions.

There is substantial opinion around the Senate that while a lot of smoke still may pour out of the investigation, most of its low-burning fire may have been snuffed out.

A Republican member of the Senate Rules Committee, unwilling to be quoted by name, said that Democrats were talking about a speedy windup of the inquiry but that Republicans have around 40 prospective witnesses they want interviewed and possibly called to testify.

UNDER SUBPOENA

Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, is under subpoena to appear for questioning at a public hearing next Tuesday.

But he said Wednesday, after a closed hearing at which he refused to surrender subpoenaed documents, that he would follow the advice of his lawyers and decline to answer the committee's questions.

The committee said that after Tuesday's hearing it will consider whether to recommend to the Senate that he be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a year in jail, a $1,000 fine, or both.

OUTSIDE DEALS

It is investigating whether Baker, while on the Senate payroll at $19,600-a-year, engaged in outside business and financial dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Among witnesses called to testify today were W. F. Collins, president of the District of Columbia National Bank, and Jose Benitez, deputy high commissioner of the Pacific Trust Territory and a former Democratic chairman in Puerto Rico.

The committee said Collins would be asked about loans Baker has obtained from the bank, in which Baker has reported holding 1,500 shares of stock. Benitez has been linked with Baker in prior testimony involving imports of meat from Haiti.

Continental Can Plant Crippled

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Production at the Continental Can Co., Inc., plant in nearby West Mifflin remained crippled today in the wake of a walkout by nearly 1,000 union members.

Dudley Crippen, personnel superintendent for firm, said there were no plans for talks with United Steelworkers Local 4337 whose members staged the strike Wednesday.

Bert Nicholsen, Local 4337 treasurer, said the walkout was triggered by the firing of an employe. Nicholsen said the strike was unauthorized.

He said 15 employes walked out after a fellow worker was discharged for allegedly failing to meet production standards. Local president Francis Scumaci left his job to investigate and was dismissed, Nicholsen said, which then caused the other union members to walk out.

STUDENT, 19, ADMITS THEFT OF PAINTING

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A 19-year-old student described by neighbors as a "nice, unobtrusive young man" was held today after confessing he stole Rubens' "Negroes' Heads."

Police said Andre Beugnies admitted taking the 17th century painting from the Brussels Museum of Ancient Art Monday hoping to get 850,000 francs' ransom. Experts value the art treasure at from $200,000 to $1 million.

The youth was telephoning the ransom demand to museum curator Philippe Robert-Jones from a public booth Wednesday when police traced the call and sent a prowl car to arrest him.

Prosecutor Raymond Charles said Beugnies confessed and said he got the idea while listening to a radio crime serial about art thieves.

Beugnies already had written to the curator seeking payment, the prosecutor said, and police were ready to trace the call quickly if he telephoned.

Peter Paul Rubens' painting, which measures 20 x 25 inches and depicts four different attitudes of one Negro, was found intact at the home of Beugnies' grandmother where he lived.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

SEARCH OCEAN FOR 14 MISSING OFF GRAIN SHIP

NEW YORK (AP)—A Coast Guard cutter and planes continued searching the North Atlantic today for 14 men missing from the storm-battered British grain ship Ambassador, but their survival was considered improbable.

Twenty of the 35 crew members have been rescued. The captain died.

Coast Guard area headquarters reported that a Dutch tugboat today took over the listing and abandoned Ambassador as a prize of the sea.

The Coast Guard cutter Coos Bay radioed early today that the tugboat Elbe put men aboard the Ambassador, they stopped flooding in the ship and the tug started towing her to the Azores Islands. The Elbe had sped to the Ambassador for salvage purposes and arrived Wednesday night.

Twenty-one of the men aboard the vessel when she began to take on water and listed badly were dramatically picked up by crewmen of the cutter and the Norwegian freighter Fruen. But Capt. Harry Strickland, master of the Ambassador, was dead when brought aboard the Coos Bay.

Tuesday morning, about 660 miles southeast of Halifax, N.S., the Ambassador radioed for assistance, saying its engines were dead and it was helpless in the heavy seas.

Election Board Processes Bids

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Elections Bureau planned to complete today processing of nominating petitions for the April 28 primary.

The deadline for filing petitions was Tuesday. Processing was delayed by the large volume of last-minute filings coupled with the heavy snowfall that closed the capitol Wednesday.

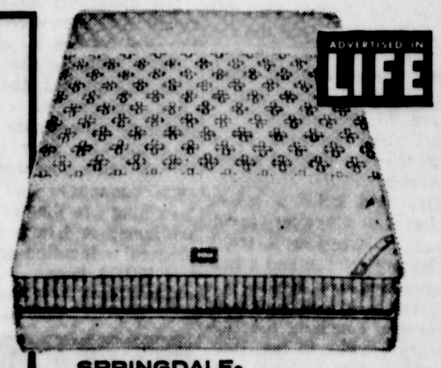

MOSCOW (AP) — Andrian Nikolayev, who orbited the earth four days in 1962, has been named commander of the Soviet cosmonauts' unit. He succeeds Yuri Gagarin, the first Soviet cosmonaut.

Peter Klein, Pioneer Real Estate Developer, Founder Of Littlestown

Peter Klein could easily be called the pioneer real estate developer of Adams County, for he was the first settler in the southern portion of the county to envision a borough through which would pass main highways and railroads to connect Harrisburg and Baltimore and Hanover and Frederick.

Klein purchased 311 acres of level, fertile land just north of the Maryland line in 1760 from Thomas and Richard Penn. Five years later he subdivided the area into 48 lots, which he called "Kleina Stedtle," Little City. It later was called Petersburg, Peter's Little's Town and was changed to Littlestown when the town's first post office was built.

The location and date of the first house to be built in Littlestown is not known, but Andrew Schreiber Jr., is believed to have been the first German settler on a farm near the town in 1734. Martin Kitzmiller built the first mill in the county in 1738 midway between Littlestown and Hanover.

250 IN 1800

In 1800 Littlestown had a population of 250 persons. By 1850 there were 394 people and in 1860 it was 702.

An historical report prepared by Lynn Keefer, a native of Littlestown, and presently a student at Pennsylvania State University, indicates that the 847 residents of Littlestown in 1870 were well-housed (15 carpenters), well-shod (11 shoemakers), well-fed (eight store kepers), well-dressed (six tailors and four milliners). The population, which included 14 retired farmers, also was well taken care of by five physicians, three drugists and a surgeon. Their livery needs were supplied by seven coachmakers, six blacksmiths, three harness makers, two coach trimmers, a livery stable and a horse doctor.

The borough was incorporated February 23, 1864 and six months later, on August 20, the first burgess and councilmen were elected at the schoolhouse on E. King St. R. S. Seiss served a total of 11 terms as burgess.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The public school system took root in 1836 with two schools, one on E. King St., and the other on W. King St. In 1871 the town built a three-room schoolhouse on E. King St., and in 1901 replaced it with a two-story grade and high school building on E. King St. In 1917 a west wing was added and in 1957 the Rolling Acres Elementary School was built to replace the E. King St. building. The borough converted the E. King St. school into a community center and borough building in 1960. The high school was built in 1932-33 and the new junior-senior high school was erected in 1960-61.

In addition to the public schools there were several private schools, including Edgehill Academy, Littlestown Academy and another school on E. High St.

FIRST CHURCH

St. Aloysius Church was the first in Littlestown and was built in 1790. St. John's Lutheran Church was built a half mile west of the town in 1763 and the United Brethren Church was organized in 1822. The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in 1828 and St. James Reformed Church was built four miles southwest of town in 1851. Redeemer's Reformed Church was founded in 1859 east of the town and in 1872 was moved to E. King St. St. Paul's Lutheran was built in 1863-67. The Mt. Carmel Cemetery was dedicated in 1861.

The St. Aloysius parochial school was established in 1925.

The Alpha Fire Company was formed in 1885 and a year later a fire engine house was built on E. King St. The first motorized equipment was delivered to the borough in 1913.

The first water system was established, with wooden pipes, in 1897 at a cost of $12,000, and additional wells were drilled by the borough in 1938 and 1941. The sewer system, started in 1941 by WPA funds, was completed by the borough in 1946.

The "Littlestown Savings Institution," the town's first bank was chartered in 1867, replaced in 1879 by one which closed in 1931. The Littlestown National was chartered in 1928, and the Littlestown State Bank opened in 1935.

The last passenger train service between Hanover and Littlestown ended on September 13, 1948, after 90 years of operation. The Littlestown Railroad, constructed in 1857-58, was installed at a cost of $75,000 and was extended to Frederick in 1872. In 1874 the Pennsylvania Railroad leased the line, which today carries only freight.

STATE DIGGING OUT FROM 25 IN. OF SNOW

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennsylvania, stunned by heavy snows that dumped as much as 25 inches in some parts of the state, sprang back to life today.

Most schools, businesses and government offices were open after being closed all or part of Wednesday. Planes, trains and buses were running on schedule again.

In Harrisburg, state workers returned to their jobs after an unscheduled holiday called on account of snow-covered roads leading to the capital.

HARRISBURG HIT

Harrisburg was one of the hardest hit cities in the Commonwealth, recording 20 inches of snow on the ground Wednesday. Above-freezing temperatures, however, caused much of the snow to melt and the remainder to pack down, leaving a depth of 14 inches.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said snow flurries would occur throughout most of Pennsylvania Thursday, but with little additional snow accumulations.

As the snow melted and packed, depths were reported as follows:

Philipsburg 16 inches, Bradford 13, Altoona 12, Wilkes-Barre 12, Allentown 10, Pittsburgh 6, Philadelphia 1.

HIGHWAYS ICY

The melting of snow in the daytime coupled with sub-freezing temperatures at night made many highways around the state dangerously icy.

Ronald Dolenti, 28, of Phoenixville, was killed Wednesday when his car crashed head-on into a pickup truck driven by Russell Rubright, 50, of Pottstown. Police said Rubright apparently skidded into Dolenti's lane while passing another car on snow-covered Route 724 near Phoenixville.

Fatal heart attacks which authorities said were brought on by the snow claimed four lives. At least six persons suffered broken and mangled fingers in accidents involving snow-blowers.

The 19.6 inches of snow that fell in Harrisburg during a 17-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Wednesday was the city's largest concentration on record. The previous record was 18.0 inches in 20 hours set March 27 and 28, 1891.

WOMAN INDICTED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Ethelyn Thrasher was indicted Wednesday by the grand jury on charges of fraudulent conversion, embezzlement by agent forgery and false pretenses in connection with her operation of the John B. Kelly Playhouse in the Park.

Mrs. Thrasher's contract to manage the playhouse this year was not renewed by the Fairmount Park Commission.

Adams Court Decrees Founding Of Littlestown

"And now to wit, February 23, 1864, the Court decrees that all the lands mentioned in the proceedings to incorporate the borough of Littlestown, except the land of William McSherry designated on plat marked 2 A accompanying despositions which are hereby excluded, is hereby and forever after and shall be incorporated into a borough known by the name and style of 'The Borough of Littlestown' in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth entitled an act, 'Regulations Borough,' and approved the 3rd day of April, 1851.

"And the court does further order that the first election for borough officers be held the third Friday of March next at the most westerly schoolhouse within said borough limits between the hours of 9 o'clock a.m. and 7 o'clock p.m. of said day. The court does hereby appoint Joseph Barker to give notice of the time and place of holding said election by putting up twenty written or printed notices in the most public places in said borough, six days previous to said election. And the court does appoint Dr. E. F. Shorb and Henry Lysert and William Yount to be the inspectors at said election and the Court fixes the third Friday of March in each and every year for the annual borough election and the schoolhouse as the place."

Robert J. Fisher
Isaac E. Wierman

Distraught Woman Fires At Man In Dallas Airport

By TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS (AP)—A distraught divorcee took a wild shot in the busy Dallas air terminal Wednesday at a man she mistook, by her later account, for radio executive Gordon McLendon.

The bullet, fired from 15 feet at W. W. Dyer, 48, of Dallas, lodged in a small handbag carried by D. A. Peterson of Park Ridge, Ill. Both men were walking to board a 4:45 p.m. flight to Chicago.

WEAPON JAMS

Dyer's wife shoved the woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, 47, to the floor, police said, as she tried to shoot again and the weapon jammed. An airline employe wrested the 32-caliber automatic pistol from Mrs. Stone.

McLendon, a candidate for U.S. senator in Texas' Democratic primary May 6, described the incident as an obvious attempt to assassinate him. He said he would ask Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to order an FBI investigation.

City Detective Frank Mote said Mrs. Stone told him she had been upset since a hidden rifleman killed President Kennedy here Nov. 22.

SAY'S HE'S COMMIE

She intended to kill McLendon, questioners quoted her as saying, because "he is a Communist and fools around with Cosa Nostra."

Mrs. Stone, who moved here recently from neighboring Fort Worth, bought the pistol last week in a Fort Worth department store, police related. She said she had never seen McLendon.

As the shot was fired in busy Love Field Terminal, McLendon was visiting at the home of a friend.

Lancaster Woman At 107th Birthday

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Charles Landis celebrates her 107th birthday today, with fancy cake, many felicitations and a visit from Philadelphia relatives.

Born in the nearby town of Paradise, her life has spanned the rule of 21 presidents, from James Buchanan to Lyndon Johnson.

Many years of her life were devoted to writing the story of her own family and its part in pioneering this region of Southeastern Pennsylvania.

On the eve of her birthday an interviewer asked: "Was your husband a handsome man?"

"I don't know," Mrs. Landis said, "I never asked him."

DE PAUL BEATS BONNIES FOR FIRST TIME

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"If we had to lose to DePaul it's just as well we got beat now instead of in the NIT."

Maybe Larry Weise, coach of the St. Bonaventure college basketball team, didn't say those words Wednesday night, but he might have after the Bonnies lost to DePaul for the first time ever, 81-76.

It was a sort of preview of a possible rematch in next month's National Invitation Bonnies had accepted a bid to the NIT. DePaul, ninth-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll, had been named earlier this week.

PITT BEATS TEMPLE

The Blue Demons, beaten by the Bonnies 71-67 last season and in three other previous games, withstood a late rally by the Bonnies before 4,265 at their Alumni Gym in Chicago.

Behind by 11 points the Bonnies surged to within three points at 77-74 with two minutes left, but couldn't get any closer as DePaul converted four straight free throws.

In another game involving tourney-bound teams, Pitt, in the NIT, whipped Temple, in the NCAA, 78-67. Louisville, also in the NCAA, humbled St. Francis, Pa., 84-70.

Ohio Univ. edged Miami of Ohio 63-60 for the lead in the Mid-American Conference and Penn State defeated West Virginia 86-76 for its eighth straight victory in other games on the slim national program.

Glenn To Spend Quiet Anniversary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Today is the second anniversary of John H. Glenn Jr.'s orbital flight, but the astronaut-turned-politician isn't planning anything special to mark the occasion.

He is in Columbus, cleaning up last-minute details in preparation for the start of his campaign in March for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio. He is challenging the incumbent, UMSM Sen. Stephen Young.

Glenn has said repeatedly he will not become active politically until his retirement from the Marine Corps is effective at the end of this month. He resigned from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration last month.

SECOND BOMB BLASTS MOTEL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A motel project in suburban Lester, not far from the International Airport, was blasted by dynamite today — for the second time this month.

The million - dollar motel has been the scene of labor strife since last September. The Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia, AFL-CIO, claims work is being done by non-union labor.

Damage at the International Motor Lodge in Delaware County was estimated at $20,000. No one was hurt.

All but three windows in the 146-unit motel were shattered and a section of an 8-by-10 foot wall was blown out. The ceiling and roof of the lobby also were damaged.

In addition to the bombings, there have been a number of mysterious fires at the motel site, and dynamite and paint bombs have been thrown at homes of persons connected with the Fisher Construction Co. of Drexel Hill, Pa., builders.

Warm Greeting By "K" In Snowstorm

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag of Denmark flew into Moscow Wednesday in a blinding snowstorm to a warm greeting from Premier Khrushchev.

Khrushchev told Krag, "Your visit will be an important contribution to strengthening relations between our countries and to the cause of peace in northern Europe."

TWO STUDENTS DUEL OVER GIRL

OXFORD, England (AP) — Two Oxford University students fought a duel with sabres over a girl Wednesday. One came away bleeding from cuts on his arm.

"It was all done in good fun," said Rory Donellan, 22, a law student and an expert swordsman who slashed the arm of Adam Poynten, 20, another law student.

University authorities saw nothing funny about it. They reprimanded both, confined them to their college quarters, and pondered what further action to take.

ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

The campus newspaper, Cherwell, said Poynton had referred to Evelyn Mottson, an Oxford student, as "thick—and made it quite clear he was referring to her mind and body."

Donellan challenged and Poynton accepted, although he said he had never handled a sword. They met at dawn on the green lawns of Magdalen College while most students slept. A medical student stood by as doctor.

They kissed swords, Donellan lunged and Poynton began retreating with cuts on his arms. The duel was stopped after 10 minutes. The two students retired and clinked whisky glasses in a toast to Miss Mottson.

Miss Mottson said she was embarrassed to learn they had been dueling over her—embarrassed and flattered.

HEADS HOME STUDY UNIT

Mrs. Jack C. Webb, the former Miss Winifred Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Potts, York Springs, has been appointed director of the home study division of the American Savings and Loan Institute, of Chicago.

MRS. WEBB

Mrs. Webb joined the institute staff as instructor in June of 1953, became the assistant director of home study at the beginning of 1958, and was appointed director last month. She holds the institute's graduate diploma. Her previous education was received at Shippensburg State College and Temple University where she received her bachelor's and master's degrees and at the University of Chicago where she did several years of postgraduate work in finance and economics. At Temple she held a full scholarship and at Chicago several research assistantships.

Mrs. Webb's background also includes teaching at several universities and in secondary schools.

TO CALL FBI IN KIDNAP TRIAL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — FBI agents were listed as followup witnesses today to Wednesday's testimony by Frank Sinatra Sr. at the trial of three men accused of kidnapping the singer's son.

The FBI men were expected to describe the manner in which they recorded a series of telephone calls that Sinatra said led to the ransoming of his 20-year-old son.

Frank Jr., abducted Dec. 8 at a Lake Tahoe, Nev., motel, was released unharmed near his mother's home in the Bel-Air district of Los Angeles 56 hours later.

Sinatra, 48, denied Wednesday that the kidnapping was a hoax or a publicity stunt.

He offered details on a series of eight telephone calls — all from the same man—which he said resulted in his paying $240,000 in ransom.

On trial are John Irwin, 42; Barry Keenan and Joseph Amsler, both 23.

Foreman Killed In 8-Story Fall

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A construction foreman was killed when a scaffold fell from a new apartment building, but another workman saved himself when he grabbed a piece of steel after he fell five stories.

Killed in the accident Wednesday was John Junior Swecker, 39.

Raymond Brooks, who climbed to safety after the plunge, said, "God was with me." He was injured slightly.

PRACTICAL ADVICE

CORRY, Pa. (AP)—A Saturday night raid on a cockfight prompted the local Elks Club to run this advertisement in the Corry Journal today about the club's Sunday chicken dinner:

"If you can't fight 'em, eat 'em."

BURNS TO DEATH

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Hugh Coakley, 84, of Chester, was burned to death Wednesday in a fire in his second-floor bedroom.

Police said Coakley, who for many years was baseball coach of the Chester Boys Club, apparently had been smoking in bed.

Snow Muffles Countryside; A Day To Walk

It was a beautiful morning for a walk Wednesday, as those who left home early may have discovered as they abandoned their cars in a snow bank.

The countryside was wrapped in muffled sounds, and in the far distance one could hear the persistent growlings of tenacious snowplows and tractors. The silence was broken occasionally by the sudden swish of snow sliding off a houseroof, and by the less frequent crunch of a hand operated snow shovel on a cement walk or a gravel path.

It was a day - of - days for the children . . . the much anticipated "no school" holiday. And they took full advantage of the opportunity to get wet while clearing the sidewalks. By 9 o'clock there was a growing population of snowmen along the main highways as country youngsters amused themselves in the front yards.

The trees looked as though a huge egg beater had splashed meringue over the sides of a mammoth mixing bowl as chunks of heavy wet snow clung to the branches of leafless trees and evergreen boughts. The north sides of buildings were splattered with swatches of jagged snow.

The greatest consolation to everyone was the fact that the utility wires had successfully shaken the heavy precipitation, and every appliance in the house was operating according to schedule.

Face $3,000 Fines Under Game Laws

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Richard Mark Burnat, 29, of Wilkes-Barre, and Dale Oney, 42, of Harvey's Lake R. 1, were scheduled to appear in court today to appeal fines assessed against them on charges of illegal deer kills.

However, bad weather Wednesday postponed many cases on the county court docket, resulting in a backlog. If the appeals do not come up today, they will be held for the April term of the court.

Burnat was fined $3,200 and Oney $3,000. They were found guilty of a total of 18 violations of the state game laws.

PRICES DOWN ON EGGS, FISH

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Declining prices for eggs and fish in many sections of the country make it easier to plan economical Lenten meals, housewives will find this weekend.

Prices are expected to run a little below year-ago levels most of 1964 because of higher output.

Red meat features are ample again this week, with beef and pork prices continuing to run below year-ago levels.

PLAN PROGRAM ON SELF-CARE FOR STRICKEN

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Department of Health, in cooperation with local officials, will begin a program in Luzerne County next month aimed at rehabilitating stroke victims.

In announcing plans for the program Wednesday, Gov. Scranton said it is designed to promote self-care and independence in persons who have suffered strokes.

The program, scheduled to get underway March 5, will be administered by the regional office of the Health Department in Kingston and will be supervised by Dr. Joseph F. Drier, Wilkes-Barre.

Free clinics will be held at Valley Crest, The Luzerne County Home, in Wilkes-Barre.

The governor's office said the program has the support of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Heart Association and the Luzerne County Medical Society.

Stroke victims will be referred by family physicians to the clinic where they will be examined and evaluated. The services of a physician, a physical therapist, a medical social worker, and public health nurses will be made available.

"The stroke patient will be given corrective exercises, will be advised on items such as diet and will be encouraged to keep working toward recovery," said Dr. Richard J. Potter, medical director of the Health Department's regional office.

Public Schools Must Teach World Religion To Develop Moral Values, Boehm Says

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Dr. Charles Boehm, Pennsylvania's superintendent of public instruction, says it is entirely legal—and necessary — for students in elementary and secondary schools to be taught about the great religions of the world as part of seminars on moral, ethical and spiritual values.

Dr. Boehm, in remarks Wednesday at the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators, said "the public schools can and should help to determine moral attitudes. It must help to reduce prejudice, the removal of religious prejudice being essecially important."

CITES SURVEY

Dr. Boehm emphasized, particularly, the need to teach morality to boys and girls. He cited a recent survey that nine of 10 high school seniors in Crawford County, Pa., approved cheating on tests, and about the same percentage approved submitting someone else's work as their own.

"There is reason to believe that we have misjudged adolescents," he declared.

"We cannot ignore opportunities to give youth a chance to participate in seminar discussions on honest and truthfulness as well as other moral, ethical and spiritual values."

Dr. Boehm participated in a closing - day panel on "The Lord's Prayer, the Bible, and the Supreme Court."

COURT RULING

Pennsylvania was involved in last June's Supreme Court ruling, which banned the required reading of the Bible and the Lord's Prayer in the classroom at the opening of each school day.

"We interpret it (the ruling) to mean that within the public educational establishment there shall not be any worship or religious ritual," Dr. Boehm said. "This implies no derogation of religion.

"The public schools in Pennsylvania do not teach religion and do not propose to do so. However, the inculcation of moral, ethical and spiritual values has always been an important objective and it is in this area that Pennsylvania proposes to offer more positive programs in its public schools than are generally in existence.

ETHICS IN STUDY

"The major program in Pennsylvania for inculcating moral and ethical values is in certain units of instruction in the humanities and social studies, which include ethics, the study of right and wrong human values.

"Philosophy, literature, the arts, and history are the subject matter drawn upon in the study of these universal issues.

"Since religion is indigenous to our culture, I believe we can come to a satisfactory solution of the problems ahead if we avoid religious ritual in the public schools, if we avoid promoting the interest of any one religion or of all religions, and if we, in a broad sense, treat objectively the role and significance of religion in our history and literature."

DISCUSSES CHRISTMAS

Dr. Boehm said he doesn't believe it would violate federal law if a school presents a tableaux showing the Nativity in the context of a historical event, or if it has a Christmas tree.

"In Christian communities," he said, "Christmas and Good Friday would be appropriate days not to hold classes. In Jewish communities, it would be justifiable not to have school on the leading Jewish holidays."

He said it simply is not practical to hold classes when 40 to 80 per cent of the pupils are absent.

CUBANS LEAVE FLORIDA PORT

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-nine freed Cuban fishermen boarded their four trawlers today to sail for their homeland but were delayed, apparently by mechanical trouble on one of the boats.

The Coast Guard cutters Cape Darby and Cape York and a patrol boat stood by to escort the trawlers into international waters. The Cubans and their Castro-owned boats were captured 18 days ago for poaching in U.S. waters.

Czech diplomat Frantisek Telicka of Washington paid fines of $500 each Wednesday for the four captains of the boats on behalf of the Fidel Castro government. The captains were given suspended setences in addition to the fines. Judge Thomas Caro dismissed similar charges against 25 crewmen, saying they merely took orders.

The Coast Guard took the fishermen into custody Feb. 2 off Florida's Dry Tortugas Islands and turned them over to the state since the applicable federal statute provided no penalties.

GAUDY ATTIRE TRIPS GUNMAN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A man wielding a .22 caliber pistol held up the Beneficial Finance Co., here Wednesday, fleeing with $1,200.

He was arrested five minutes later when police spotted him because of his distinctive dress.

DEFENSE SAYS DALLAS LACKS UNBIASED JURY

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Legal duelling over selection of a jury for Jack Ruby's murder trial goes into the third day today, intensified by new defense contentions that 12 impartial jurors cannot be found in Dallas.

Not a juror has been accepted from the first 16 persons questioned.

In the record is a dramatic plea by Melvin M. Belli, chief defense counsel for Ruby, to move the trial to some other city in Texas.

In urging Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown to grant his motion, Belli said:

"You can't find a city with finer men of integrity than in Dallas. They are men of family, men of God, men of the church. They are willing to do their civic duty."

But, he argued, "so much has happened here," that it is difficult for such men to do this civil duty conscientiously.

MOTION OVERRULED

Brown overruled the motion.

Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas, two days after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here. Oswald had been charged with murdering the president. Ruby is charged with murder with malice and the state will demand the death penalty.

FORMED OPINION

Dancer said he had formed an opinion about Ruby's guilt or innocence after seeing a rerun of the televised scene of the shooting.

"I would try to lay it aside if I am selected as a juror," he said, "but as to what effect my subconscious feelings would have, I just can't say."

Belli shook hands with Dancer and said, "I want to thank you."

Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade, asked whether he believes the defense is trying to obtain a jury in Dallas, replied, "No, I do not."

He told reporters the defense lawyers think Judge Brown will transfer the case from Dallas "if they carry out the trial long enough."

OVERWEIGHT AF CAPTAIN IS CHARGED

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — Air Force Capt. Harold K. Sacane, 31, of Sunnyside, Pa., must show cause today why he should be retained in the service when he goes before a special board to answer charges that he had a "defective attitude" toward orders to reduce.

The charge was filed last Aug. 16, when Sacane weighed 235 pounds. He now weighs 223 pounds, two pounds more than what the Air Force says he should weigh for his 6 foot, 2-inch frame.

The 11-year-veteran of the service is stationed at Pease Air Force Base. It is believed to be the first case of its type involving an officer since the Air Force "weight regulations" went into effect in August.

The Air Force says Sacane will be asked to show cause why he should be retained when he was "either unable or unwilling to maintain standards of an Air Force officer as pointed out by his superiors on numerous occasions since 1962."

ABBOTTSTOWN—Gary Landis was guest of honor at a surprise 16th birthday party Saturday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landis.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Chubb and family, Lancaster, spent the weekend with Mr. Chubb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chubb.

Mrs. Charles Slothour is spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. William Angle and family, in York.

Mrs. Margie Hoke has returned to her home after spending several months with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Emig and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baker are vacationing in the south and southwest.

Miss Gayle Alwine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs, Earl Alwine, and Frances Elder, patients at the York Memorial Osteopathic Hospital, have been discharged.

The local post office will be closed all day Saturday, February 22. The loby will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and mail will be received and dispatched at 7:30 a.m. only.

Miss Barbe Anthony entertained the varsity basketball team and the cheerleaders to celebrate the school victory over Bermudian Springs. Twenty-three guests attended.

Sister Eusebius of the Paradise Protectory School, is a patient in the Hanover Hospital. She suffered a broken hip in a fall Sunday.

The Abbottstown Boy Scout Troop 127 hiked the Appalachian Trail last Saturday from Route 94 to Laurel Lake and back to Hunters Run, a distance of 18 miles. Those who participated were: Vincent and Stephen Aumen, Leslie Albright, Robert Cappetta, Stanley Eisenhart, David Kuhn, Victor Kinneman, Mike Gebhart, Joe O'Brien, David Messinger and John Mummert.

A skating party will be held Saturday evening at the Mary Jane Roller Skating Rink, York Springs, at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any of the Scouts.

The Flaming Knights Club, organized in 1955, has been dissolved. All funds and equipment have been disposed of. A donation of $100 and all records, playing and amplifying equipment have been donated to the local fire company.

Cuban Exiles Say Missiles In Caves

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban exile publication claims missiles are being hidden in caves drilled in the Cayajabos area of western Pinar Del Rio Province.

Rafael Oller, editor of the exile magazine Dignity, said only Soviet military personnel are allowed to enter the area.

He said his information came from underground sources in Cuba.

Kissing Landmark To Be Transferred

CARTHAGE, Ill. (AP)—Kissing Rock, a romantic landmark of the Carthage College campus for a half century, will be moved to Kenosha, Wis., along with the rest of the college.

The college will be relocated in the summer. Members of Beta Phi Epsilon fraternity have volunteered to truck the two-ton piece of granite to the new campus.

The stone was placed on the Carthage campus by the class of 1913. The Carthage tradition is that any male student finding a girl sitting on the rock is entitled to a kiss.

Cooking Is Fun

By Cecily Brownstone

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of the best recipes we've ever tested comes from our mailbox, sent to us recently by a friend. She writes:

"Dear Cecily — Anyone who has ever attended a wedding reception in the South has met up with cheese straws — a rich pastry cut into finger-size lengths with a corrugated cutter such as you would use for making crinkle-cut French fries. This is not an ordinary cheese pastry made by mixing a little grated cheese into pie dough, but rather a pastry lavish with cheese and butter and always seasoned with cayenne pepper.

"My Aunt Martha (Mrs. Jack Hamilton of Smithfield, North Carolina) makes the best cheese straws in the world. Not satisfied to follow the age-old formula of a pound each of cheese and butter to four cups of flour, she uses a pound of cheese and three-quarters pound of butter to three-and-one-half cups of flour. It is her own carefully conceived blend. Aunt Martha says that the mixture must be blended with the fingers. After making the cheese straws, I know that direction is terribly important.

TEA CRACKERS

"When I was growing up in North Carolina, we always had cheese straws in the house when Mother was giving a tea or a bridge party, or when she had volunteered to make them for someone else's party. But Aunt Martha, to the delight of us children, made cheese straws 'just to have in the house.' And all these years she's kept right on making them to send to her children at college and her son in the service. Now she packs the cheese straws off to her granddaughter who adores them as much as do our generation."

When we made these cheese straws, everyone of our tasters asked for the recipe. Here are a few hints from our testing. This dough, though as rich as Croesus, rolls out beautifully. For easy rolling, we use a pastry cloth with a wooden and metal frame that keeps the cloth from sliding because it holds it firmly to the edge of a counter or a table. The corrugated cutter needed is an inexpensive tool; ours has a stainless steel blade and cost 47 cents.

AUNT MARTHA'S CHEESE STRAWS

1 pound sharp cheddar cheese
3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ pound (3 sticks) well chilled butter

er. Place grated chees in refrigerator to keep cold. Measure flour into a large waxed paper; mix in cayenne pepper and salt. Cut butter into small pieces (cut off pats then cut each pat into sixths, using a small paring knife). Blend butter into flour with fingers until butter is like coarse small crumbs. Add grated cheese and blend with fingers into flour mixture until pastry is yellow all the way through. If ingredients are cold, pastry will not stick to hands. Roll out one-quarter of the dough at a time on a lightly floured pastry cloth to ¼-inch thickness. Using a ruler as a guide, cut pastry into strips 2½-inches wide, then with a corrugated cutter, cut into straws about 1¼-inches wide. Place about 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes or until straws begin to brown very, very lightly around the edges. Makes about 10½ dozen. Store in a tightly covered metal paper. Cheese straws keep this box between layers of waxed way for several weeks. Freeze for longer storage.

Does your family favor chocolate? Then you may be interested in this new recipe for chocolate chiffon pie that is rich tasting but economical because it uses evaporated milk rather than whipped cream. When we tried the recipe, we found the filling set so rapidly that we were able to serve the dessert shortly after it was made.

NEW CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tall can (15 ounces) evaporated milk
1 package (6 ounces or 1 cup) semisweet chocolate pieces
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
9-inch crumb crust

In a 2½-quart saucepan, sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water. Mix in well the sugar, salt, ⅔ cup of the undiluted evaporated milk and the chocolate. Stir constantly over low heat until gelatin dissolves and chocolate melts — 5 or 6 minutes. Remove from heat; beat with a rotary beater until chocolate is blended. Stir in vanilla. Refrigerate, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon — about 15 minutes.

Meanwhile pour remaining undiluted evaporated milk into ice-cube tray and place in freezer until ice crystals form around edge — 12 to 15 minutes. Turn into a small mixing bowl; beat until stiff. Add cream of tartar; beat until very stiff. Fold whipped evaporated milk into chilled chocolate mixture and turn into prepared pie crust; fill as full as you can and refrigerate pie about 5 minutes or until top is set, then spread with any remaining filling (left at room temperature). Chill until firm. Top with whipped cream if desired.

Note: For the crumb crust, use a standard recipe made with graham crackers, corn flakes or nuts.

YANK LOCATES ANCIENT HOME IN ENGLAND

MILDENHALL, England (AP) — An American Air Force colonel has uncovered a Stone Age home in England during his sparetime efforts as an amateur archaeologist.

The home is believed by archaeologists to be that of old or middle Stone Age man and is dated by them from about 12,000 B.C. It is one of the oldest human habitations ever found in this country.

The amateur archaeologist is Col. Thomas Clyde Kelly, 46, commander of the U.S. Air Force base in this Suffolk market town about 20 miles from Cambridge. He did all his work in his leisure time, aided by volunteers from his camp. It took him 18 months.

A local resident, who said he had found flint implements on farmland about a mile from the base, gave him the clue to the diggings.

Col. Kelly, who formerly lived in Oklahoma City, plans to settle in San Antonio when he returns to the United States, possibly next year.

WILL ENTER COLLEGE

"As soon as I retire," he said, "I shall go to study archaeology in the University of Texas. I have time now for a second career.

"I have been an amateur up to now, but I plan to be a professional archaeologist in the future."

The colonel is a knowledgeable amateur.

He told how he had found two semicircular black patches in the yellow sand. These, he said, enclosed an occupation area about 12 feet across which contained a hearth and a rich collection of flint instruments.

He said he surmises that 14 dark spots in the soil were post holes for a crude hut.

"We would call it a 'wickiup' back home," he commented.

"Typologically, they seem to be late palaeolithic, with a dating between 10,000 and 15,000 B.C.," he said. "Taken all together, the flints may mark a transition between late palaeolithic and mesolithic cultures."

KWAN-FU, Taiwan (AP) — Taiwan's largest aboriginal tribe, the Amis, once were headhunters. On the 30th anniversary of mission work among them, they have formed a presbytery, including 100 churches, as part of the Presbyterian Church of Formosa. The occasion was celebrated with singing and Bible-memory contests, athletic events and folk dancing — but no headhunting.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Americans stop being mad at Fidel Castro long enough to reflect about the shoe on the other foot, Red China comes to mind —and it isn't pleasant.

Since the Red Chinese are not the mousy type, this country can be sure its desire to eliminate Castro and communism from this hemisphere is matched by Red China's ardor to rid all Asia of Western influence.

The more so since this country has some history of doing unto others what it doesn't want others to do to the United States. The classic example was in missiles.

MISSILES IN BACKGROUND

The Russians were irritated to no end when the United States put missiles in their backyard, in Turkey and Italy. But when Russia put missiles in Cuba the United States screamed and there was a crisis.

This was resolved when Russia pulled its missiles out of Cuba and this country took its missiles out of Turkey and Italy.

One of this country's great embarrassments of the century was to see communism not only get a foothold in its backyard, in Cuba, but survive and, more or less, flourish.

CASTRO IS DANGER

Castro is more than embarrassment. He's a danger. While he lasts he is an inspiration to other Latin American Communists to try to do likewise in their countries.

Besides, Cuba can be a training school for Red guerrillas and agents from all over Latin America. When they get their diplomas they can return to their own countries to practice their special kind of scholarship.

JUST AS INSUFFERABLE

Meanwhile, the United States is up to its neck in Southeast Asia, in the Chinese Communists' backyard, trying to keep the people there pro-Western and anti-Communist or, if not anti-Communist, at least neutral.

This is as insufferable for the Red Chinese as Castro is for the United States. So they can be expected to try to dominate their continent as soon as they feel ready, particularly since they seem to have an even fiercer Communist missionary zeal than the Russians.

But the two giants, the United States and Red China, are momentarily frustrated in their ambitions. As of now the United States clearly doesn't seem to know what to do next about Castro.

GRUESOME POSSIBILITIES

A direct attack on his island would risk some gruesome possibilities, like war with Russia, alienating the rest of Latin America, and losing trust, respect and influence elsewhere.

As for the indirect method of attack—by Cuban exiles with American backing—this country has painful recollections of what happened when it was tried. This was President Kennedy's disastrous failure in 1961.

Right now in Southeast Asia's South Viet Nam—where this country has put over 15,000 troops and more than $5 billion in aid—the United States is trying to prevent a takeover by North Viet Nam's Red guerrillas.

SEEMS INEVITABLE

The Red Chinese, who have split with Russia and respect American nuclear weapons so long as they don't have any, so far have avoided direct participation in South Viet Nam and the rest of Southeast Asia.

They don't have to hurry. They tower over their neighbors, as this country does over its neighbors in this hemisphere. When they feel strong enough, and that the time is right, it seems inevitable they will move.

Even now, despite all its efforts, the United States isn't making much progress in South Viet Nam. But if tomorrow the Red guerrillas from North Viet Nam abandon the fight, it could hardly be more than temporary truce.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimates the present population of sea otters at around 40,000 scattered from the rockbound coast of California to the Aleutian and Kuril Islands. Fifty years ago there were less than a thousand.

BRITISH SEND TROOPS TO KEEP CYPRUS PEACE

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats negotiated privately today on proposals to keep the peace in Cyprus as Britain began flying nearly 2,000 more troops to the eastern Mediterranean island.

Security Council debate on the Cyprus crisis was in recess until Friday afternoon, and there were no sure prospects for agreement on proposals for an international force to take over enforcement of the shaky cease-fire between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities.

ASKS ENDORSEMENT

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson called on the council Wednesday to endorse a Western proposal to bolster the British troops on Cyprus with soldiers from other nations.

Seeking to avoid Soviet intrusion into the dispute, Stevenson pointedly added that composition of the force would require the approval of Cyprus and her three guarantors under the 1960 independence treaties — Britain, Turkey and Greece.

Stevenson also urged the council to call on Cyprus and her three protectors to designate U.N. Secretary-General U Thant as an impartial mediator.

The U.S. delegate spoke after Chief Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko charged the 1960 treaties had been imposed on Cyprus and denounced the British force as a Western plot to establish a North Atlantic Treaty Organization bridgehead in the eastern Mediterranean.

Backing the Greek Cypriot government of President Makarios, Fedorenko demanded that the council first give guarantees for Cyprus' territorial integrity and against aggression. The Greek Cypriots demand council guarantees. They fear the Western powers will support Turkish Cypriot demands for partition of the island, and that Turkey will invade to aid the Turkish Cypriots, outnumbered 4 to 1 in a population of nearly 600,000.

ACCUSES ALLIANCE

Fedorenko accused the Atlantic alliance powers of doing everything possible to keep the issue from coming before the council and said the presence of British, Greek and Turkish troops violates Cypriot sovereignty.

Britain's Sir Patrick Dean replied that his country had intervened at the invitation of the Cyprus government and that Britain deserved thanks for taking on the peace mission.

Pete Ward of the Chicago White Sox led American League third basemen in hitting last season with .295. Boston's Frank Malzone was next with .291.

untrained labor group in a world which increasingly does not need them, the author said.

Although the author offered no complete solution to the problem, she recommended that women could change their present status by returning to college and electing courses which would challenge their intellect as well as prepare them for the years ahead. She also recommended that they take an "active but original part" in community life.

BUSINESS SESSION

Mrs. Haas is a teacher of English in the Biglerville High School and the mother of three school age children. Dramatics coach at the school, she has been active in many community projects.

A business meeting in charge of Mrs. William M. Lott, preceded the program. Mrs. James W. Sheppard, chairman of the eye testing program for preschool children, explained the work of her committee and asked for additional volunteers.

Mrs. Richard Schubart announced the group will sponsor "Arms and the Man" at the Gettysburg Summer Theater on June 23, 24 and 25.

stopped them, they told him they were looking for a certain person. A check disclosed no one of that name in Chambersburg, and the three who had been going to the various apartments and the two who were taken into custody in the car had varying stories concerning when they left Chambersburg and where they had been and what they had been doing since then. As a result, Chambersburg held them on suspicion and began to query other police departments to see if there had been any burglaries in their areas.

The five, who did not testify on advice of their attorney, Gerald Hagarman, were returned to jail following the hearing.

People In The News

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Three U.S. astronauts will spend the next five days going down instead of up.

Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., Malcolm Scott Carpenter, Virgil I. Grissom and their wives arrived in Aspen Wednesday for five days of skiing.

TORONTO (AP)—A piece of scenery hit comedian Sid Caesar at Toronto's O'Keefe Theater, paralyzing his left arm, but Caesar finished the show.

Caesar's arm was back to normal.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Stan Musial, new head of the President's Physical Fitness Council, says he's in complete accord with the government report that smoking is a health hazard.

Musial, one of baseball's great stars, was appointed by President Johnson to head the council last Friday. He was asked if he'd urge Johnson to take a stand against smoking.

"I haven't been on the job long enough yet to know what I'm supposed to tell the President," he replied.

Musial was in Atlantic City to attend a conference of educators.

JASPER, Ala. (AP) — Quote of the day: former Gov. James E. (Kissing Jim) Folsom, explaining why he filed for Democratic nomination as president of the Alabama Public Service Commission: "I have eight children, six left to educate, and will have four in college at the same time. Need I say more."

Quickly put together dessert: Drain canned sweet red cherries and fold into sweetened whipped cream and cold cooked rice; chill. If you like you may thicken the sweet syrup from the cherries with cornstarch as a sauce for the dessert.

STEEL ASKS "HOLD LINE" ON TARIFFS

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer, called on the government today to hold the line on steel tariffs unless fair competitive conditions with foreign producers are restored.

Henry J. Wallace, the corporation's administrative vice president, told the Tariff Commission that steel imports are now excessive and have already caused serious damage to the U.S. economy.

The 5.5 million tons of steel that producers imported last year would have generated up to $1 billion in steel company revenues if it had been produced domestically, Wallace said.

He also contended last year's record imports reduced domestic steel employment by 48,000 and payrolls by as much as $400 million.

PART OF APPEAL

His statement to the commission was part of the industry's appeal to U.S. trade negotiators for what it terms fair competition with foreign producers.

The industry has called for a bar on the dumping of foreign steel in this country at cut-rate prices and a lowering of trade barriers by other steel producing nations. The industry contends foreign firms are selling steel in the United States at prices lower than the sale price at home.

International trade negotiations are scheduled for later in the year at Geneva. Other industry witnesses have testified before a committee set up by U.S. trade officials.

Wallace said most foreign steel producing nations are still expanding their facilities although most of them are already equipped to handle their domestic requirements.

"A considerable part of this expansion is reported to be for planned exportation to the United States," he said. "Thus, we should expect that foreign exporters will make every effort further to increase their already huge markets in this country."

As part of this effort, Wallace added, their representatives at Geneva will probably be prepared to seek further tariff concessions from the United States and modification or repeal of U. S. antidumping and buy American laws.

"I believe there should be no reduction in U.S. rates of duty until, by governmental action, fair competitive conditions for the sale of steel products are restored not only in the United States, but also in foreign markets," Wallace added.

The per capita use of paper in the United States takes the wood growth from about three-quarters of an acre of commercial forest.

FRENCH DOWN GABON REVOLT REINSTATE MBA

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) President Leon Mba of Gabon resumed office today after French troops put down a two-day military revolt in his West African country.

Unconfirmed reports said 27 persons — 25 Gabonese and 2 Frenchmen—died in the fighting Wednesday that ended the rebellion.

Mba, 62, a champion of close association with France, said in a radio broadcast that legislative elections would be held as scheduled Sunday. Mba had dissolved the National Assembly and called new elections in an attempt to freeze out opposition leader Jean-Hilaire Aubame, whom they proclaimed provisional premier Wednesday.

Mba said that members of the revolutionary committee who led the revolt have been imprisoned.

Rebel soldiers seized key government building in Libreville at midnight Tuesday and captured Mba in the presidential palace.

The French army airlifted some 400 to 600 troops to Gabon from the neighboring Congo Republic, Senegal, Cameroon and the Central African Republic. The revolt was broken in an hour-long battle in which the French troops seized Baraka Camp, the capital's main army base.

France is pledged by a mutual protection treaty to help its former colony maintain internal security, and the French Foreign Ministry said troops were sent in response to a request for help transmitted through diplomatic channels.

Scientists Sow Grass Seed To Eliminate "Gold Dust"

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Ever since gold was discovered in 1886, South Africa has been faced with a growing problem. What to do with the man-made mountains of towering golden sand, the residue of crushed gold-bearing rock, after its glittering wealth has been extracted.

The bustling city of Johannesburg, known as the "Golden City," is often obscured by drifting sand storms as high winds whip across the gold-mining sites.

The gold-bearing reef which extends southwards in an arc from Johannesburg for a distance of 130 miles has an estimated 25,000 sand dumps many of them containing up to 25 million tons of sand.

"It's like living in a continuous sand storm," commented Dr. A. L. James, director of the Chamber of Mines research laboratories, "but we believe we have found the solution by using common grass."

SEED BARREN AREAS

Each morning the man-made deserts come alive with goggled African workers scattering grass seed over the barren sandy wastes. The areas are sectioned off by two-foot-high reed fences, which prevents the sand from drifting and gives the grass a change to germinate.

Research into the growth of gold mine dumps began four years ago. Four hundred different types of grass, trees and shrubs were planted. Research continued until only 14 types of grass showed any sign of germinating on the sandy wastes.

Today, some mine dumps have been transformed into lush grass-covered mountains, reducing the problem of air and water pollution and allowing adjacent areas to be developed by industrial and residential concerns.

CONSTANT BATTLE

Dr. James said, "It's an endless task. For each mine dump we cover with grass, others continue to grow, as long as the extraction of South Africa's golden wealth continues. Which it does, day and night.

"At one time it was suggested that we sell the sand to building contractors. But who wants 25 million tons of sand, and that's just one dump. We have 25,000 others."

Some of the older dumps do, however, contain a certain economic value. Extracting uranium from them has become big business.

RUINS MACHINERY

Industrialists maintain that delicate machinery becomes ruined by the drifting particles of sand. Health authorities are concerned at the pollution of water supplies and food manufacturers are reluctant to build factories, lest their product becomes contaminated with a gritty sand. Consequently, the areas, surrounding the mining towns become unsalable and useless.

Grassing the great sandy mountains around Johannesburg is a long-term plan which will take years to complete.

"If we don't do something about it now," explained Dr. James, there's every possibility that Johannesburg and other gold mining towns may one day find themselves particlly buried under a man-made desert."

Owner Retrieves Wandering Goat

A goat belonging to Boone wandered into town and began chasing children. Police picked up the animal and Boone was charged with permitting a goat to run at large.

He had to pay a $15 fine before police would return his goat.

BRITAIN SHORT OF STUNT MEN

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP) — Britain is running short of men who are willing to risk their necks for pay — in the movies.

Theatrical agencies report that top-flight stunt men now number about 25 — and they're the men who learned their hazardous trade the hard way 20 or so years ago.

In World War II they were shown how to fight with bayonnets and bare hands, to fall softly from heights and to drive vehicles safely at breakneck speed. These wartime skills now serve them well in the make-believe world of the films.

The elite of the stunt world can be spotted in movie barroom brawls. The everyday stuntmen — there are many of this category — mill about swapping "punches" on the sawdust floor.

The elite are the ones who are knocked through banisters, down flights of stairs and are hurled through the swinging doors.

GROWING OLD

The handful of elite stuntmen are aging into their 40s and many are thinking of other less energetic careers.

Some already prefer being the man who tells the high diver where and when to fall rather than diving himself.

Top stunt men need more than courage for their task. Essential for the work are nerve, physical fitness and a sense of timing.

One casting agency director put it "Stunt men must have brains or they won't last long."

The increase of epic pictures has brought an increase in the number of stunts and the need for stunt men.

An ordinary stunt man makes about 80 pounds ($224) a week when he works.

For the elite in the field the pay gets higher with the falls. Falling from heights pays 1 pound ($2.80) for every foot on the way down. For a really big stunt like crashing a big car stunt men have earned up to 250 pounds ($700) a day.

In stunts like these the stunt man is usually "doubling" for a star whose absence from the production because of injury would cost thousands of dollars a day.

350-Pound Santa Needs No Padding

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Most men playing Santa Claus have to allow extra room in the costume for padding. Not so Charles Wolfe.

Before he could take the role of Santa at a shopping center in nearby Leetsdale where he's regularly employed, Wolfe had to have a special costume made at a reported cost of $150. Wolfe weighs 350 pounds.

4 BOYS THROW ROCKS AT CARS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lawrence Muckley, 13, has been sent to the Youth Development Center and three other boys have been placed on probation for throwing stones at vehicles on the Schuylkill Expressway.

It was testified before Judge J. Sydney Hoffman Tuesday that the windshield of a Greyhound bus driven by John Stipe, 42, of Norristown, was shattered by a stone thrown by the boys. Fragments of glass struck the eyes of Stipe and two passengers, Fred Brooks, 59, of Philadelphia, and his wife, Alma, 40. The Brookses were treated at Wills Eye Hospital.

The four boys were arrested Aug. 3.

Placed on probation were Harry Sallee Jr., 10; Ronald Porrini, 12, and his brother, John, 10.

Adapts Favorites To Stage Dramas

Represented on this season's Broadway schedule with an adaptation of Carson McCullers' "The Ballad of the Sad Cafe," Albee recently took an option for similar transfer of James Purdy's novel "Malcolm."

EYE HOSPITAL OPEN SOON IN BIRMINGHAM

By PHIL ORAMOUS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The vision of a dedicated few eventually will save the vision of many.

"This hospital will have equipment to make possible the saving of many eyes that previously would have been lost," said Dr. Alston Callahan, president of Eye Foundation Inc.

It will be the first hospital in this region, one of less than 10 in the country, devoted entirely to treatment of the eye.

"The hospital will place tools never before used in Alabama in the hands of local ophthalmologists for use in repairing eyes damaged by injury or disease," Dr. Callahan said.

Some of the specialized equipment is yet to be purchased. Money for it will come from private donors.

DONATE $1 MILLION

Donors already have contributed $1 million toward the construction itself. Total cost, including equipment, will nudge $1.5 million.

The Eye Foundation will not only provide adequate bed space for eye patients, but will free beds for general patients in hospitals where eye cases were treated in the past.

There will be two operating rooms; in emergencies two operations can be carried out simutaneously in each.

The light coagulator focuses a thin, powerful light beam on the back of the eye. It is used in cases where the retina has become detached. It causes tiny burns whose scar-tissue reglues the retina to the eye wall.

SPECIAL MICROSCOPE

The operation microscope gives surgeons a highly magnified view of tissue during operations, permitting exact placement of grafts.

Pleoptic equipment is used for training so-called "lazy eyes."

Eye Foundation Hospital was the idea of the late Dr. Roy Kracke, first dean of the University of Alabama Medical College.

Drs. Kracke and Callahan persuaded the late Robert I. Ingalls Sr. to make the initial gift 13 years ago. Ingalls' $25,000 purchased the land in the heart of what is now the Birmingham Medical Center.

At least 75 persons will staff the facility. Two resident eye doctors will be on duty at all times. There will be a resident training program.

The two-story, poured concrete structure is designed with a foundation in the covered entrance way. A large mural, lighted at night, will adorn the entrance.

ADJUSTABLE LIGHT

Adjustable louvres, on three sides of the second story, will adjust the light in rooms, and add a distinctive architectural touch.

Walls of patients' rooms will be covered with pastel fabric. Special tinted window glass cuts down the glare.

"We've been asked to add a wing for ear patients," Dr. Callahan said. "That might be in the future. Meanwhile, if our facilities are available, the ear surgeons are welcome."

"We will never have to say again: 'The child's sight could have been saved, if we only had the necessary equipment.'"

HOPE

The outlook for a child with diabetes in 1900 was pretty bleak. His life expectancy was only 1.3 years. It wasn't until 1922 when a trio of doctors discovered insulin that such a child could take hope. By 1940, although the incidence of diabetes had more than doubled, the child could look forward to 35 or 40 years of life. Today a child stricken by this hereditary disease can generally live a full, complete life. The triumph over diabetes is another step in the continuing battle to defeat disease....a benefit of medical research available to you through your doctor and

HAWBAKER'S COMMITTEE TO HEAR BROWN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate Labor and Industry Committee will meet next Tuesday to start work on the Scranton administration' s unemployment compensation program.

Jack B. Brown, director of the Bureau of Employment Securit, will be called Tuesday morning to present the administration's views, chairman D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin, disclosed today.

Hawbaker also seid he hoped to hear from representatives of labor who oppose the Scranton reform bill.

MAY BE PUBLIC HEARINGS

As for public hearings, Hawbaker said it would be left up to the committee members whether they feel a need.

"We don't want opinions, we want facts," he said. "In public hearings we usually get only opinions. It might be better just to call in some of the people from both sides and hear what they have to say. This is a complicated issue and will require a lot of study."

The administration bills, aimed at stabilizing the state's U.C. fund by increasing the tax on employers and cutting benefit payments by eliminating loopholes, was introduced in the Senate two weeks ago.

PLEDGES ACTION

Some observers feel the program will remain bottled up in committee until after the April 28 primary since many of the House and Senate members are up for re-election this year and face U.C. as a campaign issue.

However, Hawbaker has pledged committee action on the bill as soon as possible.

Both he and his vice chairman, Sen. John H. Ware, R-Chester, were among the group of legislative Republicans who met with Brown Tuesday for a special briefing on the compensation program.

MOST COMPLICATED

"We went to school on the basic fundamentals of the bills," he said after emerging from the two-hour session. "This is the most complicated piece of legislation I have seen since I've been on the hill."

Meanwhile, the administration's plan for creating special nursing centers at mental institutions for aged patients no longer requiring psychiatric care was introduced in the House.

The three bill package, under consideration by the special session of the legislature along with U.C. and three other issues, would permit the Department of Public Welfare to set up nursing home centers on the grounds of existing state institutions.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

Approved and sent to the governor for his signature were $560,760 in money bills to defray unforeseen expenses such as the dramatic Sheppton mine rescue last August.

The Senate also added $23,600 to another bill for use in financing the annual State Farm Show held in January.

Two-Way Mirrors Increase Sales

"The employes may know the mirror is two-way," said glass company operator Albert Taylor. "But they don't know whether the boss is looking or not. It's a psychological thing and usually keeps them busy."

Some libraries also use the mirrors to keep an eye on youngsters inclined to "do a little smooching" among the book stacks.

U. S. Teachers Greatest Export

"Our contribution to other lands should be to save the rest of the world from starving and teach them to help themselves."

Pointing to the value of American export of youth, the mountain-born educator said, "Our high school students would make good teachers in foreign lands."

NEW YORK (AP) — The Western and Eastern worlds have "always applied the same principles to what constitutes holiness," but "have done so with differing emphasis," Donald Attwater writes in a new book of short biographies, "Saints of the East" (P. J. Kenedy and Sons).

'Whiffenpoofs' Still Meet At Mory's Every Monday Eve

By LOU BLACK

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — There it sits, at 306 York St., an unpretentious two-story white clapboard Colonial house with green shutters.

What college man has not at some time raised his glass on high and sung of Mory's, although many of the singers never dreamed there really was such a place?

But Mory's is very real. And so are the Whiffenpoofs, and it really is their song that starts:

"To the tables down at Mory's

"To the place where Louis dwells,

"To the dear old Temple Bar we love so well . . ." *

"It's like finding out that there really was an Alice and she really went to Wonderland." said one surprised newcomer.

PART OF TRADITION

Both Mory's and the Whiffenpoofs are as much a part of Yale University's traditions as the Yale Bowl. Mory's is a private eating club made up of Yale undergraduates and men who joined when they were undergraduates. The Whiffenpoofs are a singing group who gather at Mory's each Monday night.

The members of the Whiffenpoofs are also members of the Yale Glee Club, but the manner of selection to the group of 15 men or less is veiled in mystery by the members.

Louis doesn't dwell at Mory's any more. He's long dead. And Mory's moved away from Temple St. in 1912.

By that time, the Whiffenpoofs were three years old, but Mory's dates much farther back.

STARTED AS ALE HOUSE

Undoubtedly, Frank and Jane Moriarty never dreamed of what their English Ale House would become when they started it on Wooster St. in 1861.

They moved it to Temple St about 1875 and changed the name to Mory's Temple Bar. Louis Linder became the proprietor in 1898.

The varsity quartet of the 1909 Yale Glee Club — James M. Howard, now a retired minister from Fort Pierce, Fla., and the oldest living member of the Whiffenpoofs; Meade Minnigerode, George Pomeroy and Carl Lohmann, veteran secretary of the university who died six years ago — used to meet with a friend, Denton Fowler, at Mory's on Monday nights to eat and to sing.

NAME AND ANTHEM

During one of the sessions, they decided to get a corporate name and a ceremonial anthem.

There was a nonsense ditty by musical comedians John Gilbert and Joseph Cawthorne which said:

"A drivaling griyal yandled its flail

"One day by a whiffenpoof's grave."

The whiffenpoof was referred to in Victor Herbert's "Little Nemo" as a fish that could be infuriated and enticed to the surface of the water by a piece of cheese.

Fowler had seen the show and proposed that the group take the name of Whiffenpoofs. It was adopted immediately because, one member said, "If you infuriated us with food and drink, we came up and squawked."

"The Whiffenpoof Song" came later in the year and was adapted by Minnigerode and Pomeroy from Rudyard Kipling's "Gentleman Rankers."

The melody was already in existence. "When we saig it for the first time that evening at Mory's, we knew that this was IT," said Mr. Howard. "One can almost hear Lohmann's characteristic exclamation, 'Gentlemen, this is immense!' "

By the time Mory's was organized into a private club — Mory's Association — by Louis Linder and loyal Yale graduates, the Whiffenpoofs' had been operating as a group for three years.

INITIALS ON TABLE

The list of living Whiffenpoofs — 445 regulars and 10 honorary members at the most recent roll call — includes composer Cole Porter, former U.S. Sen. Prescott Bush, society band leader Ben Cutler and singer Lanny Ross, among others.

All of their initials are carved on the table around which the Whiffenspoofs traditionally gather. The table also has the initials of Miss Cecile Marie Charlotte Jeanette Murphy, who was made an honorary member in 1910 when she came here as Ted Coy's date for the junior prom.

Carved on the same table with all the initials — it's a huge table — is the Whiffenpoof emblem, which looks nothing like a fish. Instead, it is a bird with a horse's neck, mint leaves for wings and a sizzle stick for a perch.

Mory's also serves lunch and dinner daily and members of the club describe the food as good, the atmosphere enjoyable and the straight-backed chairs as too hard for comfort.

The Whiffenpoofs make numerous public appearances, and have even sung in Russia. And always, in the course of their concerts, they sing of Mory's the place where Louis dwells.

EXPECT 1,830 NEW POSITIONS ON STATE JOBS

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Commerce Secretary John K. Tabor says 1,830 new jobs are expected to result from industrial loans tentatively approved by the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

Tabor, chairman of the PIDA board which acted on the loans Tuesday, said the jobs would net a total payroll of $7,098,000.

Included was the largest single industrial loan in PIDA history—$2,416,437 to the Towanda Area Industrial Development Corp. for construction of a new plant for the Masonite Corp. of Chicago.

Tabor said that plant alone would create an estimated 477 new jobs.

In other action, CAN-DO, Inc., of Hazleton received credits of $126,343 and $79,938 to help finance two new community projects.

FINAL APPROVAL

The board also gave final approval to previously announced loan applications for a total of $663,574, including an application by the Greater Pottsville Industrial Development Corporation for a loan of $577,574 to be used by Detroiter Mobile Homes, Inc., which produces mobile homes, for the construction of a new building in a branch plant operation.

Loan applications given tentative approval included:

By the Greater Hazleton Community-Area New Development Organization, Inc., for a loan of $528,000 to be used for the construction of a new building. Within two years, an estimated 428 new jobs are expected to be created.

By CAN DO, Inc., for a loan of $320,000 to be used for construction of a new building which will, within two years, create an estimated 550 new jobs.

Middle Of Road Marriage Lasted

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A marriage which started in the middle of an Arkansas road has passed the 50-year-mark.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Wise said their wedding was performed in the street "because we wanted to keep the marriage a secret." Wise, recalling the ceremony September 14, 1913, near Mountain Home, Ark., said, "After the Sunday service we stopped the minister as he was walking down the road. We had our witnesses and he opened his Bible and tied the knot right there."

Camera News

Did you receive a Christmas surprise? A greeting card from someone you should have remembered or an unexpected gift from a person not on your gift list?

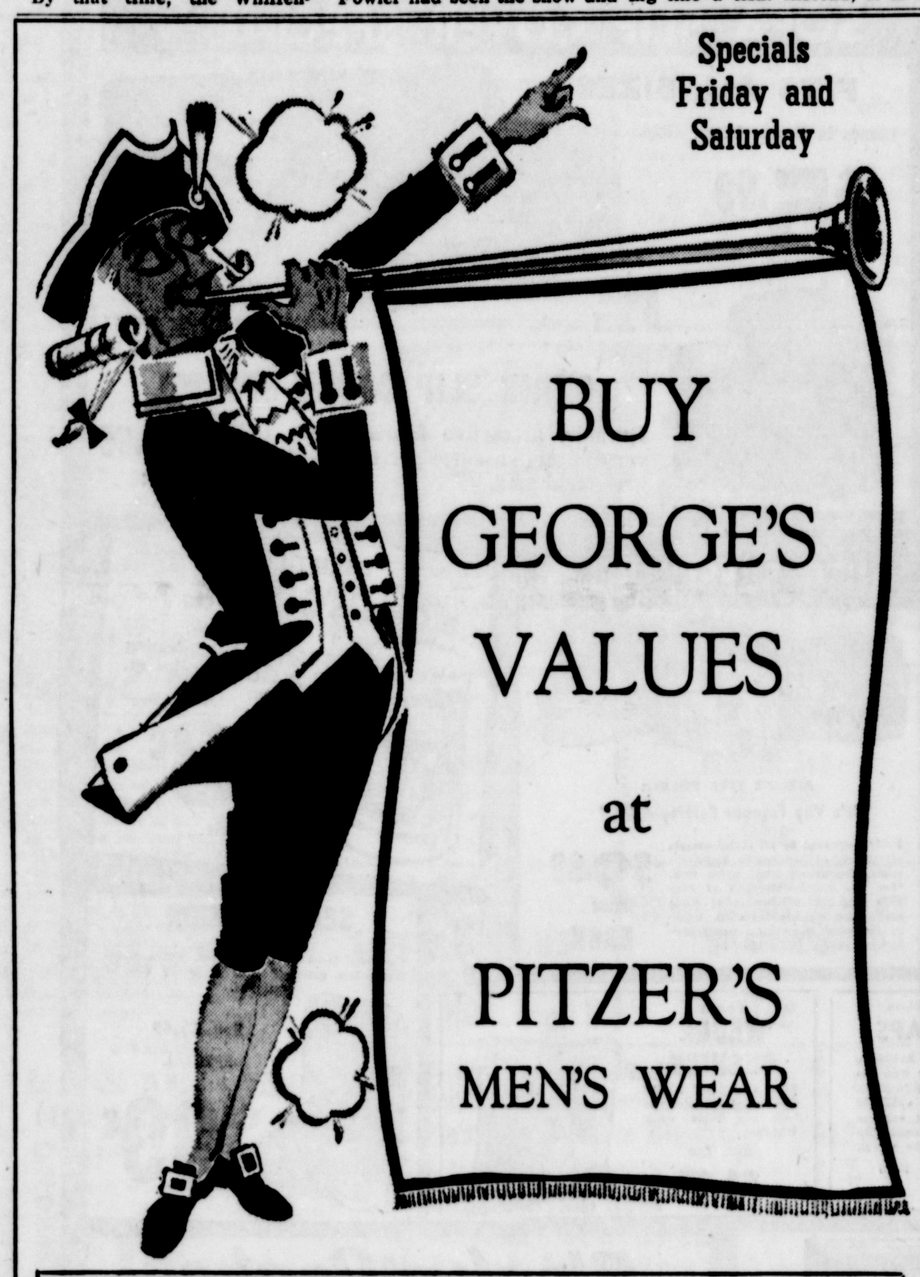

It's a predicament which embarrasses many people every holiday season. To send a belated greeting card or gift in return, which is received after Christmas, is somewhat of a lame admission that "we forgot all about you." But it's better than ignoring the surprise, pretending it didn't happen, or failing to acknowledge the receipt of the good wishes altogether.

Camera fans, however, can meet this predicament photographically, in a way that makes it excusable for being tardy and which adds a personal touch to their response.

If it happens to you, why not send a pictorial record of the family's current holiday activities, including the enjoyable use of the gift or gifts received, to those people who should get special remembrance? It could be one picture, two pictures or a series . . . but it will be a highly personal response that will have deeper meaning than a routine belated card or gift.

Go through all the pictures taken of this holiday season or shoot some special photos immediately of Junior constructing his new space station, sister hugging her new doll or mother admiring the new gift gadget, as the case may be. Select the best ones which tell the 1963 family holiday story. Then have duplicate prints made to take care of all your "surprises."

The pictures plus such sentiments as: "Your kind thoughts added to our holiday joy this year, as you can see." or "Your thoughtful gift made our festive activities so much more visual . . . " will have a warmth and individuality that is bound to overcome the handicap of being late with the season's greetings.

New Tank May Conquer Pain Of Victims Of Severe Burns

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Science Writer

Moaning in agony, the 32-year-old woman, victim of a kitchen stove explosion, muttered through clenched teeth: "Yes, I'll sign . . . only help me."

Taken minutes later to a special room in Baylor Hospital in Houston, she was immersed to the neck in a bathtub-like tank that was to be virtually an all-protective womb for the next 16 days.

Inside the tank was a new "dry liquid" silicone compound that coated her burns against the air, prevented infection, buoyed her unbandaged, unclothed body almost weightless on a padded rack. She could move without fear of rolling her weight on a burn, never developed a bed sore.

Once, when removed for medical examination of her burns, she begged: "Put me back in the tank."

That was the closest the horribly burned woman came to pain in the entire 16 days — a time when strong men similarly seared have pleaded, "Let me die," as they waited for charred skin to slough off so grafting could begin.

"She took only three aspirins during the entire period," says her physician, "and that was for headache."

Even more significant is the fact that grafting of skin on her legs, hips, chest, hands and feet began on the 18th day. In conventionally treated burn cases, this cannot be started until the fourth, fifth or sixth week.

The woman's skin grafts "took" quickly, she recovered and today her scars are clean and smooth — with little of the ridged and twisted tissue characteristic of extensive burns.

BOT IN GENERAL USE

His treatment is frankly experimental and requires much more testing before it will be made available to general practice.

But Dr. Gerow believes it not only offers new hope for burn victims — it may have application, through a unique system of patient-temperature control, in the infant science of anesthesia through freezing.

Looking far down the road, Dr. Gerow says he also is studying possible use of silicone-filled tanks to cushion space travelers against the stress of acceleration during rocket blast-off.

"I designed the silicone fluid to have about the specific gravity of water — enough to provide body support without making the patient float," he said in an interview. "But it certainly would be possible to change the fluid so the subject would be completely weightless, and thus unaffected by acceleration.

"And the fact that the silicone is bacterio-static — will not support the growth of bacteria — could offer a way of delivering astronauts to other planets and bringing them back with no danger of germ contamination at either end of the journey.

"We haven't tried these things yet — they're still in the thinking stage — but they may well be worth exploring with this modality."

EXPERIMENTS MADE

Dr. Gerow first became familiar with the properties of silicones in developing, as an intern in Houston, a plastic restoration for breasts after surgery. Later in hunting a better fluid in which to support burn victims — water shrivels tissue and encourages bacteria growth — he thought again of silicones.

He ordered a compound — specifically, di-methyl polysiloxane, an oily feeling almost colorless substance sometimes used as a lubricant — mixed to his specifications and began experimenting with pigs.

Then he ran into trouble.

The silicone fluid was "dry" — in that it contained no germ-feeding water — to start with, but it soon picked up water and other contaminants from body wastes.

The fluid would have to be circulated and filtered.

Dr. Gerow tried several medical supply houses and was told, "It can't be done." Finally he appealed to a swimming pool equipment dealer, who relayed the request to the company's headquarters in El Monte, Calif.

There it went to the desk of William O. Baker, who as president of Swimquip Inc., supervises a continuing research in swimming pools and industrial plants.

"I remembered seeing a cousin of mine suffer through two years in the hospital getting over a bad burn," Baker recalls. "I went to work."

PROBLEMS WITH LIQUID

It wasn't as easy as Baker first thought. The liquid had to be piped through diatomaceous earth, to filter our water and bacteria down to .2 of a micron and through carbon for removal of odors. By the time this was worked out, he faced another problem: The silicone fluid, much like penetrating oil, leaked through threaded pipe joints. The answer was welded tubing.

After two years of research on Dr. Gerow's project, Baker today says : "I think we've got it whipped. There will be improvements as we go along, but the Houston case proves the system works."

To Baker, a wealthy industrialist, the project has been an expensive philanthropy. "I'm about $200,000 out of pocket so far" he says, "and it will be another year or so before we could go into commercial production of the units. It may never make any money, but it will be worth the cost of it saves one life."

PROBABLY $500 A PATIENT

Despite the development cost, Dr. Gerow figures the treatment eventually will have a substantially lower price tag than current methods.

"We expect the unit will run around $12,000," he says, "plus another $3,000 for the 150 gallons of silicone in the tank and filter system.

"Because the silicone can be used over and over again by reprocessing it after each patient, the unit probably would amortize itself at about $500 per patient. And its simplicity means there will be much less handling of the patient — changing of bandages and so forth — so hospital staff requirements will be reduced."

An extremely painful part of current treatment is the cutting away of charred tissue as it is replaced by growth underneath. This is eliminated by the tank treatment. Dr. Gerow has found that a jet of silicone, played against the skin through a nozzle, sloughs off the burned tissue just as effectively — and without pain.

Dr. Gerow says three people have been in the tank so far. The burned woman was the first. Later a medical student volunteered to spend 14 days in the silicone bath for refinement of procedures. The third was an elderly man whose severe burns had become badly infected during conventional treatment. The silicone treatment helped, but it was too late to save him.

"After we have set up a dozen or so units around the country we'll be able to tell just how effective the system is in a wide range of cases," Dr. Gerow says, "but as of right now I'd say it is completely successful."

BUILDING THIRD UNIT

Two units are in operation currently, one at Danville and the other at Houston, now moved to Ben Taub General Hospital. An improved model, destination undecided, is being fabricated.

A unit consists of four big cylinders filled with diatomaceous earth to filter out germs with carbon to remove odors, a stainless steel tank equipped with exercise bars to offset the weaking effects of inactivity in an almost weightless environment, and a temperature control panel.

"The temperature of the liquid must be kept constant between 87 and 38 degrees Fahrenheit," says Dr. Gerow. "Above that, the patient perspires, increasing our filtration requirement. Below that, he feels chilled.

FEW MAJOR LEAGUERS ARE PILOTS

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jolted by the airplane crash that killed Chicago Cub second baseman Ken Hubbs, some major league baseball clubs have started to grapple with the far-reaching question:

Should players be permitted to pilot their own planes?

In response to a survey by The Associated Press, only the Boston Red Sox said they had an "understanding" barring players rom holdinfg pilot licenses. But St. Louis, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh and Kansas City said they were reviewing a problem that has two edges.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

While admitting the problem was serious, the clubs indicated it was difficult to establish a firm policy since it might be construed as an infringement on a player's rights. The clubs also pointed that to their knowledge none of their players had pilot licenses.

A Red Sox spokesman said there is no clause in their contract barring pilots, but "there is an understanding that no player will be a pilot. It has never come up. No player has had any inclination to get a pilot's license."

The spokesman said the Red Sox were prompted to establish the policy in 1956 after Tom Gastall, former Boston University athlete who signed with Baltimore for a $40,000 bonus, disappeared in his private plane on a flight over Chesapeake Bay.

Gastall and Hubbs, 1962 National League Rookie of the Year who crashed while piloting a plane near Provo, Utah, are the only players on record to have died while flying their own aircraft.

Civil Rights House Action Tests LBJ's Ability To Pry Legislation From Congress

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A no-compromise attitude on the House-passed civil rights bill seems likely to provide an ultimate test of President Johnson's ability to get controversial legislation out of Congress.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader who will serve as Senate floor manager for the measure, said the President is completely committed to the strong terms of the House bill.

DIRKSEN OPPOSES

Humphrey added there would be "no wheels or deals" to gain its passage even if it takes weary weeks to break through a Southern filibuster. The measure may be brought up next week.

Humphrey's optimism that the House bill can be passed without substantial changes was not shared by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

"There are going to be some compromises," Dirksen said in an interview. "I am going to give the administration an opportunity to compromise, and we'll see what happens."

Dirksen said he will offer a proposal calling for voluntary desegregation of hotels, motels, restaurants and other places of public accommodation. The House-approved bill would make such desegregation mandatory in a selected field.

If he can't get the Senate to accept his voluntary plan, Dirksen said he will consider falling back on an alternative proposal for compulsory integration of businesses offering food and lodging to interstate travelers.

SOUTHERN PLAN

Although Southern opponents of the House bill plan to talk at length in an effort to prevent any Senate progress toward its passage, they probably would be tempted to suspend their vocal marathon long enough to permit a vote on any proposal to water down its terms.

If that happens, a majority of the Senate would decide whether the controversial accommodations section should be changed and thus open the way to other possible alterations.

Southerners were called into a strategy session today by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Johnson has demonstrated the ability to wangle the votes needed for a majority. But he could risk final defeat of the bill if he fails to come to some kind of terms with Dirksen and the substantial number of Republicans who follow the Illinois senator.

SUPPORT DOUBTFUL

It has been obvious to all con-Democratic Leader Mike Manfield of Montana now do not believe they can muster the needed support of two-thirds of those voting to cut off debate and thus open the way to action on the bill.

Furthermore, they are resigned to the likelihood that they will never fulfill the two-thirds requirement without Dirksen's active help.

The alternative is to try to wear out the filibusterers with around-the-clock sessions. But such attempts in the past usually have wound up by wearing out the majority, who have to keep 51 members on hand at all times in order to prevent adjournment for lack of a quorum. The filibusterers can rest in relays, keeping only a handful of their members in the chamber.

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) —Three men were killed and a fourth injured Tuesday when the side of a 20-foot-deep ditch gave way at a construction site.

The men were employed in the construction of a new sewage treatment plant 2½ miles southeast of Stillwater.

The dead were Leslie Cantrell, 36, Midwest City; Glen Smith, in his 30s, of Oklahoma City, and Kenneth Harting, 39, Glencoe.

AGREES PUBLIC ASSISTANCE IN PA. IS TOO LOW

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says he has to agree that public assistance grants are too low for minimum living standards.

He adds, however, that the cannot bear the financial burden state cannot bear the financial burden alone.

"This problem requires real thinking on the part of local authorities," Scranton told a group of 75 Philadelphians Tuesday. "We feel very strongly that public assistance is not solely an obligation of the state."

URGE ACTION

Austin W. Culmer, acting chairman of the Concerned Citizens of Philadelphia Committee, said the situation for persons on relief was urgent.

"Thousands of unfortunate citizens throughout the Commonwealth are forced to live in a state of severe economic deprivation and poverty," Culmer told the governor, adding:

"We have come to Harrisburg to urge that you act on the critical importance your administion has assigned to this matter in numerous public statements and immediately direct that grants be raised by the full amount necessary this year."

"REAL SOLUTION"

The governor replied that present tax resources limit the amount the state may use for public assistance. He said the funds were not available.

Arlin M. Adams, Secretary of Public Welfare, told the group that $275.8 million has been proposed for public assistance in the 1964-65 fiscal year.

Both Adams and Scranton said the only real solution is to provide more jobs for more people, thus reducing the number dependent on public assistance.

COTTON GETS 1ST CRACK AT GARDEN FRIDAY

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Cotton, the top-ranking light heavyweight contender, is risking his hopes of a final title shot when he takes on young, hungry and undefeated Johnny Persol of New York in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Why is he taking the gamble?

"I've been fighting 16 years and I've never fought in the Garden," said Cotton, a 36-year-old boxing globetrotter who doubles as a toolmaker for the Boeing plane factory in Seattle. "The Garden is it in boxing and I wanted to fight there before I call it quits."

HE'S TOO GOOD

Cotton's handicap is that he's too good. Few of the contenders or champions want to fight him. His story is similar to Archie Moore's. Old Archie had to wait years before he got his first crack in the Garden and his first chance at a title.

Ironically, Archie later declined to give Cotton a shot at the title.

"I've been after Teddy Brenner (the Garden matchmaker) ever since I took over Cotton's management three years ago to get Eddie a fight in the Garden," said George Chemeres Monday. "Teddy told me he couldn't get anyone to fight Eddie.

LIKES TO BE AWAY

"That was the same story every where we traveled in the States. So off we'd go to New Zealand, Sweden, Finland, Sweden, Peru. We could get fights there but not much in our own country.

"So finally we get the offer to take on Persol. Here's a kid who just comes up and he gets a shot at the No. 1 — Cotton. We're risking everying and Persol has nothing to lose. But we took the fight. Why?

"Because Eddie is a fellow who wants tc keep busy. If he can't beat Persol then he doesn't deserve the title fight.

"If Eddie wins, as he should, we're going to get after Willie Pastrano. That is if Pastrano beats that Gregorio Peralta in their title fight April 10. Pastrano is some champion. Every time you mention Cotton to him he runs like forty thieves. But if he's still champion and we're No. 1, the WBA is going to insist that Pastrano defends against Eddie."

DEATHS

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Clarence Budington Kelland, 82, nationally known writer of fiction and newspaper articles, died Tuesday after a long illness. Kelland, who started his newspaper career in 1904 with the Detroit News, gained his national reputation with the Saturday Evening Post which printed 55 of his serials. He was a vice president and director of Phoenix Newspapers, Inc., which publishes the Arizona Republic and Phoenix Gazette. He was born in Portland, Mich.

BOSTON (AP) — Thomas P. Horgan Jr., 65, one of New England's best known newspapermen, died Tuesday. Horgan had been with the Boston bureau of The Associated Press for 36 years until his retirement last April. Horgan, who was best known for his coverage of sea stories and yachting races, was born in Canton, Mass.

Cary Grant Says Men Dress As Prop For Female Attire

NEW YORK (AP) — Cary Grant thinks men were better off before they began to wear clothes.

"When the first stone age man took an animal skin it was perhaps his first move toward civilization, and therefore the weakening of himself and his physical potency," he says.

He thinks the only way men's attire could be improved is to get rid of it completely. But he adds, "We'd probably have to grow hair on our bodies to keep warm."

Grant doesn't seem happy about his reputation as being one of the world's best-dressed men, a fact he is often reminded of by being recipient of awards. Or maybe he just takes it in stride.

He thinks barbarians who wore skirts had a lot more freedom of movement than today's covered up male.

We would "have to evolute back to skirts," he says. But it could be done.

EXTRAS SERVE PURPOSE

"Men's clothing does change. Boots have changed to shoes. All sorts of things have been lost — garters, suspenders. They are leaving off breast pockets, trying to bring in one-button suits. If they can lead men to believe it is fashionable they can bring anything back into style," he says.

Some so-called extras on men's clothing do serve a purpose, he points out. Buttons on the sleeve that were designed to keep uniformed officers from rubbing their sleeves over dripping noses have another purpose. Grant says: You can turn the sleeve back to wash your hands without removing the jacket.

He doesn't think men will go for flashy suits — because of women.

"Men are simply dressed to create a background for women's attire. The dinner coat came into being for that reason. But when men are together in military uniforms or wherever the sexes are isolated in fashion, they wear more colorful attire," he says.

MADE 61st MOVIE

Grant doesn't think he's an exceptional dresser.

"Three-quarters of the time each year, I don't even wear a tie. To abide city convention I dress like this," he says, indicating a conservative dark gray suit and highly polished black shoes. "It's better to go along with whatever they are doing than to call unnecessary attention to yourself."

It was typical city attire, but lean, tan, handsome and fastidious Grant does something special to it that belies his long years in motion pictures. He has just made his 61st movie "Charade," co-starring Audrey Hepburn.

A man who displays many moods in a short span of time, Grant says he keeps his youth by relaxing. He "eats when hungry, sleeps when he wants to." Conversation with him is like playing a tennis match with words as he darts here and there.

He says that he doesn't really have a big wardrobe of clothes.

"My wardrobe may be a little bigger than the average man, but I don't make a big thing about it. I buy many suits ready made, here, there, anywhere, anytime, I feel like it."

AMERICANS TASTEFUL

He thinks women should let their menfolk dress the way they want to dress and the way they feel comfortable.

"Who is to say what is good or bad dress? It's in the observer's point of view," he says. "The American man dresses tastefully. He has more money for clothes than in any country and better quality materials. That goes for the American woman too.

"The thing that baffles me about men and women in the high fashion is the wearing of coats that leave neck and chest exposed to the elements. It's as contradictory as golf carts on a golf course."

TEMPORARY PERCH — Obviously this is not the normal spot for the driver on a speedboat. Dave Wilson climbed out to overcome the heavy stern load of engines and gas at start of the Orange Bowl Regatta. He went back to driver's seat as boat levelled out.

PARIS (AP) — Italian President Antonio Segni arrived Wednesday for a four-day visit to France.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Composer Ben Oakland, whose songs include "I'll Take Romance," has decided to do just that.

Oakland and Mrs. Beatrice Rosensus, a board member of the Jewish Federation Council, announced they'll marry March 8.

LONDON (AP) — Prince Andrew, second in line to the British throne, was 4 years old Wednesday. He celebrated with a party at Buckingham Palace for about a dozen friends.

KITZBUEHEL, Austria (AP) —Prince Carlos de Bourbon-Parma joined his fiancee, Princess Irene of the Netherlands, in this plush resort Wednesday for a skiing vacation.

The Spanish prince checked into a hotel just 50 yards from the chalet where the princess is staying.

MOSCOW (AP)—Cyrus Eaton, multimillionaire American industrialist and long an ardent supporter of the Soviet Union, told a penel of television interviewers in Moscow:

"I am in the unusual position of a capitalist in love with a Communist country, and therefore it is difficult for me to be objective. But an old American saying says: Nothing succeeds like success. Everywhere (in the Soviet Union) I have seen this air of success and progress."

Eaton arrived in Moscow last Friday.

Fine Cut For Fan Of Stan The Man

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Philadelphia man had to pay only half his speeding fine because he, the arresting officer and the judge were Stan Musial fans.

Joseph M. Boyle, 44, drove to St. Louis from Philadelphia to see the famous Cardinal baseball star play his last game. On his way home, Boyle was arrested for exceeding the speed limit by eight miles per hour at Litchfield, Ill.

Boyle told Illinois state patrolman Leland Storm and Magistrate Henry Cress why he was in the area. Storm said he too was a Musial fan and Boyle should get a break. Judge Cress agreed and cut the fine in half, 50 cents for each mile over the limit rather than the customary dollar.

Then the judge asked Boyle to tell him about the game and ceremonies honoring Musial.

The St. Louis Cardinals compiled the longest winning streak in the National League last season. They won 10 straight in September.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

RAILS: The threat of a nationwide rail strike next Tuesday has ended with a decision by the railroads to delay for a time putting disputed new work rules into effect.

But a spokesman said that no decision has been made to delay a new showdown in the five-year dispute until after next November's presidential election, as reported in the Washington Star.

Negotiations, on such matters as wage scales, working conditions, vacations and holidays, are reported getting nowhere. The railroads could force the issue by ordering new work rules put into effect.

RELIABILITY: A congressional transcript confirms that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay disagree on the reliability of U.S. missiles and bombers.

The transcript—censored by the Defense Department—does not make clear the extent of the conflict. The House Armed Services committee made public Tuesday the testimony by McNamara and Gen. LeMay during hearings between Jan. 17 and Feb. 7.

McNamara and LeMay apparently also disagreed on the reliability statistics they presented to the committee. The figures were deleted from the transcript.

ASSASSINATION PROBE: Rep. John Bell Williams, D - Miss., wants to force the Warren commission to disclose publicly all evidence it gathers on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Rep. Williams introduced his resolution Tuesday and said in a statement that "widespread public reaction has not been favorable to Chairman Earl Warren's statement to news - men that some of the evidence may not be released 'in your lifetime.' "

MAPPING SATELLITE: Defense Department official has disclosed that the Air Force launched a new type of mapping satellite called Secor for the Army on Jan. 11.

Dr. Albert C. Hall of the Department's Office of Research and Engineering, included the satellite launching Tuesday in a casual listing of military space projects in a talk before the National Space Club and the Aviation-Space Writers Association.

The satellite was launched into polar orbit from the Pacific Missile Range and marked the first success in four tries.

WELFARE PLANS: Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz reported today that assets to-in employe welfare and pension benefit plans in 1963.

He predicted that assets in such plans would reach $100 billion by 1970.

In a statement accompanying the release to Congress of the annual report on the administration of the welfare and pension plans disclosure act, Wirtz said the $66 billion figure did not include the government retirement program with reserves of more than $40 billion, and old-age, survivors and disability insurance, which has $20 billion in reserve.

Lucky Lad Lands In Moving Sofa

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP) — Michael Mack Keller, 15, can find the softest places to land.

He was thrown from his motor scooter one afternoon and, after turning a somersault, he landed squarely on a soft divan being transported on the bed of a truck.

But even with his good luck, Michael suffered a broken knee, believed to have been injured when he hit the handlebars during the flip.

Many GI's Used Education Bill

CHICAGO (AP) — A total of 7,800,000 World War II veterans, more than half the total of 15 million who served, received education and training under the GI Bill.

The Veterans Administration says it also made grants totaling $69.2 million to provide special housing for paralegics.

The VA says that veterans have proved to be extraordinarily fine credit risks in loans for homes, launching business

Cigarettes Easier To Quit If Smoker Has Helpmate

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you make a deal with your husband to go through the agonies of cigaret withdrawal together, both of you will have a better chance of shaking the dangerous habit.

The Buddy system has been found to be most effective among the thousands who jammed the auditoriums at Hunter College campus recently for the five-day How To Stop Smoking course.

As with alcoholics, fellow cigaret sufferers understand each other's tensions and are sympathetic. They can fight their problem together, and they can check up on each other.

But even though you are a nonsmoker, you as a wife can still play an important role in winning your husband away from the weed. Dr. Catherine Hess and Dr. Elman Folkenberg agree.

Dr. Hess is assistant health commissioner for New York City and is in charge of the free citywide cigaret withdrawal clinics which are to open in April.

Elman Folkenberg, of South Lancaster, Mass. devised the program with Dr. J. Wayne McFarland and directs it. The 42-year-old psychologist is minister of a Seventh Day Adventist Church.

They suggest:

Your attitude is important.

Above all, don't be holier than he. Don't neg him. Let the decision to quit be his alone and his to maintain.

Don't hide the cigarettes.

That is his preprogative.

Some men like to put them on the mantel where they can thumb their noses at them, or carry them in their pockets as reassurance of their willpower. But you might put away the ashtrays.

Protect him from as many problems as possible for the first five days. He is jumpier than usual. Run interference with the kids, the bill collectors, and the inlaws.

Serve lighter foods, a liquid diet of fruit juices the first day, and plenty of fruit juices thereafter.

These are too stimulating to the nervous system.

Cut out the coffee. Although coffee itself is not necessarily harmful, the coffee-and a cigaret habit is. Help him to break the long established pattern by removing the other half of the team.

"Give him a lot of water to drink," says Dr. Hess. "Did you ever see a man reach for a cigaret to drink with his water?"

Put on your walking shoes and take some of those brisk walks which he needs to work off his tension. You'll lose some tension, too.

Turn the television on, or provide some other entertainment after dinner to keep his mind off his big problem.

Appreciate that is IS a big problem which he is trying to lick. "And," says psychologist Folkenberg, "encourage, encourage, encourage him every step of the way!"

Largest Big Ten football crowd of the season turned out last Oct. 12 at Ann Arbor when Michigan faced Michigan State. The count was 101,450.

GREEK ARTIST PREPARES SET FOR BIENNIAL

By PHILIP DOPOULOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Although Greek theater owners often seek foreign talent to design their stage sets, they have lately come to appreciate the fact that pert Elli Solominidou in their own backyard is as good as they come.

Last year by designing for the National Greek Opera House, the 30-year-old native Athenian woman reached the pinnacle of her field. To create for opera here reaps both fame and money.

Now, along with three other tasks, she is preparing Greece's representation to the Paris Biennale for Youth. This year's themes are "Le Malade Imaginaire" and "Henry IV."

Elli, as she is popularly known, took her first steps on the road to artistic success even before she learned her ABC's. Realizing her precociousness, her parents enrolled her at an art school instead of a nursery.

CLASHED WITH CLIENTS

After her school days she became an interior designer, but Elli, admittedly a girl with a mind of her own, often clashed with her clients over what she wanted and they wanted. Even so, many of Athens' elite society along the Greek Saronic coast have recognized and bowed to her flair and imagination.

She still decorates for special clients, but ever since she dropped into a friend's theater one day, and he encouraged her to design some ballet costumes, Elli has been setting the stage for big things.

Those ballet costumes were whipped up in a single day and brought raves from the critics, which sent the theater producers hurrying to her studio with more scenes to glorify.

PLANS NBI MUSIC

In her apartment that overlooks the city, Elli arises at dawn to handle her busy schedule. Along with her theatrical work, and her interior designing, Elli also spends a part of her time at the National Broadcasting Institute planning the day's musical programs. Somewhere among her activities she squeezed in a language scholarship to an Italian University.

Even though she is Greek, Elli says she thinks in Italian. She also converses in English and French.

"But Italian flows like music," she says. "And when designing or sketching, my thoughts come in Italian first."

Show Tickets Replace Stamps

NEW YORK (AP) — A new trading stamp project is seeking to stimulate Broadway showgoing by offering tickets at shopping premiums.

Two productions, "Chips With Everything" and "Enter Laughing," are the first to test the plan. If public response justifies, the sponsors will expand the trading assortment to include movies, sports and concerts.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

School Coaches Rap NFL TV Shows

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania High School Football Coaches Association says the National Football League has "struck a great blow at the very source of its native material" by televising pro games on Friday night.

The American Broadcasting Co. recently announced it has negotiated with some NFL teams for five Friday night telecasts.

Erle Baugher, association secretary, in a letter to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, said: "It is unreasonable and selfish" for professional football to compete with the high schools on Friday nights, when most state scholastic games are played.

"Financed largely through gate receipts," Baugher wrote, "girls' and boys' athletic programs can suffer through cutbacks due to loss of revenue."

Daring Pays Off For Pittsburgh

In the game against West Virginia, the Panthers had the ball on their 18 with fourth down and inches to go for a first down. In a previously unheard of move, they tried for the first down — and made it.

Several days later someone commented to Coach John Michelosen, "That makes it wide-open football."

To which Michelsen replied: "That makes me crazy."

Yogi, Seven Others On 1947 Register

NEW YORK (AP) — When Yankee Manager Yogi Berra was first placed on the team's spring roster in 1947, seven other catchers were listed.

They were Ralph Houk, Sherm Lollar, Gus Niarhos, Aaron Robinson, Charley Silvera, Ken Silvestri and Bill Deininger.

Trumpeter Records Gil Evans Score

NEW YORK (AP) — Jazz trumpeter Miles Davis has recorded a score written by Gil Evans, with whom he previously collaborated several times. The play stars Laurence Harvey and Elaine Stritch.

Marv Grissom, pitching coach for the Los Angeles Angels, holds the major league pitchers' mark for consecutive errorless games — 219 — between 1954 and 1959.

Inventor Says Gulf Stream Can Be Harnessed For Power

DENVER (AP) — Harnessing the Gulf Stream to produce electric power sounds fantastic. But it's the dream of a Denver inventor, Roy A. Batchler.

"This would bring huge industries to the South and eliminate those pockets of poverty that have plagued the region for so long," Batchler said.

Batchler's plan briefly is to:

Build a 58-mile long concrete dam from the Florida Keys southward to Cay Sal Islands, presently uninhabited and under the British flag.

Provide a 30-foot-wide roadway for motor transport and space for pipelines from the crest of the dam.

Provide ocean locks for ships when the second section of dam from Cay Sal Islands to Cuba is completed.

COST STAGGERING

The cost is staggering. Building the concrete dam, which would have to reach a depth of 3,000 feet at some points across the Florida Straits, would cost around $52 million a mile, Batchler said.

Over-all for the 58-mile first phase that would total some $3 billion. But Batchler claims the project is economically feasible.

He said the project using the Gulf Stream to power hydroelectric generators would produce 30 million kilowatts of power — equal to 15 per cent of our present national capacity.

MIGHTY CURRENT

Oceanographers term the Gulf Stream the earth's mightiest current. It flows through the Florida Straits between the Keys and Cuba at a rate of 6 feet per second.

That violent force, likened to water flowing out a nozzle, would spin turbines to generate power, Batchler said.

He said he has conceived 14 separate inventions that would enable workmen to construct the dam and install the power plants in the dam.

Batchler asserts his gigantic proposal could produce electric power at a cost of about 2.8 mills oer kilowatt. He said that would be less than one-fourth of the current cost of power generation in the Florida region.

COST REDUCTION

With generation costing 2.8 mills, Batchler said the power could be marketed economically at a price of 5 mills per kilowatt hour. This would produce gross revenue of more than $1,314,000,000 annually.

Batchler said his first step is to organize a corporation that would be known as Caribbean Power. He plans to establish headquarters in Miami.

Financing of the huge project would be through the sale of stock, Batchler said. Building of the first phase, 58-mile-long dam would be in several stages. Power generation could begin before completion of the entire dam, he said, producing revenues to finance the succeeding stages.

Near Breakthrough On Educational TV

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Frederick W. Ford, of the Federal Communications Commission, said Tuesday night, "We are on the threshold of a breakthrough to an adequate nationwide educational television system."

Ford, speaking at a meeting of the Philadelphia chapter, American Women in Radio and Television Inc., said the growth of educational television in the country can be attributed to federal legislation and the aid of commercial television interests.

Currently, he said, there are 86 operating educational stations in 38 states serving a potential audience of 110 million persons. Capital investment in the facilities totals about $40 million, he added.

Ford predicted that a final table of assigned channels for educational television should be adopted by the FCC some time after April 3.

GOLF MATCH IN TV DISPUTE

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A Buick spokesman said Tuesday that a disagreement over television rights will black out next summer's Buick Open Golf Tournament.

The tournament is set for June 11-14 at nearby Warwick Hills. The spokesman said the event would not be televised because of a dispute with the Professional Golfers Association.

He said the PGA reportedly wanted 20 per cent of the television proceeds, or about $11,000 of the total $55,000 tourney tab.

"We don't want to enter into that hassle," he added.

The issue over ownership of television rights to PGA tournaments came up earlier this month at the Phoenix Open. Golfers threatened a boycott unless they were given rights already sold. A compromise averted the boycott.

Careful Sweep For Lost Lens

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A school principal was surprised to walk into a classroom and find a barefoot teacher carefully sweeping the floor while the pupils sat with feet pulled up on their seats.

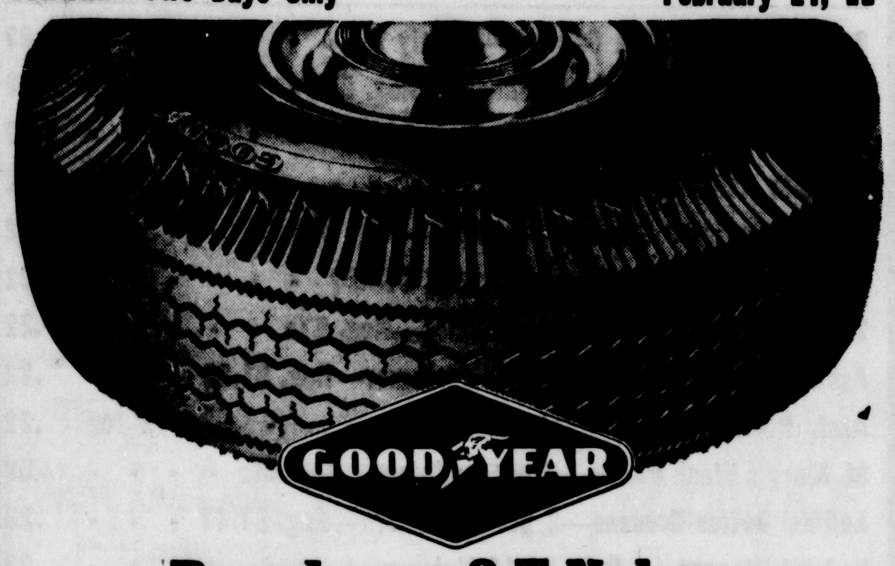

The teacher explained she had lost one of her new contact lenses. She discovered a short time later that it had just slipped to one side of her eye and the class returned to normal.

COLEMAN SIGNS

CINCINNATI, AP) — Gordy Coleman is the 27th Cincinnati Red player to sign for the 1964 season, the club said Wednesday.

Coleman will be starting his fourth full season with Cincinnati. Last year he batted .247 and had 14 home runs and 50 RBIs.

ALESSANDRONI WILL ACT IN SNAVELY CASE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni says he intends to issue a "statement of judgment" in the arrest of James N. Snavely, key figure in a school Bible reading suit.

Alessandroni added, however, that he would withhold judgment pending further information on the incident.

Snavely, a $3,400-a-year Lebanon city employe, was arrested the night of Feb. 10 and taken before a justice of the peace to face 18-month-old charges of not licensing his dogs. He paid a $53 fine and was freed.

The 39-year-old father of four children contended the arrest was a form of harassment for his federal court suit contesting Bible reading in the Cornwall-Lebanon Suburban School system. A hearing in the suit is scheduled for next Monday in U.S. District Court at Lewisburg.

"STATE TACTICS"

Alessandroni met Tuesday with Dist. Atty. Alvin B. Lewis Jr. of Lebanon County, who has said Snavely's arrest "smacked of police state tactics."

Lewis presented lessandroni with a detailed report of an investigation made into the Snavely case by the district attorney.

It was the third such report Alessandroni has received. The others came from the State Police and the Agriculture Department, both of which had been asked by the attorney general to look into the incident.

Alessandroni told newsmen the Justice Department had made its own investigation of the arrest because two state officers—a state trooper and a dog law enforcement officer — were involved.

KEEP SILENT

The attorney general said Lewis planned to meet with Justice of the Peace Mary Spallone of Swatara Township, Lebanon County, to gather more information.

Mrs. Spallone issued the warrant for Snavely's arrest. She said she was acting under direction of the district attorney's office. Lewis denied this.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the American Civil Liberties Union, which is aiding Snavely in his suit, said it intended to proceed with court action despite a change in policy by the school board.

The board Monday night dropped its policy of permissive Bible reading, which the ACLU found objectionable, and adopted a required daily Bible study in its place.

Willie McCovey led the San Francisco Giants last year with 26 home runs at Candlestick Park. He drove in 62 runs at home.

WILLIAMS' TV VARIETY SHOW NETS NEW DEAL

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Andy Williams demonstrated amply during his monthly variety show on NBC Tuesday night why the network will star him in a weekly hour next season.

As usual, the show's music was tuneful, the dialogue amusing, the settings handsome and the people attractive. Perhaps the show's outstanding quality is good taste.

Williams has an elegant way with a song and an easy manner with his guests. Tuesday night they were Dick Van Dyke who has a lithe grace that reminds one of Danny Kaye, and Irene Ryan, a real surprise.

Miss Ryan, the sharp-tongued "Granny" of "The Beverly Hillbillies," turned up in pink satin, shmimering sequins and dancing shoes, belted a few songs, shimmied like her sister Kate and brought down the house—our house, anyway.

ABC's Ron Cochran seems to cover in 15 minutes the same news stories in about the same Brinkley team and CBS' Walter Cronkite in their half-hour programs each evening.

NBC and CBS, joined in a fierce battle for ratings and prestige, have been broadcasting their longer news shows since early September. They usually report the same top stories, but treatment of stories varies. Tuesday night Chet Huntley disposed of the Jack Ruby trial in a few words. Cronkite showed some film and devoted several minutes to the subject.

The principal difference seems to be in their approaches. Cronkite has a non-editorial way of handling the news. Both Huntley and Brinkley like to express an opinion.

Odds and ends: Allen Funt's "Tell It to the Camera" will disappear after 13 weeks on CBS . . . . Bob Hope's anthology series will return to NBC for another season . . . .Still another game show, "Jeopardy" produced by Merv Griffins packaging company, is expected to replace "Missing Links" on NBC in about six weeks.

SAYS CHISOX CAN TAKE AL FLAG IN '64

By AL LOPEZ
Chicago White Sox

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — I think the Chicago White Sox will be good enough in 1964 to win the American League pennant. Which means, to beat the Yankees. Whoever wins the pennant is going to have to beat the Yanks.

We're going with youth again in '64, even more youth than the team we had last year when it surprised everybody by finishing second. Most experts confined us to the second division.

ROOKIE OF YEAR

We had the rookie o fthe year last season in Gary Peters, who won 19 games and had a 2.33 earned run average. And we had the runner-up in third baseman Pete Ward, who was our best every-day player with a .295 average, 84 runs batted in and 22 home runs.

It could be that we'll have two more contenders this year in infielders Don Buford and pitcher Fritz Ackley. We traded Nellie Fox because we believe Buford can take over the second base job. He was the International League's top player and most valuable. A switch hitter, he led the league in five departments, including hits, runs, doubles, stolen bases and batting.

Buford played third base for Indianapolis but we had him switched to second in Puerto Rico and I'm told he looked pretty good.

INFIELD SOLID

The rest of the infield is solid. Ron Hansen will be back at short. He led the league's shortstops in runs batted in with 67 and was the top fielder at his position with only 13 errors. Joe Cunningham, the first baseman, was out with a broken collarbone for three months last year but he should be sound again. We have Tommy McCraw to back him up.

I expect improved catching punch from J. C. Martin and Camilo Carreon. Both are young and hit better in the second half of last season than the first half. Al Weis, a switch hitter, is our No. 1 utility man who can play second, third or short.

I believe we have the best pitching in the league. Our staff was the only one with an ERA of under three. It was 2.97. Peters and Juan Pizarro were one-two in the league. John Buzhardt, out five weeks with an injury, was 2.43 and a 9-4 record. Ray Herbert, the veteran of the staff, had seven shutouts. Then we have Joe Horlen, Ed Fisher and Ackley as starters. Dave DeBusschere, our bonus right-hander, figures to improve. Other attractive youngsters include Bruce Howard, Fred Talbot, Frank Kreutzer, Camilo Estevis and Jim olden.

The all-American favorite for a geographical place name is Summit. There are some 70 Summits scattered from the East Coast to Alaska.

U. S. Halts Trade With Three Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has halted small military aid programs for Britain, France and Yugoslavia in retaliation for their continuing to trade with Cuba.

Carrying out a congressional ban on aid to nations that trade with the Cubans, the State Department Tuesday also announced that Spain and Morocco would get no new U.S. aid until they provide "further clarification" of their trade policies with the Cubans.

Nevada Hopes To Draw Large Crowds For 1964 Centennial

By BILL STALL

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — This sprightly little lady of a state is 100 years old in 1964 and she's making no bones about it.

She's been primping for two years now to provide a big birthday party for Nevada residents and to entice as many non-Nevadans as possible to join in the fun.

And if the out-of-state folk decide to stay for a few days, drop a few coins into the slot machines and spend some money for souvenirs, so much the better.

The spree started January 1 and runs all year but has a focal point in Admission Day activites in Carson City, the capital, October 31.

BIG SPENDERS

Why spend more than $300,000, as Nevada plans, for a birthday party?

Gov. Grant Sawyer calls it "an opportunity for us to let the nation and the world know that Nevada is dedicating itself to a new century of progress with the same enthusiasm and fervor exhibited by our forefathers one hundred years ago."

But a 75-page centennial commission planning booklet also makes clear the centennial is a good time to do some horn-blowing: "The publicity value to be gained by the state during the centennial year cannot be estimated in dollars and cents."

The man chosen to see the state takes advantage of every practical promotion opportunity is Clyde Anderson, whose showman's background runs from the circus to theater and television production.

"We're a glorified tourist bureau in a way," Anderson says from behind a desk cluttered with papers and a variety of gadgets bearing the centennial seal.

$250,000 BUDGET

The commission has a budget of $250,000 and figures to augment that with another $80,000, having sold rights to the seal for commercial uses. The commission couldn't hope to sponsor the programs it wants, even with $2 million, Anderson says.

Anderson and the commission encourage communities with established events such as fairs and rodeos to package them in a centennial theme. Counties and towns are urged to launch new celebrations that will carry on after the centennial party is over.

The Washoe County committee decided to revive the national air races, discontinued after the 1952 edition in Cleveland, partly because of safety reasons.

LOCAL COSTUME BALLS

Several counties plan to kick off local celebrations with costume balls. Visitors will be able to watch the camel races in Virginia City and burro races in Nye County — both with centennial twists. They'll pan for gold from a sluice box in the streets of Winnemucca, and watch men racing with bags of wheat over their shoulders from Wabuska to Pizen Switch, now called Yerington. Wells residents are thinking of sprucing up their buildings with false fronts and Eureka citizens are putting life into the old opera house.

The U.S. Mint, headed by Nevada's Eva Adams, has been authorized by Congress to strike 20,000 centennial medallions that will sell at Nevada banks for $5 each. They'll be made from Nevada silver providing enough can be obtained. The fabulous Comstock mines have long since been boarded up.

BATTLE BORN STATE

Legend is Nevada was wanted in the Union during the final throes of the Civil War because its silver was needed to help finance the fighting and Lincoln felt Nevada's free state votes would ensure enactment of the abolition amendment.

Nevada calls itself the "Battle Born State" and the legend, "All for Our Country," is the motto.

The novelty products company which bought rights to the seal plans to use it on 100 items including key rings, T-shirts, place mats, date books, water glasses and ashtrays. It can also be found on the telephone book, cowboy boots, a whiskey decanter, Colt .45 revolver, blue jeans, miners' shirts (bright red), jackets and the side of a transcontinental bus.

There's a commercial angle behind much of the centennial planning, Anderson admits. But he says no one has complained yet.

Issues Summons For Sunday School

MIAMI (AP) — Sunday school teacher C. Pete Stephens Jr. has boosted attendance at his Palmetto Presbyterian Church subpoenas.

A typical summons says: "You are commanded to appear at Pete Stephen's Sunday School to testify on behalf of yourself. Bring with you the Holy Bible."

BULLET TESTS LINK OSWALD WITH GENERAL

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dallas police say their ballistic tests of a mail-order rifle believed to have killed President John F. Kennedy indicates it was the same one used in an unsuccessful attack on former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

Chief of Police Jesse Curry and Chief of Detectives M. W. Stevenson made the report public Tuesday.

GOOD SLUGS

"The ballistics report cannot be final or conclusive, but generally the comparison points of the slugs were good," Stevenson said.

Walker, a former Army division commander, was near a window in his home last April working alone on his income tax return when a sniper fired at him.

The slug tore through a window casing, narrowly missing Walker, pierced a 9-inch wall and fell on a stack of packaged pamphlets in the adjoining room. The slug tore a golf ball-sized hole in the wall.

REPORTS ATTEMPT

Mrs. Marina Oswald, Russian born widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of Kennedy, has told investigators and the Warren commission that her husband came home that night and told her he had killed the controversial former Army officer.

She said her husband had written her a letter before leaving home the night of the attack on Walker telling her the location of the city jail if something should happen to him and also instructed her how to contact the Russian Embassy if he should be arrested.

SAIGON JUMPY AS INCIDENTS BUILD TENSION

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—In bomb jumpy Saigon Wednesday a grenade was reported about to explode inside the U.S. Information Agency building, an American soldier accidentally shot a Vietnamese street vendor, and the Viet Cong radio station warned people to stay away from Americans.

The grenade, found in the library, turned out to be a plastic dummy.

An hour earlier a pistol fell out of the shoulder holster of a U.S. Army enlisted man several blocks from the information agency building. The pistol went off when it struck the pavement and the bullet hit a street vendor. The Vietnamese was not seriously wounded.

GUERRILLA WARNINGS

The Communist guerrilla radio station warned that persons near Americans are liable to be killed along with the Americans. U.S. officialss regarded the broadcast as a Communist effort to scare Americans in Saigon. Since Feb. 1, six Americans have been killed and 87 wounded in terrorist incidents.

A major objective in the Communist campaign is believed to be the shattering of American morale, making a negotiated settlement and neutralization of South Viet Nam acceptable to Washington.

Shakespeare To Share Festival

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP) — Moliere and William Wycherley are being added to the dramatist panel for next season's Shakespeare Festival.

The Frenchman's "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" and Wycherley's lusty Restoration comedy "The Country Wife" will share the repertory with "Richard II" and "King Lear."

Artistic director Michael Langham says that "Richard II" will start a five-year project to present the entire cycle of Shakespearean histories in chronological sequence.

Greenback Bank Attracts Thieves Seeking Ready Cash

By BOB HORTON

GREENBACK, Tenn. (AP) — This town, whose name conjures up visions of hard cash, seems a lure for characters in the Jesse James tradition.

Three times within nine months the town's bank has been robbed. Coincidentally or not, Greenback has no police force and the bank is manned only by women.

Bandits, working in pairs, got $54,000 last December, $44,470 in March and $7,200 in July.

FBI agents who've beaten a path from Knoxville to Greenback say they don't know of any bank coming under the gun as often in so short a period.

"We do know that the men in the second robbery tried it be cause they'd read so much about the first," says Mrs. Nola Elam, executive vice president — boss — of the Greenback Merchants and Farmers Bank: "They thought they could improve over the mistakes of the others."

ROBBERY FAILED

They were wrong. All three sets of robbers got caught.

Greenback, which got its name from an extinct political party, is a lazy little village, population 385, with a dozen or so stores and a few score homes clustered a few miles from where Sam Houston went to school.

Set two miles off Highway 411, a main artery between Knoxville and Atlanta, the town is a meeting place for a rather prosperous assortment of dairy and beef cattlemen, farmers and workers at the big Aluminum Co. of America plant at Alcoa.

Strangers often pass through. Consequently, Mrs. Velma Ownby, 39-year-old bookeeper, wasn't surprised when two unfamiliar men stepped into the bank December 27.

Suddenly, as one diverted Mrs. Elam's attention by inquiring about a loan, the other stepped behind the tellers' cages, pulled a .45 caliber pistol and told Mrs. Ownby: "This is a holdup."

NO JOKE

But jokes weren't on the agenda. Mesdames Elam, Ownby, Cleo Mills and part-time worker Betty Blair, along with a couple of customers, were marched to the rear of the bank and forced to lie on the floor.

The bandits, carrying $54,000, fled, unfortunately for them, to the nearest town with a police force. Mrs. Elam's phone call won the race to Marysville, 12 miles northeast, and there the two were arrested within an hour of the holdup.

Marysville police, with three short-wave radio transmitters at their disposal, had alerted city, county and state officers within a 200-mile radius in minutes. Because of this setup, the bank calls Marysville police before contacting the FBI in Knoxville.

A less formal operation snared July's bandits.

Two businesslike gunmen robbed the bank in about two minutes. The flash of a pistol, a warning to "fill up this sack," and they were gone.

ALERTED POLICE

Two miles from town, Eschar Brown's service station holds a strategic spot. Practically all Greenback traffic has to pass there.

Even as he put down the receiver from Mrs. Elam's quick call, Brown saw the gunmen's car head southwest. Deciding against trying to halt them, he called police at Madisonville, the next town to the south. The pair were arrested a few miles away at a roadblock — 35 minutes after the job.

The March holdup was the most frightening.

Armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol, two masked men strode into the bank, forcing a departing female customer back inside.

As if in confusion, the pair herded the women to the rear of the bank, then to the front again and into the open vault.

Mrs. Ownby helped get the cash for one of the gunmen who didn't seem to know what he was doing.

ABANDON CAR

As the bandits left they directed the women outside to the walk, apparently yo be sure the getaway car was seen. It was later found abandoned.

One of the men was arrested four days later when he walked into a courthouse at Marysville; his accomplice surrendered after fleeing to the mountains for two weeks.

The $44,470 they carried away is still missing, believed hidden somewhere in those mountains.

Meanwhile, six men are hidhidden away in prison cells:

John Day, 33, of Harlan, Ky., and Gene Ballew, 23, of Alcoa, Tenn., sentenced to 25 and 22 years, respectively, for the December robbery, and Eugene Gaddis of Knoxville, 4 years for conspiring with them.

Woodrow Walker, 42, and Chester Lee Helton, 28, both of Knoxville, sentenced to 25 years each for the March robbery,

CARDINALS ARE LOOKING FOR SOME RAISES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There probably isn't a player on the St. Louis Cardinals who can carry Stan Musial's bat, but there's a long line of volunteers ready to lift his pocketbook.

With the official March 1 opening of spring training less than two weeks off, not one of the Cardinal regulars has signed his 1964 baseball contract.

The players, most already marked for raises since they contributed heavily to the Cardinals' second-place finish last season, apparently are shooting at Musial's pocketbook. For when Musial retired, his $50,000 salary went back into the Cardinals' bank.

BIG THREE UNSIGNED

The only front-liners signed by the Cardinals are pitchers Lew Burdette, Ray Sadecki and Ron Taylor, but they are being counted on mostly for spot duty or relief work. Still unsigned are the Big Three — Ernie Broglio, Curt Simmons and Bob Gibson — and No. 1 catcher, Tim McCarver.

The Cardinals' All-Star infield is unsigned from first baseman Bill White to second baseman Julian Javier to third baseman Ken Boyer to shortstop Dick Groat, and the top two outfielders, Curt Flood and Charlie James, still have not agreed to terms.

One outfield position is up for grabs—but the Cardinals took the first step toward what might be a solution to that problem by reacquiring Carl Warwick from the Houston Colts Monday in exchange for rookie outfielder Jim Beauchamp and Chuck Taylor, a minor league pitcher.

Warwick hit .247 for the Colts with seven homers and 47 runs batted in. Beauchamp was one of the Cardinals' bright prospects, hitting .337 at Tulsa in the Texas League. Taylor was 9-11 with a 3.75 earned run average at Tulsa.

Cream together a little butter with a dash of curry powder and light brown sugar; put a blob of the mixture in each cavity of canned peaches and broil until thoroughly hot. Serve with boned smoked pork shoulder or ham.

Aubame Is Named Premier In Wake Of New Congo Coup

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP) — Jean Hilaire Aubame, chief political foe of neighboring Gabon's ousted President Leon M'ba, has been named provisional premier in the wake of Tuesday's bloodless coup in the former French African colony.

Aubame, 51, who heads a 10-man government, said in a broadcast from the Gabon capital of Libreville that he would respect the international commitments of M'ba's pro-French regime.

He appealed for calm and said the interests of foreigners in Gabon would be respected.

CLAIMS LIBERATION

He told Gabon's 420,000 inhabitants: "It is because of your anguished and repeated appeals and to spare our dear Gabon from a general revolt and its consequences that our soldiers and gendarmes have just freed the country of a regime which was leading it fatally to disorder."

The four-man revolutionary committee which directed the coup proclaimed a state of emergency and set a dusk-to-dawn curfew. Assembly of more than five persons was forbidden.

WILL SUPERVISE REGIME

A member of the revolutionary committee Sub-Lt. Daniel Mbene, indicated the military would exercise veto power over the provisional government. Mbene said Lt. Jacques Monbo, a gendarme officer and a member of the committee, would supervise the government.

The coup came after a long power struggle between M'ba, head of the Gabonese Democratic Bloc and Aubame, leader of the Democratic and Socialist Union.

Moonshot Center Edges Deer From 1,700 Acres In Texas

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Deer and jackrabbits are losing out to the space age as the new $250 million Manned Spacecraft Center rises over a 1,700-acre tract on the coastal plain outside Houston.

The center's intricate electronic equipment will control America's big jump into space — the Gemini and Apollo manned moonshot efforts.

Launching of the capsules will continue at Cape Canaveral, Fla., but the countdown and flight decisions will be made in Texas, more than 1,500 miles away.

All the astronauts will train for their moon missions at the Houston center. Many already have purchased homes.

Nerve center of the operations will be the Integrated Missions Control Building on which construction crews have been laboring 16 hours a day.

The three-story structure will contain twin control rooms — one on the second floor and a duplicate directly above on the third floor. These rooms will contain equipment for controlling the moon shots, and will be linked to a worldwide network of tracking stations. From them will come the reports on how the moonshot capsules are faring in space.

Blessed by good weather and general labor harmony, contractors have the 20-odd buildings under current contract about 75 per cent completed.

From 2,000 to 2,400 construction workers have been assigned to the high priority project since ground was broken 18 months ago.

SET OFF LAND BOOM

From the air, the center resembles a modern college campus. A modernistic nine-story administrative building faces a six-lane highway that links the project with the Houston-Galveston Freeway, five miles to the south.

Around the administrative building is a variety of structures for laboratories and for testing and training in life systems, spacecraft research, systems evaluation, thermochemical processes, etc.

Construction of the complex 25 miles east of downtown Houston set off a land and development boom for a Galveston Bay area that Hurricane Carla lashed severely only two years ago.

When the National Aeronautics and Space Administration selected the site September 19, 1961, only a few thousand people were living in the general area.

Forecasts now are that well over 200,00 people will be living around the center within a few years.

ON OLD WEST RANCH

The NASA project is going up on part of an old ranch dotted with oil wells. The land, owned by the Humble Oil and Refining Co., was made available to NASA through Rice University.

A modern, self-contained community — Clear Lake City — is being carved out of ranch segments flanking the space center. Long-range plans call for residential and industrial development of 15,000 acres of the ranch.

Six of the seven original Mercury astronauts have moved into the area. All but Comdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. have built $30,000 to $50,000 homes within five miles of the center.

PLANNED FOR MANY

The official move from temporary offices in 14 Houston buildings is expected to come in March 1964. The Gemini missions are to begin late in 1964 or early 1965.

The master plan for the 1,700-acre site earmarks one section as a "lunar landing area," but NASA officials insist several other possible landing sites still are under study.

In 1942 Humble deeded to Houston's Rice University a 24-acre tract that included two mansions built by the West family.

When the Clear Lake site was selected in 1961, NASA announced Humble had donated 1,000 acres of the ranch to Rice "with the understanding it would be used for the NASA project."

Rice, through a property swap, made another 700 acres available.

Six months before the selection was made, Humble announced plans for Clear Lake City. Humble and Del W. Webb, a big home builder, formed the Friendswood Development Co., with Webb as the developer and operator.

Humble still is operating 92 producing wells on the West Ranch and has retained a 20-acre easement inside the 1,700 acre NASA site.

MERGER IN MAKING

CHICAGO (AP) — "The United Methodist Church" is the proposed name of a denominational merger between the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church. A plan for it was approved here by commissions of the two churches. It still has to be ratified by their representative conventions.

NOT A CANDIDATE

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Mayor Michael A. Close announced Tuesday he would not file nominating petitions for the congressional seat now held by Rep. George M. Rhodes, D-Berks.

Close had been considering opposing Rhodes in the Democratic primary April 28. The Schuylkill County Democratic Executive Committee last week endorsed Rhodes for another term.

LIPPIZAN'S TOUR

NEW YORK (AP) — Vienna's famous performing horses, the Lippizzaner, are to make a tour of seven U.S. cities next spring for five weeks, with a Madison Square Garden stop May 19-24.

The horses, trained in the 225-year-old Spanish Riding Academy, execute drills, jumps and complete complex formations without word or whip command from their riders.

Raid Fallout Water Supplies

They hauled out jugs of water when they found faucets dry at breakfast time.

One housewife, Mrs. L. E. Hollandworth, said she usually has a jar of water in the refrigerator, but it was empty. She melted ice cubes for the morning coffee.

COOKING IS FUN

FAMILY DINNER

Lamb Stew with Onions, Celery and Carrots
Steamed Rice
Tossed Green Salad Bread Tray
Jellied Grapes Beverage

JELLIED GRAPES

1 envelop unflavored gelatin
⅓ cup sugar
2 cups orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups halved seeded white grapes

In the top of a double boiler, stire together the gelatin and sugar; add 1 cup of the orange juice. Stir over boiling water until orange juice is quite hot and gelatin dissolves; remove from heat. Stir in remaining 1 cup orange jnice and lemon juice; chill until slightly thickened. Fold in grapes. Spoon into six 6-ounce (¾ cup) custard cups or dessert dishes. Chill until set; cover until served. Gelatin will be soft but may be unmolded from dipping cups just medium hot. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Grapes may be peeled before halving and seeding.

SUPPER FARE

Pecan Vegetable Loaf with Mushroom Sauce
Marinated Cucumbers
Melba Toast
Fruit Gelatin Beverage

PECAN VEGETABLE LOAF WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE

2 large onions, finely chopped (1¾ cups)
2 teaspoons butter or margarine
1 cup each coarsely grated carrots and celery
1 cup finely chopped parsley, loosely packed
1½ cups finely ground pecans
1 cup soft whole-wheat bread crumbs
1 teaspoon each salt and poultry seasoning
2 egg yolks
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk

Brown the onions in the butter. Mix well with remaining ingredients. Pack into a loaf pan (about 8 by 3 inches) rinsed in cold water; turn out into greased baking pan (11 by 7 by 1½ inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 40 minutes. Serve with mushroom sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Note: You'll find it will be easy to discard stringy portion of celery after grating.

MUSHROOM SAUCE: Slice 2 small onions and cook in 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine until wilted and golden. Drain one 6-ounce can sliced mushroom and add enough milk to the mushroom liquid to make 1½ cups. Add the drained mushrooms to the onions; stir in 2 tablespoons flour. Add the milk mixture and ½ teaspoon salt. Cook and stir over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Stir in one tablespoon minced parsley.

LADIES' LUNCH

New England Fish Chowder
Relish Tray Assorted Breads
Coddled Apples Custard Sauce
Beverage

CODDLED APPLES

12 small apples, about 2½ pounds
1 cup water
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Choose apples that will hold their shape after cooking; pare, quarter and core. In a 10-inch skillet stir the water and sugar over low heat until sugar dissolves; heat to boiling. Add apples; cover and cook gently until apples are tender and translucent looking — about 20 to 30 minutes. Turn apples as necessary; they should absorb most of the syrup by the end of the cooking time. Mix vanilla with apples. Serve hot or cold with custard sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

AFTER SCHOOL SNACK

Swedish Rye Bread
Red Apples Hot Cocoa

SWEDISH RYE BREAD

2 cups milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 package active dry east
2 tablespoons warm water
⅓ cup light molasses
3 cups white flour
3 cups stone ground rye flour

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Sprinkle yeast on warm water; stir to dissolve; add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in molasses. Add white flour and beat well to make a smooth dough. Add rye flour. Knead on lightly floured board. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk — 1½ to 2 hours. Punch down and let rise again for about 45 minues. Shape into 2 loaves and place in 2 loaf pans (each about 8 by 4 by 3 inches). Let rise until doubled — about 1 hour. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven for 10 minutes. Continue baking at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes.

LENTEN FARE

Macaroni and Cheese
Cooked Celery with Vinaigrette Sauce
Fruit Beverage

COOKED CELERY WITH VINAIGRETTE SAUCE

15 ribs celery
1 inch boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
Vinaigrette Sauce
Pimiento strips

Wash celery and cut each rib into 3 lengths. Place in a saucepan with boiling water and salt; cover. Bring to boiling and boil gently for 12 to 15 minues or until tender. Drain if necessary. Serve with Vinaigrette Sauce. Garnish with strips of pimiento. Makes 6 servings.

VINAIGRETTE SAUCE

Mix together ⅓ cup French dressing (made with oil and vin gar), 1 tablespoon chopped pickle, teaspoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon green pepper.

FAMILY SUPPER

Skillet Liver with Bacon and Onions
Mashed Potatoes Green Peas
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Ginger Refrigerator Cookies

GINGER REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons ginger
⅓ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
1 egg

Sift together the flour, baking soda, salt and ginger. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients and molasses; stir until blended. Pack into two empty frozen fruit-juice concentrate cans (6 ounce size); cover tightly and refrigerate until firm. Remove bottom of can and push out dough. Slice each can into 20 to 24 cookies. Bake, 1 inch apart, on a greased cookie sheet in a slow (325 degrees) oven for about 10 minutes or until browned. Remove to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered container.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Sorghum grows even taller in Missouri than corn. University of Missouri scientists have grown some 17 to 18 feet tall, yielding nearly 21 tons of silage per acre.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

CHRIST CLEANSES THE TEMPLE

Only once in His life, did Christ show anger. Matthew tells the story in two dramatic paragraphs:

"And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves.

"And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves." (Matthew XXI:12-13)

Largest Art Museum In West Has Brundage Collections

By DEL MILLER

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — Jack Richard McGregor is only 33 but he is director of the West's largest museum — the M. H. de Young Memorial — in Golden Gate Park.

It has more than 60 galleries.

McGregor, a Harvard graduate who started his training on a fellowship seven years ago at the Metropolitan and became an administrative assistant, took the job at de Young last fall.

BRUNDAGE COLLECTION

That is the $18 million-plus Avery Brundage collection of Oriental art, largest in the world and still growing in boxes, lockers and packing cases in the de Young's acres of basement.

Another challenge is moving a 900-year-old Spanish monastery out of a condemned warehouse in the park — dating back to California's first world's exposition — The Midwinter Fair of 1894.

The third problem is setting up an endowment so the museum can take care of such matters as the condemned warehouse without having to ask the city for a special, unbudgeted and almost impossible-to-get appropriation. A favorable editirial in the San Francisca Chronicle, another enterprise of the late Michael H. de Young, is helping McGregor with this problem.

His most pressing enterprise is housing the Brundage collection, given to the museum by the Chicago multimillionaire businessman and sportsman who heads the International Olympic Games Committee.

CATALOGS WORKS

It now is being cataloged and appraised by another young man — young by museum standards — who also promises to become old with the job. He is 35-year-old Rene-Yvon Lefebvre d'Argence, Orientalist, graduate of the Sorbonne, former curator of Cernuschi Museum of Chinese Art in Paris, currently professor of Oriental art at the University of California. He has directed museums in Hanoi and Saigon in Indochina and has been named Brundage collection curator by the De Young trustees.

McGregor is having a three-story wing constructed — two stories — for the collection. The city has voted a $2.7 million bond issue for the project in an election which climaxed a struggle of several years to get the collection over bids by Honolulu and a dozen other American cities.

CHINESE PIECES

McGregor is fascinated by the collection — which includes such objects in the more than 6,000 already unpacked as Kwan Yin, goddess of mercy, a bronze statue based on a lotus, from the Ming dynasty. There are ceremonial bronze vessels — some hanging from great tripods and big enough for a roasting hog, dated 700 years before Christ; porcelain fishbowl on legs with ceramic fishes on the inside and about the size of a baby's bathtub; beautiful vessels in jade and semiprecious stones.

Sculpture and temple facades from India are in one big section of the basement. Chinese, Indian and Japanese art is the biggest separate collections. But there also is art from the Mediterranean, Africa, ancient Egypt and Southeast Asia.

Church Accepts Racial Barrier

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP)—Archbishop W. P. Whelan says the Roman Catholic Church does not oppose racial segregation by a nation.

"The time is ripe to set out the official attitude of the Church," said the Catholic Archbishop of Bloemfontein in a statement as press director of the administrative board of the South African Catholic Bishops' conference.

The archbishop said the situation in white supremacist South Africa has its defects, but it is stable, and full of prospects for development.

Border War: Soviet Russia Versus Red China

By RICHARD F. NEWCOMB
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The Soviet Union and Red China are fighting — and not just on the ideological plane. They are accusing each other of stealing territory, and even people, just like a couple of old imperialist countries.

Shots have already been fired, and harsh words are flying. And they are strange words between Communist comrades — words like imperialism and colonialism.

At one point the Chinese accused the Russinas of "enticing and coercing" Chinese to flee into Russia. Peking said this was "an astounding event, unheard of in relations between Socialist (Communist) countries."

LAND THEFTS

Moscow retorted that Lenin had said there were no boundary disputes that could not be settled peaceably among Communist friends and that the current troubles were benefiting only "imperialists and reactionaries."

It goes back just about a century. The Chinese claim the Czarist regime, then ruling Russia, tricked them into signing three treaties that stripped them of border areas which are rightfully Chinese. The Russians are very sensitive about this, perhaps recalling that large parts of their present territory once belonged to Finland, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Romania.

The two hottest spots are these:

VAST REMOTE AREA

The border between Sinkiang, China's westernmost province, and the Soviet Republics of Kazakh, Kirgiz and Tadzhik. This is a remote, mountainous area, stretching for nearly a thousand miles. Boundaries have never been well-defined but many of the inhabitants are Moslem nomads, used to looking more toward Russia than toward China.

The areas bordering the Pacific Ocean, where Russia was looking for a warm water port. The Russians got what they were looking for and opened an outlet on the Pacific at Vladivostok. The border was the Amur and Ussuri Rivers, and the current battle is over rights to the islands in those rivers.

The treaties involved are:

NEVER RATIFIED

1. The Treaty of Aigun, 1858. China ceded a large area on the left bank of the Amur, stretching to the Pacific Coast. Czarist Russia said at the time that it wanted to protect China from British imperialism.

2. Treaty of Peking, 1860. China gave up vast areas between the Amur and Ussuri Rivers and the Sea of Japan. Under this treaty Russia got what it wanted, the long pensinsula reaching down to warm water at Vladivostok.

3. Treaty of St. Petersburg, 1881. This formalized Russian title to the Ili Valley, on the Sinkiang border. This treaty was never ratified by any Chinese government.

CLOUDY DISPUTES

Disputes over these borders were clouded in obscurity until a year ago. Then, the ideological war broke out between the two Communist nations. Tucked into Peking's vituperative notes to Moscow denouncing the Russian "back-down" over Cuba and Russia's refusa to give China atomic weapons were charges that the Russians were violating the borders. The Chinese said the Russians were luring or forcing thousands of Chinese in Sinkiang to come over into Kazakhstan, and proposed to use them to overthrow the Chinese regime in the Ili area.

The Russians retorted that the inhabitants were Russian minorities fleeing because of hunger and persecution. They said these Moslem people were being stripped of communist party cards, could not get responsible jobs and were being discriminated against socially. The Russians told of seeing concentration camps just across the border in China, and said Chinese border guards shot at refugees trying to escape into Kazakhstan.

MANY VIOLATIONS

The Russians said that actually the Chinese had violated the borders thousands of times since 1960 and in some cases tried to seize Soviet territory. They said the Kirghiz and Kazakh minorities in Sinkiang were being mistreated, and, on the other end of the border, Chinese were trying to stop Russian fishermen from using islands in the Amur and Ussuri Rivers.

The Chinese then denounced the "unequal treaties" from which the troubles stemmed. They referred to the areas in dispute as "the lost territories" of China and said that China will demand renegotiation of the borders "when conditions are ripe." The way things are going between the two nations, that time seems farther off than ever.

Here's The Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

QUESTION: I recently bought a lathe and am still learning how to use it. Right now I'm in the middle of my most difficult task so far — making a wooden salad bowl. I'd like to know how to finish it to be sure that it is waterproof. Can you help me?

ANSWER: There are many different ways to waterproof a wooden salad bowl. A synthetic resin sealer does a good job of this. If you want an extra good result with a glossy finish, apply two coats of shellac, thinned 50 per cent with denatured alcohol. Sand lightly, then put on three coats of spar varnish, with light sandings between each coat.

QUESTION: I'm making a dry well, which will be attached to a downspout with pieces of pipe three feet long. Do the joints between the different pieces of pipe have to be watrproof?

ANSWER: No, since water will be flowing through the pipes every time it rains. But it is important that the dirt which covers the pipes does not enter the joints and cause clogging. To prevent this, cover each joint with building paper or some similar material.

QUESTION: Should varnish be thinned with turpentine?

ANSWER: For most purposes, no. Use it as it comes from the can, And avoid stirring it if possible, since this produces bubbles which will be transferred to the surface of the stock you are finishing.

(Questions of general interest will be answered in this column. Individual correspondence can not be undertaken.)

NEW YORK (AP) — A mystery-comedy, "The Push-Cart Affair," is to be the first Broadway exhibit of the husband-wife writing team, Alec and Myra Coppel.

The show about a TV star who finds himself suddenly encumbered with a corpse, is marked down for arrival next spring. Coppel previously was represented here with "The Gazebo," written solo.

Ken Boyer and Curt Flood of St. Louis, Ron Santo and Dick Bertell of Chicago and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati were the only National Leaguers to get five hits in one game last season.

Study Pinpoints Incidence Of Cancer In South Texas

NEW YORK (AP) — It took 12 years, but now Miss Eleanor MacDonald has completed a monumental study of the natural history of human cancer.

She focused upon just one U.S. county — the big one of El Paso County, Tex. But, as a meticulous statistician, she nailed down some statistics rich in meaning for better control of cancer.

For one thing, the figures show that good and continued care does save lives even if men or women have advanced cancers when they are first treated.

And the study pinpoints significant differences in susceptibility to various forms of cancers between Latin-Americans and other Americans living under similar social conditions in the same area.

CLARIFIES CAUSE

Discovering the reasons for these differences — whether due to heredity, diet or something else — could help clarify basic causes of cancer. And the differences might help alert doctors concerning the illness their patients might have.

The study is the most complete accounting yet made of cancer occurring within a given region. It covers 16,182 patients who had 17,928 cancers diagnosed and treated during 18 years from 1942.

Miss MacDonald, statistician and epidemiologist of the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, Tex., began the study in 1951 with four assistants and the unanimous cooperation of doctors, hospitals and health organizations. Nearly half the patients recorded in the study were referred from New Mexico and Mexico.

DECREASING RATE

The death rate from cancer has gradually been deceassing, at the rate of 1.37 per 100,000 population, even though half of the patients — excluding those with skin cancers — didn't seek treatment until their illness had already spread.

This life-saving "parallels the increased interest in the El Paso County Medical Society's follow-up programs" to keep treating cancer patients, Miss MacDonald says. Surgery, radiation and drugs, alone or in various combinations, are credited with the beneficial effects.

Skin cancer is common in the El Paso area where the sun shines during 80 per cent of all possible sunshine hours, a region outshone only by parts of Arizona.

Skin cancers accounted for only 13 per cent of all cancers against 50 per cent among other Americans, defined as all those not bearing Latin-American surnames.

COMPUTERS ANALYZE

Latin-American men had more stomach and abdominal cancers than other American men, but less cancer of the respiratory tract. Latin-American women had less cancer of the breast and lung cancer, but more cancers of the liver and gallbladder.

With the aid of a computer to analyze massive statistics, the survey found these trends:

There is a slight but not consistent rise in lung cancer, and the rate of rise is greater than women, and a good deal faster now than among other Americans, even though the total impact of this form of cancer still is below that of the other Americans.

In prostrate cancer, the trend is upward more among Latin-American men than others. Cancers of the urinary tract are three times more prevalent among men than women, and is on an upward trend among all groups.

Cancer of the cervix or neck of the womb is higher among Latin-American women, and cancers of the ovary appear to be rising among Latin-Americans more than among other women.

OLD-FASHIONED WAY

MINNEAPOLIS, Kan. (AP) — For some time Mrs. Harold Wlamsley had been fishing with a regular rod and reel — without success.

Disgusted, she put it aside and cut a twig from a tree. She fastened the twig with a piece of plastic line and baited the hook. Within minutes she had landed an eight-pound catfish.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is almost 10 years since the Supreme Court, after watching Congress for half a century duck this country's most important social problem, decided to tackle the job itself.

This was the May 17, 1954, decision declaring segregation of Negroes unconstitutional. This, one of the most far-reaching court decisions in American history, began a social revolution still being fought out.

Again, after watching Congress and state legislatures fail for generations to give voters fairer representation, the court moved into this vacuum with sions.

TO BE EQUALIZED

In these--one in 1962, the second last Monday—the court said voting districts, from which representatives are sent to Congress and state legislatures, must be rearranged to make the population in each more equal.

As it is now, one district with 900,000 people may have only one representative in Congress while another, with only 200,000 people, also has one.

These social and political decisions had the effect of legislation, a field supposedly reserved under the Constitution for the legislative branch of government.

Nothing in the Constitution specifically gives the court the right to do this. But nothing in the Constitution says it can't. And it's the court which interprets the Constitution.

WAS DONE BEFORE

This is not the first time the court has assumed a right not spelled out. It has done that repeatedly, although for long periods haltingly.

In 1803 it decided it had the power to declare an act of Congress unconstitutional; in 1821 it claimed the right to do the same about state legislation. The court was denounced at the time.

But those decisions helped strengthen this country's unity. The 1821 decision—the power to knock out a state law—made it possible for the court in 1954 to knock out state segregation laws.

HARLAN OPPOSED

Justice John Marshall Harlan, who got on the court too late to take part in the 1954 case, opposed the redistricting decisions of 1962 and this week.

He warned last summer that if this kind of thing continued—when the legislative branch failed to act—there would be a 'substantial transfer of legislative power to the courts."

What's the alternative? If the legislative branch fails to correct an obvious wrong, must the court also do nothing even though it has power to act? By its decisions the court has rejected such a philosophy.

Even after the 1954 decision Congress has gone less than all-out to end segregation. It passed two fairly mild civil rights bills —in 1957 and 1960. But now it is wrestling with a truly powerful antidiscrimination bill.

ARE A MINORITY

It cannot be plausibly argued that Southern Democrats were solely responsible for the failure of Congress to act in behalf of Negroes' civil rights through all of the 20th century until 1957.

They always were, and still are, a minority in Congress. The truth is that the rest of the members—always in a majority —never cared enough about the rights of Negro citizens to sueich the Southerners, as they could have, at any time. They just ignored the problem and the injustice.

If the court had not acted, segregation would probably still be considered constitutional, as it was until 1954, and might have continued so for years, since Congress showed no inclination to ban it.

Yet, such a policy would not only have built up racial hatred in this country but would have made American foreign policy look ludicrous now when it is trying to win the friendship of the world's backward peoples, especially since most of the world's people are not white.

LIKE SHE'S A YANKEE

ADAIRVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky has two Republican senators but some areas remain in the solid Democratic South. When Mrs. W. C. Cruse, Louisville GOP nominee for state treasurer, visited the southern part of the state, she found a note on her windshield. It said, "Republican go home."

Spring Training Lark For Some; Plain Work For Veteran Players

By FRANK H. ECK
AP Sports Editor

There must be something to this bit called spring training for baseball players or else why would old gaffers such as Casey Stengel, Stan Musial, Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams put on sweat shirts and flannel uniforms and go out in the broiling sun at the tail end of winter.

"It's a job," you may here the uniformed whisper. But that's not even half the story. Actually, spring training is a lark for those who no longer must run to get their legs in shape or to rid themselves of winter blubber.

Stengel is pushing 74 and while he is the marvel of the sport he also has the toughest job. He manages the Mets, described by most members of the writing clan as "baseball's losingest team."

Yet, Casey will be the first to admit that just being part of this young man's game keeps him young.

Baseball is his fountain of youth. But the National League refuses to let him drink from it. It wants him to put together a winning team the hard way—with little proven talent.

VETS AID HITTERS

Stan Musial retired as a player after 22 great seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals. Some of his hitting and longevity records will never be matched. But at 43 he's still around, and in uniform. As a vice president of the club he will give hitting instruction to the younger Red Birds at St. Petersburg.

DiMaggio could have remained in baseball after 1951, but he retired. He could have made another $100,000. That was his value in drawing power to the New York Yankees. But was too proud to carry a .263 batting average—his 1951 mark—into a new season.

Of 13 playing seasons there were only two in which DiMaggio hit beneath .300. The second such season at age 37 was too much. Yet, he will be back this spring to coach young Yankee hitters for the fourth straight time.

Ted Williams, now 45, would rather bone fish in the Florida Keys where he has a modest home. But when the Red Sox put in the call from Scottsdale, Ariz., to tell handsome Ted they have a hot hitting prospect with a flaw in his swing, Williams will move faster than any bird dog flushing a covey of quail.

BUSINESS FOR SPAHN

Warren Spahn is another old gaffer but to him getting in shape is a business. And where at the age of 43 can a fellow earn $85,000 a year for throwing a baseball every fourth or fifth day?

You will eventually see Spahn as a big league manager but that day won't come untill Spahnie no longer can fool the hitters. Last year was his 13th season in the 20-game winning class. He is the Musial of the pitchers for his efforts and durability. He may never have been equaled in pitching success.

All of these men, from Stengel to Spahn, are successful in the off-season. All except Joe DiMaggio. He tired of traveling and takes things easy. However, all could be in a year-round business, but they got their start in baseball and wouldn't part with the connection for love or money.

But for most veteran players, trying to keep their big league jobs, and for the rookies seeking to make the big jump to stardom, spring training is work.

Where preseason training in football finds overweight boys running in faded or outmoded sweatshirts, the major league baseball trainee must look the part.

900 WILL REPORT

Baseball players are more in demand on the winter banquet circuit than are football men and this forces some diamond athletes to train indoors before reporting to camps in Florida, Arizona and California.

There will be more than 900 athletes in major league camps this spring. Many will work out five hours a day, with only a snack for lunch. And when the exhibition games begin on Saturday, March 14, those not scheduled to play will continue to work out.

Baseball-wise, Florida will be busier than ever this spring. The Houston Colt 45s, after training in Arizona their first two years of existence, will set up camp at Cocoa, Fla. Westerners for years have insisted the trend will swing west but Florida still has the best facilities.

CHANGES IN TAKE HOME PAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — This table shows how much more take home pay some average U.S. wage and salary earners will receive, beginning probably in the first week of March, when the new tax bill is in effect:

(x) Everyone is entitled to one exemption for himself and one for each dependent. A married couple has two, a married couple with two children four, etc.

(xx) There is no withholding at this level, under present law or the new bill.

This table reflects the difference between the new and old withholding rates. How much tax you actually will owe depends on a variety of factors and the withholding is only roughly gauged to your tax bill —it may come out right at the end of the year, or you may get a refund or have to pay a difference.

To compute the difference on wages and salaries above $200 a week, take the appropriate figure for $200 and add 4 per cent of the excess over $200.

Fire Engine Is Stolen From Fire

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Firemen battled a blaze which damaged three buildings Wednesday night. Seven fire trucks arrived at the scene in a neighborhood shopping center. Suddenly, there were only six trucks.

An alarm was sounded for a stolen fire truck. It later was found abandoned about a mile away. Authorities said several small boys were seen to leave the vehicle.

Charge Follows Error By Bank

The Union Bank and Trust Co. of Montgomery accused Thaggard of withdrawing $43,000 which the bank said was credited to his account erroneously. Thaggard is free under $10,000 bond.

Musial Will Be Honored July 27

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A ceremonial prelude to the junior baseball federation game between the Philadelphia Phillies and the Baltimore Orioles on July 27 will honor Stan Musial, former St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder.

Musial, recently named director of President Johnson's physical fitness program, has agreed to come here for the annual game which benefits 50,000 boys who play sandlot ball in Philadelphia, Lawrence J. Gibbons, federation president, said Wednesday.

Musial is a native of Donora, Pa.

Coeds Going To Use Time Clocks

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — University of California coeds won't have to sign out any more when they leave two of the dormitories on campus.

The books at Cunningham and Freeborn residence halls will be removed starting Friday night.

Coeds complained about the books because they had to print where they were going in a space beside the place for their signatures.

MAMMOTH MEMORIZING

NEW YORK (AP) — A mammoth stint of memorizing roles was tackled by Barbara Gilbert and Robert Doyle for "Spoon River." As standbys for four performers they learned 70 roles, plus 18 ballads warbled by the musicians.

For Doyle there was one more bit of work than for Miss Gilbert — he learned to play the banjo.

WINCHESTER, Ky. AP) — An auto accident sent Graham Johns, 45, to the hospital for three months.

$60 MILLION FOR RAILROAD

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The purchase of 10 miles of railroad right-of-way in New Jersey for its $60 million high speed rail line was authorized Wednesday by the Delaware River Port Authority.

For the right-of-way from Camden to West Haddonfield, the authority would pay $2.1 million to the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads and the Pennsylvania Reading seashore lines.

Construction of the line, which will link South Jersey communities with downtown Philadelphia is scheduled to start in the spring.

The commissioners also authorized payment of $4 million to the railroads.

The total expenditure for the passenger line will be $8.3 million, including the expenditure of $2.2 million already approved by the authority for four bridges near the freight yard.

Identical Twins Add Color To Bank's Trust Department

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

ATLANTA (AP) — A vital, strikingly attractive silver-haired woman equally at home digging in a potato patch or as a bank officer, would dispel anyone's concept of a banker as a dull and colorless person.

Furthermore, she comes double.

Ruby Crawford holds an excellent bank position, is a lawyer, loves to can fruits and vegetables, collect stray dogs and head various organizations. So does Ruth Crawford.

The versatile, identical twins started out working at Atlanta's First National Bank when they graduated from high school in nearby Temple "more years ago than we care to admit."

Ruby is now assistant trust officer and Ruth is trust auditor. The dress-alike twins heartily recommend banking as a profession for women.

"Women love to work with figures," says Ruby, laughing at her own pun. "And they like the detail work. As women, we don't expect any favors, all we want is an opportunity."

Neither is married. "Being twins has nothing to do with our not marrying," says Ruby. "The right man never came along."

THEY DRESS ALIKE

"We dress alike because we have the same taste," Ruby says, "and because it would take away our identity as twins if we wore different clothes."

Who chooses what to wear each day? "We both do. We always agree."

Ruth says they have often purchased clothes or furniture without knowing that the other had just bought the same article.

The twins had intended to work only a short while after high school and then go to college. Instead, they went to night school for 13 years and wound up with a Bachelor and Master of Law degrees. Both were admitted to the Georgia bar in 1948 and Ruby has taught commercial law for the American Institute of Banking for 12 years.

The talented sisters drive home to Temple every weekend to visit their parents.

WORK WITH HANDS

"Father says we do anything we want to do — drive a tractor, cut lawns, dig in his potato patch — he has three gardens — or cut down a tree if it needs to come down," says Ruth.

"One weekend, we built a brick patio and laid 1,600 bricks."

"There're never enough hours in a day. We both love to cook and entertain."

"Last weekend," says Ruth, "we made strawberry preserves and canned food. We like working with our hands."

Both are past presidents of the Georgia Association of Women Lawyers and the Atlanta Chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants. Ruby is the outgoing president of the Southeastern Conference of Women in the Chamber of Commerce and both are members of Delta Sigma Gamma, a legal society for women, the American Institute of Banking, and the American Bar Association.

"People who don't know how we keep up with all we do just don't know our Mother," the other sister adds. "She used to say idle hands are the devil's workshop. I guess we started out early being busy."

PICK UP STRAYS

"Our phone rings all the time," Ruth says. "You might say we run a sort of 'help bureau'. It's usually students with a problem or friends who need accounting, legal or banking aid."

"And we love dogs," the other twin adds. "In our own way, we run a little humane society. We can't resist picking up stray animals, caring for them and finding homes for them. Last month our veterinarian bill was $32."

Ruth says: "You do with your time exactly what you want. Use it or waste it."

On The House

By ANDY LANG

The Associated Press

Every year, thousands of houses are sold to persons who never before owned their own homes. The buyers include newlyweds, those who wait until they have saved enough money to make sizable down payments, those whose expanding families force them to find more spacious quarters and in some cases, retirement couples who have spent all their married lives in apartments.

There are many solid advantages to owning a home. But one thing a home owner discovers is that he must learn to do certain things himself. He can't call up the superintendent when something goes wrong. In an emergency, he has to make his own decision on what should be done and sometimes carry it out himself.

REPAIRMEN SCARCE

It's easy enough to telephone for a repair specialist. But even if money had no bearing on the situation, which it does for most persons, telephoning for aid and getting it in a hurry is another matter. As almost everyone who owns a house can tell you, you can't always get a repair man when you want him, especially if you need him over a week-end. And it is over a weekend when, sad to relate, so many house troubles have a curious way of occurring.

One way to avoid serious trouble in this area is to learn a little something about your house. If you know the location of the shut-off water valves, for instance, you can prevent a leak from turning into a flood. It's a good idea not only to know which valves handle which water lines, but to mark them with tags so that other members of the family will know, too. If there is a leak, shutting off the proper valve will stop the water from doing further damage and yet not interfere with the movement of water to other parts of the house.

SPARE FUSES

The same thing holds true in the matter of electric fuses. Spare fuses of the proper amperage should always be kept on hand. But the fuse box should be so marked that you know precisely which fuse handles which circuit in the house. Then you won't have to guess or test which fuse to change when the lights in one part of the house go out.

Clogged drains or plumbing lines can be a major headache if they occur at an inopportune time. A first-time home owner is wise to invest in a plunger or "plumber's friend," a snake and some chemical drain cleaner. Sometimes the use of one or all three of these can bring about indefinite relief when there is a drain stoppage and sometimes there will be temporary relief until a plumber can be obtained.

The main point is that the home owner should realize there will be times when he can not get assistance and when a little knowledge will go a long way. The time to acquire that knowledge is when he first buys the house and not when the emergency occurs.

Constable Fined; Arrests Officer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Constable M. Murray Adler pleaded guilty to a speeding charge in Traffic Court Tuesday and was fined $15.

Then he turned to Magistrate Louis Vignoli and said:

"Your honor, I have four traffic scofflaw warrants against Patrolman George Mitchell," who had given him the speeding ticket. He placed Mitchell under arrest.

Mitchell was slated on the four warrants which charge meter overparking three times and disregarding a parking sign.

EASY WAY UP

AOSTA, Italy (AP) — They're making it easy now to get to the top of 15,781-foot Mont Blanc, highest peak in the alps. There is a landing field for helicopters 1,300 feet from the top. From there guides lead tourists up relatively easy, snow covered slopes to reach the summit in a two-hour walk.

GOSPEL BY RADIO

CURACAO, Dutch West Indies (AP) — One of the world's most powerful Protestant radio stations went into operation here in October. It was established by Trans World Radio, headed by Dr. Paul E. Freed, for transmission of gospel programs in 25 languages to Europe, the Middle East, Africa and the Western hemisphere.

FINALLY ON FILM

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Adding Machine," an expressionistic novelty of the 1923 Broadway drama season, is finally going to reach the movie screen.

Maureen Stapleton and Sydney Chaplin are to appear in the film version of Elmer Rice's play, that is to be shot here in the autumn on a six-week schedule.

Cadillac

IF IT'S TOO QUIET—TURN ON THE RADIO

Some of the finest comments that come to us from owners of 1964 Cadillacs concern the car's extraordinary quietness of operation.

First of all, it indicates the car's high level of craftsmanship. Every 1964 Cadillac, in fact, now undergoes more than 1400 separate inspections.

It indicates, too, how Cadillac's combination of functional styling, scientific soundproofing and advanced new suspension have reduced to an almost unbelievable degree the sounds normally associated with travel.

And, even more importantly, it speaks of the car's great engineering. Cadillac's dynamic new engine operates with flawless precision, despite its record power. Its new transmissions, both the Hydra-Matic and the Turbo Hydra-Matic, translate that power into smooth, hushed response . . . and combined with exclusive True-Center drive line, virtually eliminate vibration.

If you have not yet driven a 1964 Cadillac, you will find it a most revealing experience. Your dealer will have one ready any time that's convenient. Just let the car's amazing quiet do the talking.

NO ACTION ON COURT RULING LIKELY IN '64

WASHINGTON (AP) — Outside of some complaining and possibly a committee hearing for the official record, Congress isn't likely to do anything this year about the Supreme Court ruling that congressional districts should be more uniform in population.

"For one thing," a highly placed House Democrat said privately, "we just don't have time this year to deal with such a complicated subject. For another thing, most of us think it's none of our business how the states map out their districts."

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee long has advocated that Congress take the lead in trying to get more uniformity in congressional redistricting. He introduced a bill to do that more than a year ago but has been unable to obtain action in his own committee.

NOT OPTIMISTIC

He said he would try again this year but wasn't optimistic about success.

Another proposal not expected to gain acceptance came from Texas congressmen. They are seeking legislation that supports the Supreme Court decision but preserves present districts until state legislatures can act in their regular sessions. Such a bill would prevent the 23 Texas congressmen from having to run at large this November.

A three-judge federal court at Houston has ruled the present Texas districts unconstitutional, but the decision has been stayed pending an appeal.

SUIT IN CONN.

In New Haven, Conn., the Hartford Courant filed a suit in U.S. District Court that would force Connecticut's six congressmen to run at large this November unless the state is redistricted. The suit was filed in the name of Jack Zaiman, a political writer for the paper.

Connecticut districts range in population from 689,555 to 317,953.

U. S. Prepares For Emergency

WASHINGTON AP) — The Army is creating special medical teams for emergency service in the event of a nuclear accident or incident within the United States.

There will be four such "radiological emergency medical teams," it was disclosed today.

Each will be headed by an Army Medical Corps officer and will include three other specialists "qualified in the management of nuclear casualties" and evaluation of radiation hazards.

"The plan is designed to handle nuclear accidents and to respond to disaster situations should they arise," the Army said.

Creation of the teams was disclosed in a regulation signed by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army chief of staff.

LBJ WILL MEET MATEOS, IKE

WASHINGTON AP) — President Johnson flies to Southern California tonight for goodwill talks with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico and a brief meeting with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

No major problems were in sight for the Johnson-Lopez Mateos conference and one Mexican official predicted, "It's going to be a happy visit."

The two Presidents will confer Friday and Saturday at Palm Springs, Calif., sandwiching in some speechmaking and ceremonial appearances in Los Angeles both days.

Johnson will fly by jet transport to Palm Springs early this evening. He will spend the night in the desert resort city before going to Los Angeles Friday to formally welcome his Mexican counterpart to the United States.

The first Johnson-Lopez Mateos conference will take place in Palm Springs Friday afternoon. Then the two presidents will drive to Eisenhower's winter home in neighboring Palm Desert for a courtesy visit scheduled to last a half hour.

"ROUTE 66" TO WIND UP WITH ALTAR SCENE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The final chapter of "Route 66" approaches: Tod Stiles, fancy-free adventurer, is going to get married on the March 6 show, first of a two-part wind-up.

And then, with his happy bride beside him in his sports car, our hero will ride, in classic style, into the sunset, presumably to live happily ever after. Two weeks later, on March 20, CBS' "Route 66' goes into reruns—old ones, in which George Maharis and Martin Milner were co-stars.

Tod, played by Milner, would never have been allowed to marry if the series had not been canceled.

HANDY WAY OUT

Marriage is not only a nice way to conclude a long-running series, but also provides a handy way to "write out" a character who must disappear when an actor wants to leave the cast. Most recent example was, of course, "Bonanza," whose producer planned to marry off Adam Cartwright when Pernell Roberts wanted to quit the show. When he decided to remain, the lady was jilted—and fast.

An interesting change in another CBS series will start next Monday night. "East Side, West Side" will introduce a new character in the show, a Congressman Hanson. A couple of weeks later, on the show, he will offer social worker hero Neil Brock a job as his aide. Neil will accept, of course, and the format will change. But the switch is coming too late to save the show. It has not been renewed for another season.

SULLIVAN EXPLANATION

CBS' explanation of Ed Sullivan's sudden change of mind about extending his hour show to 90 minutes in April is that he reconsidered taking on the extra responsibility and work of a longer show "on the advice of his physician."

The network which says he's not ailing, hopes that will bury all rumors that he didn't want to try to compete against "Bonanza's" popularity. The NBC show occupies the same time spot as that extra half-hour.

Recommended tonight: "A Wild Winter's Night," NBC, 7:30-8:30—variety special starring Jonathan Winters and Art Carney.

Cheering Crowd Mobs Newlyweds

GUILDFORD, England (AP) —Movie actor Peter Sellers and Swedish actress Britt Eklund were married in the Register Office here Wednesday and were mobbed by a cheering crowd of nearly 1,000 women and teenagers.

Police escorted the couple from the scene after the wedding.

Sellers, 36, a British comedy star, proposed to the 21-year-old Britt little more than a week ago by transatlantic telephone. He was in London; she was in New York. They had met in London.

LONDON (AP) — Britain's first Polaris submarine is to be named the Resolution. The keel of the ship will be laid next week and she is to go into service in 1968.

IRAQI PAYMENT

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Iraqi government has earmarked $5 million to pay its share of the anti-Israeli measures agreed on at the Cairo meeting of Arab chiefs of state.

LESS FRUIT EATING

WASHINGTON (AP) — An average American eats 50 pounds less fresh fruit annually than his grandfather did half a century ago. A Department of Agriculture survey indicates that only the citrus fruits have gained in popularity during that time. On the other hand, there has been a boom in concentrated juice consumption.

FARMS HAVE ACCIDENTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One of every seven Ohio farm families had an accident in 1962, and a fifth of these had more than one accident. This was indicated in a survey published by Ohio Farm and Home Research.

Uncover Many Oddities In State Election Laws

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislative oddities pop up in many state laws governing the election of members of the House of Representatives.

They show the extent to which many states do not conform to Monday's Supreme Court ruling that each member of t e House should represent as nearly as possible the same number of constituents.

An Associated Press survey shows that only two states—Maryland and Georgia—have moved to get in line with the high court's landmark ruling.

COURT SUITS LOOM

Although there were indications that many federal court suits would be filed to force compliance with the "one man, one vote" ruling, officials in many states apparently were hoping to stall off action at least until next year.

In Georgia and Maryland, it was a different story.

The Georgia Legislature had started to work on revamping its congressional district lines before Monday's Supreme Court ruling. A final plan is expected to pass Friday night.

WIDE DIFFERENCES

Under Georgia's apportionment, which brought on Monday's ruling, one district has a population of only 272,000 while another bulges with 824,000.

In Maryland, Gov. J. Millard Tawes accepted a suggestion by his legislative leaders to let a joint legislative committee try to come up with an equitable redistricting plan.

The Democratic governor said he would call the General Assembly into special session if the proposed congressional districts seem in accord with the high court's ruling.

Three of Maryland's districts have populations of less than 300,000, three others have more than 600,000.

408,000 IDEAL

In line with the court's decision, the ideal constituency would be about 408,000 for each of the 435 House members—based on the 1960 population. But legislative oddities under many state laws permit gigantic variances.

For example, Rep. Bruce Alger, a Texas Republican, has 951,527 persons in his district. Another Republican, John B. Bennett of Michigan, has the smallest district, only 177,000.

WIDE INEQUALITY

One of Arizona's three districts has a population of 663,500, more than that of the other two combined.

California's 38 districts include 21 with population below 400,000 and five that exceed 500,000.

The population range of Colorado's four districts is from a high of 654,000 to a low of 196,000. The spread in Connecticut's five districts is from 319,000 to 690,000.

Florida, with 12 districts, has carved up the state into areas ranging from a low of 237,000 to a high of 660,000.

Disasters Keep Agencies Busy

NEW YORK (AP) — Emergencies keep church relief agencies on the jump. On Sept. 27, Church World Service, relief agency for the National Council of Churches, rushed 40 tons of food to victims of a disastrous forest fire in northern Brazil.

A few days before, the agency sent $5,000 to help victims of Typhoon Gloria on Formosa, where 10,000 houses were wrecked. On Oct. 1, the agency sent 40 tons of flour and dehydrated milk, a million water purification tablets, 2,000 blankets and $5,000 to help 50,000 cictims of flood in Ghana, Africa.

2nd Siamese Twin Dies On Tuesday

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — A Siamese twin boy died Tuesday in Chelsea Naval Hospital, five days after he was separated by surgery from the body of his dead brother.

Michael Richard, born Jan. 17, died of a ruptured bowel. His brother, Mark, joined to him at the head, died last Friday and the operation was performed immediately.

The boys were the children of Air Force T. Sgt. and Mrs. Alfred F. Richard of Pawtucket, R.I. They were born while Richard was stationed in Italy and brought to the Chelsea hospital Jan. 23.

URGES HIGHWAY

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Gov. Elbert Carvel hopes he will be able to encourage Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania to build a "first class highway" linking Philadelphia with Claymont, Del.

Carvel told a news conference Tuesday that Scranton is among several governors invited to attend the dedication of a restaurant on the John F. Kennedy Memorial Highway Feb. 29.

MAN ADMITS FOUR HOLDUPS

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — State police report a Pottstown man arrested in connection with a $200 holdup here has admitted four other holdups in Chester, Lehigh and Montgomery counties.

Lewis Johnson, 27, is being held on charges of armed robbery and violation of the State Firearms Act. No date has been set for a hearing.

State police said Tuesday he admitted these other holdups: $200 at Al's Service Station, Trexlertown, Lehigh County, on Feb. 8; $150 at Perry's Delicatessen near Valley Forge on Feb. 4; $190 at a Food Fair store in Pottstown Dec. 28; and $93 at Ballentine's Service Station near the Downingtown Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Foresees Another Civil War In Making

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —James H. Meredith, the first Negro to break the color barrier at the University of Mississippi, says the year 1964 could see another Civil War in the making to decide whether white supremacy will stand or fall.

Addressing students at St. Joseph's College Tuesday night, he suggested that if the issue does erupt into violence, it will pit white against white and not Negro against white.

"Every shot that was fired at the University of Mississippi was fired by whites," he said in reference to the rioting that accompanied his entrance in 1962.

Meredith said he enrolled at the university "because I had no choice. . . . It was God's will."

HARVARD'S CATHOLIC PROF

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. A. L. Gabriel, a Roman Catholic authority on medieval education, is guest professor of Roman Catholic studies at Harvard University for the 1963-64 academic year. He was granted a leave of absence from his post as director of the Medieval Institute of the University of Notre Dame.

KING OF PRUSSIA, Pa. (AP) —Paul A. Flynn has resigned as manager of Upper Merion Township effective March 27 to accept a similar post in Portage, Mich. He has been manager of Upper Merion the past five years.

Society Notes Absence Of God

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Modern society seems to be "more aware of the absence of God than the presence of God," says Dr. Warren B. Martin, provost of Raymond College at the University of the Pacific.

He told a Methodist audience here that it is an age when "traditional absolutes and consolations are gone" and when "truth does not make men free but only makes him furious. Man has lost confidence in man at precisely the moment in history that he has lost contact with God. The prevailing mood is one of deterministic futility."

SOCIETY ADDS SPECIAL AREA FOR BIRD ART

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — One hundred years ago one of America's art treasures entered the archives of the New York Historical Society.

Now there is a bright new installation at the Society's headquarters for displaying examples of this treasure — the original water colors and drawings by John James Audubon, from which came a famous series of engravings called "The Birds of America."

The engravings, in a huge size called the elephant folio, published in London by Robert Havell in the 1820s and 1830s, made Audubon famous as both an artist and a naturalist.

It was a tremendous project, finally reaching 435 plates. Audubon himself helped find subscribers — including George IV — who paid $1,000 each for the whole set.

161 ORIGINAL SETS

There were 161 sets, sent to subscribers five plates at a time, and a good many of these sets remain intact. Scholars know of 87 complete sets in the United States (including one now in the society's possession) and 5 in Canada.

The current market price of a full set of engravings in the elephant folio would be in the neighborhood of $35,000. When single engravings come on the market they bring anywhere from $25 for the lesser birds to several thousand dollars (providing they are in prime condition) for the more famous ones — such s the Wild Turkey, Plate No. 1.

COLLECTION SOLD

The original water colors and drawings remained in the Audubon family after the artist's death in 1851. But in 1863 his widow, Lucy Bakewell Audubon, offered the collection for sale. There was a campaign for public contributions and the Society raised $4,000 to purchase them. In 1963, if a set of engravings would bring $35,000, the originals certainly would be valued at several times that sum.

Not quite all the originals were acquired. Three were missing and there is no recorded explanation.

Researchers know now that the original of "The Condor," which became Plate No. 426, found its way into a private collection.

But the records describe as "whereabouts unknown" the originals of "The Blue-Gray Gnat-Catcher," which became Plate No. 84, and "The Black-Throated Blue Warbler," which became Plate No. 155.

Perhaps some attic still holds the two missing originals.

SPACE LIMITED

The society does not have the space to exhibit the whole collection at once. For years it has displayed a few examples in a small gallery. Now it has created a large, well-lighted gallery, arranged in modern museum techniques for effective presentation.

It shows more than a score of the originals, but it also tells a story. There are biographical notes and examples of Audubon's early drawings.

There also is an interesting contrast between an early representation of the Snowy Owl, and a later version which was used for the engraved series. It shows clearly Audubon's growing skill as an artist.

PROGRESSIVE SERIES

There also are some variants.

In one panel of the new exhibit there is a progressive series. First there is Audubon's water color of "The Bald Eagle," holding a goose in its talons. But the artist decided the bird should have another prey. The second example shows the eagle with a catfish in its grip. Interestingly, Audubon did more than change the prey, for the second version of the eagle is more finished.

Above these two originals there is a black and white engraving, as produced by Havell from the second water color, and finally, the finished product — the engraving as colored by hand.

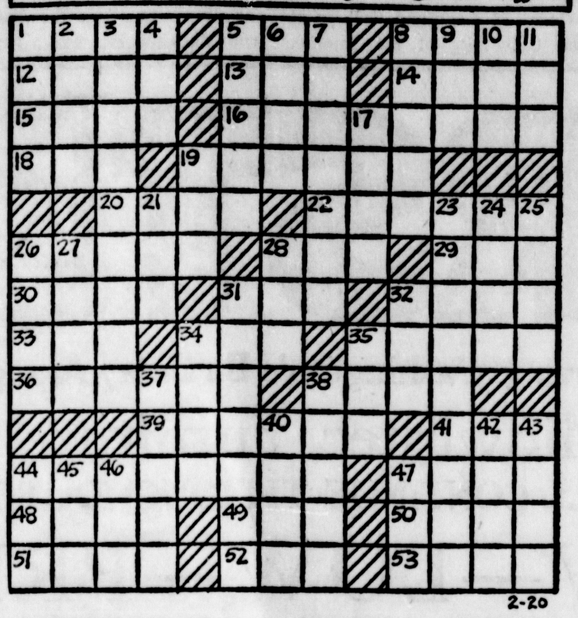

AESOP IN THE LEAD

NEW YORK (AP) — A play that has been performed in 35 countries is to have its first American showing next fall in an off-Broadway theater.

"The Fox and the Grapes," by Brazilian author Guilherme Figueiredo, is set in ancient Greece and has Aesop as the central character. The English version is by John Fostini.

'KING' BECOMES 'PROPHET'

NEW YORK (AP) — After circling the world as a self-proclaimed "king of nations" to announce the coming of a new age of peace, Bishop Homer A. Tomlinson, 70-year-old general overseer of the Church of God, now is on a global tour, in the garb of an Old Testament prophet, to announce the coming of a "golden age" of prosperity.

WHALE OF A NIBBLE

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the GALAXON plan. You must lose ugly fat or your money back. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The GALAXON plan contains a tablet and is easily swallowed. When you take GALAXON, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because GALAXON depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight mst come down because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. Of course GALAXON can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight, GALAXON can be a powerful helper. The GALAXON plan costs $3.00 and is sold on this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. No questions asked. SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Police said a broken garage door was an inside job. Someone, perhaps a prowler, got locked inside the garage and had to pry the door open to escape.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

A PAIN IN THE NECK. Next to a cold in the head, the most common complaint these days seems to be a pain the neck and shoulders. Desk workers lead the complainers.

The trouble usually starts about midafternoon with a dull ache at the nape of the neck that eventually spreads across the shoulders. If you are subject to the ailment, you know it's pure misery. But do you know what to do about it?

Look first for the cause. Usually it is rooted in nervous tension from pressures or muscular tension from poor posture.

When you work against time at demanding tasks, it is not abnormal for your nerves to tighten up. You should make an effort, however, to relieve strain before it reaches the painful stage. For the sake of your comfort, efficiency and general well-being, you really must take these measures:

Simply walk away from your work for 10 minutes. Use the period to tidy up and refresh yourself with a hot beverage. Your comfort and renewed energy trigger maximum efficiency.

The answer to muscular tension is an "easy seat." You've got it when you sit squarely on your hips, with back erect and soles of feet on the floor; when you look down at your work with your eyes, instead of crooking your neck; when you avoid the habit of leaning on your elbows.

LOSE WITHOUT BLUES

Weep no more about excess weight! You can lose without hunger pangs, fatigue and flabby aftermaths. Just send for "Lose Without Blues," a 16-page booklet that gives delicious menus, easy spot-reducing exercises, dieting tricks, your model weight and how to maintain it. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 156, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP) — Need proof that the cost of living is going up?

The National Park Service spent $30,000 last fall to tear down an old reinforced concrete bridge across the Yellowstone River in Yellowstone National Park.
